Chief Hughes Asks For 6 More Men to Give Day Off in 6

Mayor Expected to Make Recommendation Soon

Chief of Police Hughes has requested Mayor Childs to appoint six additional men to the Newton police department so that the members of the force will get a day off each six days, instead of every eight days, as at present. A committee composed of Newton policemen had a few conferences with the mayor and contended that only four additional patrolmen will be needed to make the change. At one conference Chief Hughes was present. The chief told the mayor that the department is now undermanned, especially during the night on the last platoon. He stated that six men will be required to even keep the department at its present condition of efficiency, because under the day off in six system, six more policemen will be off each day than the fourteen or fifteen now off duty each day.

At one of the conferences the committee of policemen asked the mayor if he would recommend a day off in six provided the chief reported favorably on such a plan, and the mayor gave an affirmative answer. Should the mayor make the recommendation in the near future, the Board of Aldermen will have to make an appropriation for the balance of this year. This has been estimated at about $2200, assuming that the day off in six will go into effect on October 15. A few months ago Alderman Cronin attempted to have the Board of Aldermen take action on this matter, but City Solicitor Bartlett ruled that the matter was not within the province of the Aldermen, being an executive function.

Should the change be made, the existing force of reserve men of the police department will all become regular patrolmen. Four of the ten men on the reserve force have been for some weeks taking the places of former regular patrolmen. Patrolmen Munroe and Sartwell reached the age limit and were pensioned; Patrolmen Bell and Murphy were fatally shot by the murderer Simpson.

Pardoned Newton Murderer Held for Boston Robbery

Wilfred F. Dart, 34, formerly of Bacon st., Newton, who was pardoned on December 24, 1936 after serving 5 years of a life sentence for murder, was arrested in Boston on Saturday charged with robbing a jewelry store. Dart was one of three men accused by Boston police of having thrown a brick through a window at E. B. Horn's jewelry store near the corner of Washington and Winter sts., Boston, and grabbing a number of wrist watches. Police arrested Dart, Angelo Etro of South Boston, and John Peters of Brooklyn, New York.

At 6:45 a. m. Saturday Patrolman Carroll heard the big window being smashed and saw two men running away from the Horn jewelry store. He caught Dart, who has an artificial leg, and was able to get a good look at the second man. Aided by Carroll's description of the fugitive, policemen in a cruising car arrested Peters on Essex st., Boston, a few minutes later. In his possession were 9 watches, identified as having been taken from Horn's store. According to the Boston police records, Dart had been arrested for many offences, ranging from drunkenness to murder.

On June 13, 1931 Dart and Charles Bernard of Jamaica Plain were seated in an automobile on Pearl st., Newton near Jackson rd. Dart alighted from the car, and as he did so, pulled a revolver and shot Bernard. Dart walked to a nearby store, calmly telephoned, and then continued on foot toward Watertown, making his escape. Bernard drove to Newton Corner, informed a policeman that he had been shot, and then collapsed. He died shortly afterward at the Newton Hospital. Newton police, a few months later, captured Dart in a camp near Hingham. On November 6, 1931, Dart was convicted of second degree murder and sentenced for life to Massachusetts State Prison. On December 24, 1936, Dart was one of several murderers who received "Christmas gift" pardons from Governor Curley, and a majority of the Governor's Council.

Dart was arraigned in the Boston municipal court on Monday and held in $5000 bail for trial on October 4. He was sent to the Charles Street jail.

Judge Palmer's Home Ransacked

The "second story burglar," who has been breaking into numerous Newton homes the past two weeks, burglarized the residence of Judge Joseph N. Palmer at 63 Lombard st., Newton, on Tuesday night. As in the other burglaries, nearly all of which have been committed at Newton Corner, the burglar shinnied up a porch and forced open a window near the porch. Like the other houses ransacked, the Palmer house was not occupied, the judge and his family having been at Biddeford, Me. A person walking by the house observed the front door open and notified the police. The burglar had left some lights burning in the house. The extent of the loot is not yet known. The Palmer residence is within a minute's walk of the homes of Judge Clarence Smith at 626 Centre st., and Smith P. Burton, 621 Centre st., both of which were entered, supposedly by the same burglar within the past week or so.

More Burglaries Revealed at Newton

Another burglary was discovered at Newton last Friday when it was found that the home of Judge Clarence C. Smith at 626 Centre st., had been entered and ransacked. The house is directly across the street from the home of Smith P. Burton, Jr., 621 Centre st., where a burglary had been discovered a few days before. Apparently the same burglar was engaged in both breaks. The same method of entering the house was used. The burglar climbed high porches at both houses, and forced second story windows. As the Smith family was absent, the police do not know the extent of the loot.

The third burglary discovered in Newton Corner homes within a week, was reported on Saturday by Patrolman McLean, who noticed a window open in the residence of Mrs. John Eustis, 145 Washington st. The same method of entering the house was used as had been used at the other two residences burglarized, and police believe the same "second-story burglar" entered all three houses. A high porch was climbed and a window above it forced. Mrs. Eustis has been away and the house was unoccupied. She was apprehensive of burglars and had a burglar alarm at the house. Neighbors heard the alarm sounding the preceding night, but did not realize it was a burglar alarm, so the police were not notified.

Two Children Bitten By Dogs

Complaints were made to the Board of Health last Saturday against two dogs which had bitten children. A dog owned by James Goddard of Southgate pk., West Newton, bit Priscilla Pierce, 5, of 33 Northgate pk. A dog owned by Dr. Joseph Sullivan of 1772 Beacon st., Waban, bit Chester Jacobs, 12, of 575 Chestnut st., Waban. Both dogs were ordered restrained.

Added Bus Expense at Oak Hill School

The new school at Oak Hill, which in various ways has already been quite costly, will necessitate a further and unlooked for expense which was revealed at the meeting of the School Committee on Monday night. Supt. of Schools Warren informed the committee that it is necessary to use two special school busses, instead of one bus, as planned, and that the cost of these busses for the balance of the fiscal year will be $819. The cost of transporting pupils from Oak Hill to the Mason School last year in a bus was $6.85 per day. The cost of transporting pupils from Newton Highlands to the new Oak Hill school is $11.70 per day. Only one bus was provided the first few days after the new school opened, but, the bus was so crowded that it was deemed necessary to engage a second bus.

Thirty-five pupils attended the old school at Oak Hill. When it was decided to build the new school at that section, the school boundaries were changed. Territory in Newton Highlands was added to the Oak Hill school district, and pupils who formerly attended the Hyde School were assigned to the Oak Hill School. There are 170 pupils attending the new school. A delegation of three parents, representing 26 residents who reside in the Woodcliff rd. section, appeared before the committee and presented a petition asking that their children be permitted to attend the Hyde School, instead of the new Oak Hill School. They argued that the Hyde School is nearer, and that the condition of Parker ave. is so poor, that it is nearly impassable in rainy weather. This unaccepted street runs westerly from Parker st.

Chairman Mather of the committee stated that those who had urged the building of the new school at Oak Hill, had contended that residents in the Newton Highlands section, which was included in the new school district, would prefer to send their children to the new school instead of the Hyde School, because the pupils would not have to cross the dangerous Worcester turnpike. The delegation representing the dissatisfied parents replied that they had no knowledge of such a claim, that there is a traffic officer on duty at the intersection of the pike and Walnut st. to guard the school children, and they are not afraid to send their children to the Hyde School. Mrs. Margaret Woods, member of the School Committee called attention to the fact that parents in the section around Solon rd., which is West of Walnut st. and further from the new school than is the territory where the objectors reside, prefer to send their children to the new school rather than to the Hyde School, although they have the option of sending them to either school. The section where the protestants live is near Woodcliff rd., and it is compulsory for children residing there to attend the new school. The School Committee voted to ask the Aldermen to appropriate $850, to provide for the additional bus service, and to leave the matter of adjusting

$1800 Annuity for Murphy's Family

Mrs. Lawrence Murphy, widow of the patrolman who was fatally wounded by Edward Simpson on August 21st, and who died at the Newton Hospital three weeks later, has applied for an annuity of $1000 under the General Law in preference to accepting $970 yearly which she is entitled to as the beneficiary of her husband who was a member of the contributory retirement system for Newton city employees. By doing this, Mrs. Murphy can also apply for a $200 annuity for each of her four young children; making a yearly total of $1800 which she will receive for the support of herself and children. Mayor Childs has stated he will approve Mrs. Murphy's applications for these amounts and recommend that the Board of Aldermen grant them at the meeting next Monday night. He has also recommended an annuity of $1000 for the widow of Patrolman Henry Bell, who was also fatally wounded by Simpson.

Newton Men Pass Bar Examinations

Among the successful candidates who passed the recent bar examinations were a dozen Newton residents, including Alderman Paul M. Goddard of 20 Trowbridge st., Newton Centre. The others are—John T. Donahue, 374 Hammond st., Chestnut Hill; Richard H. Gay, 110 Highland st., West Newton; Franklin Hoyt, 136 Woodland rd., Auburndale; Theodore Kendrick, 334 Ward st., Newton Centre; Robert Lawrence, 57 Elm rd., Newtonville; John J. Mackin, 25 Grant ave., Newton Centre; Thomas L. Mackin, 25 Grant ave.; Archibald McKillop, 40 Algonquin rd., Newton Centre; James Moriarty, 99 Oakdale rd., Newton Highlands; Alfred Rottenberg, 85 Woodchester Drive, Chestnut Hill; Ernest O. Sayfarth, 208 Cabot st., Newtonville.

Newton Boy and Girl Hurt In Crash

Saturday night at 7:25 a car driven by Robert Greer, 16, of 109 Brackett rd., Newton, and a car driven by Albert Rick of Newport, R. I., collided at Beacon st. and Gate House rd., near Chestnut Hill reservoir. Jay Gleason, 15, of 73 Summit st., Newton, and Barbara Williams, 15, of 1756 Beacon st., Waban, both riding with young Greer, received severe head injuries, and were taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital. Greer and Nancy Smith, 15, of 25 Claremont st., Newton, received slight injuries, and were treated at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Markets Picketed At Newton Corner

Wednesday afternoon from 1:30 until 6 o'clock 120 employees of the Atlantic & Pacific Company, the First National Stores, together with owners and employees of independent grocery stores and markets, formed a long picket line in front of the Mohican Market at 250 Washington st., Newton. The picketing was in protest against the market failing to keep closed on Wednesday afternoons. Two banners were carried by the picketers, one of which alleged that the market management had not kept a promise that it would close on Wednesday afternoons. The picketers came from chain stores in all the Newtons, as well as from the independent stores at Newton Corner. Several Newton policemen were present to see that no disorders occurred and that the law was conformed to, but no trouble happened. Some of the picketers also paraded for a short time in front of the Newton Corner Market at 332 Centre st., which also has not closed on Wednesday afternoons. At one time a prominent member of the city government was observed in the latter market.

Because of the fact that markets and grocery stores keep open on Saturday afternoons and evenings, and their employees work considerably longer hours than do most men, there has been a growing movement throughout the country to have such food stores closed one afternoon each week, usually on a Tuesday or Wednesday. While stores in Newton have closed for many years on Wednesday afternoons during the summer months, this city has lagged in all year closing on this afternoon. Last spring practically all the store owners and employees in Newton agreed to close the year round. Starting in May the Wednesday afternoon closing commenced, and the Mohican Market co-operated. Last week, however, the Mohican kept open, and the employees of the other stores threatened they would picket, which they did.

The Mohican management has a sign in a window at the store which states that it will continue to keep the market open on Wednesday afternoons, but will give its employees a half day off during the week. Employees of the other stores contend that if this market does not co-operate, it will mean that the other chain stores will be forced to remain open. In the smaller independent stores, and smaller units of chain stores, this would mean that owners of employees would not be able to have anytime off during the week. Those who picketed last Wednesday, assert they will picket again next Wednesday afternoon, if the Mohican persists in keeping open at that time.

Community Chest Sets 1937 Goal At $192,305

Increase of $4000 Over Last Year's Figures

A Campaign goal of $192,305 for the 1937 Newton Community Chest Campaign, November 5-16, was announced this morning by Maynard Hutchinson, President of the Chest. "This amount has been set," said Mr. Hutchinson, "after months of careful study by a Budget Committee and directors. It represents the minimum amount needed by 14 health and social agencies to carry on their work in 1938." The goal, Mr. Hutchinson pointed out, is about $4,000 more than the 1936 goal which, however, was oversubscribed in last year's successful campaign.

Explaining the method of deciding the amount of money needed, Mr. Hutchinson emphasized that the Newton Chest, which is the oldest in greater Boston, was run on strict business principles. "Our goal," he said, "is not arrived at by guess or mere wishful thinking. It is the result of months of study of Newton's social needs and resources. Our Budget Committee, chairmaned by Walter R. Amesbury, treasurer of Lasell Junior College and containing such able business men as Clarence G. McDavitt, vice president of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co., Charles C. Dasey of the Cunard White Star Line, Joseph F. Wogan, Assistant General Manager of the United Shoe Machinery Company, Benjamin J. Bowen, secretary of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co., Charles H. Cobb, president of the Filing Equipment Bureau, Maurice W. Dennison of the firm of Braman, Daw and Co., and Roger Preston, assistant treasurer of S. S. Pierce Company, examine the budgets of every agency in the Chest. Every item in these budgets has been proved necessary for the welfare of Newton."

"Plans for the 1937 Campaign," Mr. Hutchinson stated, "are already well developed under the leadership of A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., well-known Boston lawyer, who has been chosen director of the 1937 Campaign. Mr. Harwood is a life long resident of Newton and has long been active in civic affairs. In the 1936 Campaign he was Village Chairman for Newton Centre which raised 105% of its quota. "The Newton Chest," said Mr. Hutchinson, "is most fortunate in persuading Mr. Harwood to direct the campaign this year.

PICKETING IN NEWTON

Picketing in Newton is an unusual sight. This week Newton residents were treated to this strange scene when employees of certain stores gathered before another store which continued to do business on Wednesday afternoons after almost every other store had agreed to close in order that all employees might have one free afternoon each week. Newton residents in general are sympathetic toward the employees in their efforts to improve the conditions under which they work. We have advocated the closing of local stores one afternoon each week on frequent occasions. And we stress the fact that all stores should co-operate in this respect for the benefit of all concerned.

There is a certain amount of danger in the act of picketing however, which must be carefully guarded against. Any untoward incident in connection with picketing brings censure upon the picketeers, regardless of where the actual responsibility may lie. We trust that no disturbances will occur and that Wednesday afternoon closing will be practiced by all Newton stores.

MILES AND YEARS OF SERVICE

A veteran mail-carrier, John F. Gallagher, retires today after forty years of service to the residents of a part of Newtonville. It is interesting to reflect upon the changes in that part of the city that he has witnessed in his daily travels through the residential section in the vicinity of Lowell, Commonwealth and Forest avenues. Thousands and thousands of pieces of mail he has delivered to the hundreds upon hundreds of citizens there. Although it would seem to many that the humdrum miles which a mail-carrier must travel are tedious, the friends and acquaintances that he makes are ever a source of pleasure. The many friends of Mr. Gallagher will miss his cordial welcome and his daily visit and they extend to him their gratitude for his kindly service and their congratulations upon the completion of forty years of faithful endeavor.

Letters To The Editor

AN UNSIGHTLY SPOT

To the editor:

The officials of the City of Newton are to be commended for the closing of the Webster playground located upon Warren st. at Newton Center being used as a city dump. This is especially noticed from the circuit trains windows as being a part of the landscape of the ride to Newton Center from Boston.

Nature we are taught does not permit a void and such is the case here at the playground in that this unpromising area of last spring has become nearly covered with growth such as wild vines, so called weeds, bushes and small trees. Where did all the seeds come from to cover this wild waste of last spring? The winds, the birds and seeds that may have been in the rubbish that was deposited upon this area have had a chance to grow. Nature has a way of trying to cover up the desecration that man makes whether it be undeveloped playground, a gravel bank, a dump, a rubbish pile or anything that makes for unsightliness.

With all this effort of nature there are a few things on the edge of this area near the railroad tracks that nature cannot overcome. It is such ungainly remains of automobiles, furnace fittings, furnace pipes, and other articles of metal that canont disintegrate but grate upon the sensibilities of the traveller. If these were removed by the proper custodians at with but little expense then the nature effort would be helped wonderfully. Yours for Beauty.

HERBERT J. KELLAWAY.

"In becoming a member of Associated Hospital Service, we are simply enlarging the usefulness of Newton Hospital to the community," said William F. Chase, chairman of the board of trustees. "Subscriber patients in our institution will receive the utmost consideration and all benefits of the service will be furnished exactly," he said.

Miss Bertha W. Allen, superintendent of the hospital, said that she believed that its membership in the Blue Cross would extend its facilities to a larger number of persons, and that the hospital as well as the citizens would be benefitted.

R. F. Cahalane, executive director of Associated Hospital Service, announced that many requests had been received from Newton and area for the participation of that hospital. "We are pleased indeed to add Newton to our list of member hospitals," Mr. Cahalane declared. "This is one more step toward the completion of our state-wide program of inaugurating non-profit group hospitalization in Massachusetts," he said.

George Putnam, president of Associated Hospital Service, said: "It is gratifying indeed to see the hospitals throughout the state affiliating themselves with the service so rapidly and enthusiastically. Newton Hospital is to be congratulated upon its membership in the Blue Cross, and we know that the citizens of Newton and territory will benefit thereby."

Associated Hospital Service has the approval and endorsement of the Massachusetts Medical Society, the Massachusetts Hospital Association, the Hospital Council of Boston, various county medical societies and outstanding physicians of the state.

Through the Blue Cross organization, families and individuals pay small fixed sums into a common fund which is used to purchase semi-private hospital service (not ward) for those members of the group who become ill or injured. All money paid in by subscribers is used to purchase hospital service except a small percent which is necessary for operating expenses. There is no middle man to make a profit, and the organization does not accept charity. It does not interfere in any way in the relationship between patient and physician. Nor does it assume responsibility for the payment of the doctor's bill. The subscriber selects his own physician and makes payment direct for professional service. Because of the fact that the hospital bill is paid by the service, the subscriber finds it easier to pay his physician.

The Blue Cross provides a general hospital service only. Pulmonary tuberculosis after diagnosis as such, social diseases, quarantinable diseases, and mental disorders are not included for treatment.

Maternity service is provided after 11 months of continuous membership, and this special service includes use of delivery room, care of the mother and nursery care of the infant during the hospital stay of the mother. Any condition resulting from pregnancy may receive hospital care after the stipulated 11 months of membership.

In addition to the Newton Hospital more than 40 other general hospitals in Boston and other cities now provide service to Blue Cross subscribers. It is the aim of the service to extend membership to practically all general hospitals in the state as rapidly as possible.

This non-profit, non-charity organization is under the supervision of the state commissioner of insurance. Books and accounts are subject to his audit, and the subscriber rates and contracts are subject to his approval. Member hospitals and rates paid them for service must be approved by the commissioner of public welfare.

Francis J. DeCelles, insurance commissioner for the state, became interested in the service plan personally when examining the corporate papers which were filed for his approval. When enrollment of subscribers was begun, Mr. DeCelles brought in the first group which was composed of members of his staff. He requested and received Certificate No. 1, thus becoming the first charter member.

Sunbeam Chats

"Daddy's great. He brought me home a lolly-pop yesterday and I had it half eaten before mother spied it. Shucks, such a commotion! That's a funny idea of the District Nurse that babies ought not to have candy. Daddy just made a face and laughed. I like him. He's human."

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

Newton Republican October 2, 1875

At the meeting of the School Committee on Wednesday evening, with Mayor Hyde in the chair, Mr. Speare, chairman of the committee on salaries, reported adversely on raising the salary of Miss Miller of the Prospect School, because it would establish a bad precedent. Her labors are no more than other teachers getting the same salary. Mr. Gould thought her entitled to the increase. She has 60 scholars, and consequently more work. If a teacher is willing to do more work, the city should allow a larger salary.

Mr. Gould, for the committee on transportation, declined to make any report regarding transportation for Lower Falls pupils. It was voted to reconsider so much of the Order relating to Writing as forbade the use of the practise book, and it was voted to use the book.

What is the matter with the clock on Eliot Church? It has been very unreliable of late, and the public hope someone will be found who is responsible for it, and will put it to rights. A good clock is a convenient addition; a poor one worse than none.

The Nonantum Engine Company of Newton Corner propose to have a parade even if the rest of the department does not turn out. They have invited the Thomas Parsons Company of Brookline.

The first anniversary of the Myrtle Baptist Church at West Newton was observed last Sunday. Rev. E. Kelly, the pastor, preached from Genesis, XIII; 8 and 9: the separation of Lot and Abram. He advocated the separation of the colored people in church organization, as teaching them self-reliance and being to their general advantage. A collection was taken up; some $500 has been raised toward the building of the church edifice.

A lot of pipe for the new water works has arrived; 17 carloads have come and more is on the way.

Patrolman Hinckley of Auburndale while cleaning his revolver a few days since, forgetting that one chamber was loaded, and finding a cartridge stuck in the barrel, tried to push it out. The bullet discharged, the ball blowing off the thumb of his left hand, and entering his right hand. The thumb was amputated and he is getting along very well.

Patrolman Atherton arrested a man at Lower Falls for vagrancy last Friday. While taking him in a carriage to the lock-up, the man jumped out and ran for the woods, followed by the officer. The prisoner soon gained cover, and though the officer threatened to shoot, the man, Bungy by name, escaped. He was retaken the next day and carried to the police station. Being left in the corridor, instead of a cell, he cut away the door casing with his jackknife and got out.

Newton Graphic, Oct. 1, 1887

The Misses Lancaster entertained the Waverley Tennis Club and invited guests at their courts on Waverley ave. on Saturday afternoon. Progressive tennis and bowling were the special attractions.

A party of bicyclists who have been training in Newton for the 1000 mile road race from Boston to Chicago, left the Central House on Thursday, the race having been given up. They went to Ohio by rail.

There was a great sensation near the West Roxbury line at Oak Hill last Saturday, caused by a report that some ladies had found a skeleton in the woods. The report was investigated and the skeleton of a large dog was found. Upon the dog's collar was inscribed—"J. H. Mullen, Oak Hill, Newton. Licensed."

A pleasant party of Auburndale young people enjoyed a moonlight hayride on Wednesday night.

Three Lower Falls young ladies who graduated from Newton High School last June have secured positions as teachers—Miss Southworth goes to a district school in Connecticut, Miss Early to a primary school in Swampscott, and Miss Sears to Leverett, Massachusetts.

At the meeting of the School Committee on Wednesday evening, Mr. Frost said the condition of the school houses at the beginning of the school year was deplorable. Take the Prospect School for instance; when the master arrived on the opening morning he found painters at work, and doing their work badly, too. Everything was covered with paint. At Newton Highlands today the school is all torn up. People blame the School Committee but the Public Property committee of the Aldermen is to blame. He hoped that in another year the supervision will be better.

Powers' Paragraphs

Today, October 1st, John F. Gallagher of Clarendon st., Newtonville, is officially retired on a pension as a letter carrier, having reached the age limit of 65 years. Forty-one years ago Mr. Gallagher entered the postal service as a substitute carrier at the Newton postoffice. The following year he was appointed one of the three postmen at the Newtonville postoffice when free delivery was established in that village. For two score years he has intelligently and conscientiously served the people of Newtonville. Well preserved and remarkably active for his years, he could continue to give the same efficient service, but an arbitrary rule compels his retirement.

We have had the privilege of having been acquainted with Mr. Gallagher most of our life. We know that he possesses sufficient ability to have filled a more important position than that of the honorable, but humble occupation of letter carrier, had he so desired. But Mr. Gallagher was "Contented wi' little." A faithful public servant, devoted to his family, he has led a tranquil life, undisturbed by vain ambition, or a longing for financial, social or political achievements. Life for him has been more happy and fruitful than it has been for many men who aspired to greatness—or near greatness.

About a week ago Secretary of State Cordell Hull delivered an address in Boston in which he asserted that the way to end wars is by having free trade between all nations. If Mr. Hull's doctrine (or theory) will be accepted, there is a sorry future ahead for the people of these United States. They will eventually be reduced to a social and economic status approximating that of coolie workers in Japan, India and China. During Mr. Hull's occupancy of the high office he holds, there has been a large increase in importations to this country of textiles, shoes and many other articles from Czecho Slovakia, Japan, Germany and other nations in Asia and Europe. Shoe factories, textile mills and other industries in New England and elsewhere in the U. S. A. have been and are seriously affected by this competition from low paid labor. Many thousands of persons on public relief are not engaged in gainful employment because of this cause. Wars are horrible and unnecessary, but, there are millions in the U. S. A. who would prefer going to war, rather than surrendering the American standard of living, as proposed by Mr. Hull.

Japan is not the first country which has resorted to the horrible slaughter of defenceless men, women and children in thickly populated cities. Several months ago in Spain aviators in Franco's army (allegedly Germans) ruthlessly bombed cities and villages. But, the frightfulness practiced by the Japanese in the aerial bombings at Shanghai, Canton, Nanking and other Chinese cities, places these cocky Orientals in a class by themselves, so far as lack of humanity is concerned. Apparently, Commodore Perry did not benefit the world, or posterity, when he compelled the Japanese to end their isolation about a century ago. The Japanese military caste, in control of that country, certainly do not resemble the Nipponese loved by Lafcadio Hearn. A practical way for Americans, who abhor the methods being used by the Japanese, to assist in causing Japan to change its tactics, is—to boycott all Japanese made merchandise.

In connection with the big pow wow between Hilter and Mussolini an article appeared in Mussolini's newspaper—Il Popolo d'Italia of Milan. The editorial, written in Berlin by Pini, the editor of that paper, said among other things—that some day reality would overwhelm such fictions as the League of Nations, and the pretension that World War debts would be paid. Italy, Germany, France, England and other European countries, long ago ceased even making pretensions that they intend to pay either their World War debts to the people of the U. S. A., or even the billions loaned them after the war for rehabilitation purposes. And we have still many persons in this country who want us to become involved in a League with our former honorable allies.

Charles Marden, desk officer at police headquarters received honorable mention recently in a nation wide essay contest conducted by the RCA on the value of police radio equipment as a powerful aid in deterring crime and catching criminals.

About a week ago a man from Needham was arraigned in the Newton court on charges of drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was found guilty and his attorney asked Judge Allen to give him a suspended sentence. Judge Allen replied, "We don't give suspended sentences in drunken driving cases." He then fined the defendant $75 for driving under the influence of liquor, and $5 for drunkenness. It is true that judges in the Newton court have co-operated in discouraging drunken driving by refusing to suspend fines imposed on persons found guilty of such an offence. The late Judge Bacon was consistently firm in punishing autoists who menace the lives of others by driving while drunk. Judge Weston has been equally firm in this respect. So has Judge Allen during the past 18 months while he has been presiding at the Newton district court. But, there have been justices from outside Newton who occasionally substituted at the Newton district court, who displayed a different attitude. Last year, for instance, one such judge suspended his finding on a drunken driving case for six months—and then found the defendant not guilty.

At a meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on September 21, Herbert Parsons, former State Commissioner of Probation advocated the abolition of the death penalty for murderers. He said that capital punishment does not deter violent crime. In England where murderers are found guilty when their guilt is obvious, and where they are executed within two weeks after sentence is pronounced, there are only about 4 per cent as many murders as are committed in the U. S. A., in proportion to the population. In this country about one murderer in 200 is executed. If legal technicalities, appeals, and reprieves and the like were not so easy to be used by gangsters' lawyers in this country justice would not be so often defeated, and murder would not be on the increase here. There have been too many murderers sentenced to life terms, Mr. Parsons, and a few years later paroled or pardoned. Several years ago a man was shot to death in this city and his murderer sentenced to life imprisonment. In 5 years he was pardoned. A few days ago he was arrested again, charged with robbery.

If some persons had more sympathy for those murdered and less for the murderers, killers would be discouraged. Those who saw the torture suffered by Patrolman Bell of this city, recently murdered by the gangster, Simpson, and the three weeks agony suffered by Patrolman Murphy, shot by the same human viper, will not be apt to advocate that Simpson shall escape the death penalty; perhaps to be pardoned within several years, through corrupt political influence, as have other murderers.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Here Goes Again

A telephone call has come to notify me that I must put aside my hi-li set and take up my typewriter. Trifling as it may seem to some I have found much that was worth while in batting a rubber ball with a paddle without becoming involved with the elongated elastic that connects the two. Possibly it was the assurance that the ball could not get away from me. At any rate, it is a splendid way to keep occupied and much safer than writing when the mildest word, if inaptly used is likely to get you into trouble. Nevertheless, here I am, plunging in once more, typewriter overhauled, new ribbon and keyboard gleaming and the hope in my heart that you will all patiently stand by.

Missing Clue

A scrap of paper was blown by the wind from a rubbish truck near Farlow park and fell at my feet. Whatever possessed me to pick it up I do not know. Would that I had paid no attention to it and gone along about my business. As I did not, I have an insoluble mystery on my hands. Stooping over, I gathered up what was evidently part of a letter. The recipient had apparently made an unsuccessful attempt to burn it as the edges were scorched. More mystery! Enough remained to excite me and I haven't slept well since, wondering what this message means: "Edyth—Please have at least four keys made today. Also please thoroughly wring out my shirt."

Clearing the Way

Assuming nearly all motor vehicles in Massachusetts have been officially inspected and given the necessary sticker and those lingering without trians were compelled to pass a test to time, I wonder what Mr. Goodwin would think of this. What if pedestrians were compelled to pass a test to prove their ability to hop out of the way of an approaching auto? It must be a strain on a driver's nerves to have slow-moving independent persons, appear in the road when he wants it all to himself. Such immovability is not only exasperating but might provoke a motorist into running down the offender. I do not know what the law is but I believe that under such circumstances the pedestrian should be liable and if any damage is done the vehicle its owner should be entitled to collect damages from the other, if still living, or his estate. Every pedestrian should undergo a test and if found not to be entirely free from obstinacy should be restrained. The same penalty should be imposed on any pedestrian whose leg muscles are stiff just as a car is denied registration because of faulty brakes. Failing to heed a tooting horn is another offence. Such people should be allowed to walk only on streets where the traffic is light and in no case after dark.

Some Do, Some Don't

There are men who are handy at odd jobs around the house and there are others as clumsy in such matters as a baseball player trying to thread a needle. This condition has been going on for years and I see no hope of a change. For a long time I thought correspondence or night schools might establish courses whereby a man could learn the art of making minor household repairs and how to shut off the water meter or put a new fuse in the electricity box. You'd think some men would be ashamed when they see how successful their next door neighbors are in such matters. The years I have studied this problem have convinced me that some men simply cannot grasp the intricacies of lock fixing, picture hanging and miscellaneous tinkering. Either that or they are too high hat or won't be bothered.

BOSTON BUSINESS INSTITUTE

In the college division of Boston Business Institute, which provides a comprehensive and intensive training for business, a number of trips to business organizations are arranged each week for the members. In this way, the students combine visual and practical education with their research and other investigations. In other words, desk work is supplemented with field work.

While the sessions for the fall term have just started, there have been three trips to business enterprises this week. The young men are most enthusiastic about this practical and first-hand way of learning about modern businesses.

The personalized training methods makes it possible to admit new members at any time in Boston Business Institute, an up to the minute business school.

The Executive-Secretarial division of Boston Business Institute offers young men the opportunity to train for a position as an assistant to an executive, as a definite approach to a successful career in business. This one-year intensive course is open to men exclusively, and appeals particularly to the young man who, for some reason or another, has not been able to go to college.

The sessions in the Executive Secretarial division start October 15, and there are both day and evening classes.

Jennings, chairman of the Club Institute department of the State Federation, will present Mrs. John H. Kimball, State president, who will open officially the Club Year. Mrs. John R. Dallinger, State recording secretary and advisor to the Institute department, will extend greetings; and Mrs. Malcolm Green, chairman of International Relations, will give a short Peace Talk.

The talks on Thursday will be given by Mrs. Harold M. Scheibe, chairman of Literature, and Mrs. Mark deSilva, chairman of Legislation. The subject for Parliamentary Procedure, presented by Mrs. George Edward Hutchins, will be "Know Your By-Laws", and the thirty-minute question and discussion period will close the meeting.

All clubwomen may display notices and posters on the Club Institute Bulletin Board.

Aldermen Enjoy Clambake at Marion

The Newton Board of Aldermen enjoyed a delightful outing on Sunday at the summer home of Alderman George A. Bacon in Marion. The hosts of the occasion were Aldermen Bacon, Inches and Floyd. The Aldermen left City Hall at 8:20 Sunday morning in a Middlesex & Boston bus and arrived at Mr. Bacon's estate in Sippican about 10 o'clock. The Selectmen of Marion were also guests at the outing. After partaking of a buffet lunch the members of the city government boarded two large launches, one of which is owned by Alderman Inches, and enjoyed a couple of hours fishing in Marion Bay. Mr. Inches, who is an expert fisherman, outclassed his associates on the Board by catching not only the largest fish, but the greatest number of fish. He pulled in eleven tautogs and sea bass, but, being one of the hosts, he declined to take the prize for either accomplishment. As a result, the prize for catching the largest fish went to Alderman Don Hill. Four were tied for catching the same number of fish, and the prize was drawn by former Alderman Powers.

Returning to shore a delicious clambake, prepared by professionals, was enjoyed. A horse shoe contest was won by Alderman Gaddis and City Clerk Grant. At 5:30 the party boarded Alderman Inches' motorboat and proceeded to the town wharf at Marion. Points of interest about Marion Harbor were explained by Selectmen Borden of that town. The chartered bus was awaiting the Aldermen at the wharf, and the return to Newton was enlivened by the singing of old time songs, a number of the Aldermen displaying unusual vocal ability.

Rotary Club

Dr. Tehyi Hsieh, a member of the Boston Rotary Club and head of the Chinese Trade Bureau in Boston, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club. Dr. Hsieh spoke on the viewpoint of a Chinese upon the present Sino-Japanese conflict. He stated that from his point of view there were three reasons why Japan started her present aggression upon China:

1. The militaristic government feared that there would be a revolution among the Japanese people if their attention was not diverted from internal to external affairs.
2. Japan is, at present, economically unsound and her people are overtaxed.
3. The Japanese people, as a nation, have become fanatic with the hope of being "big brothers" to all Asiatic people. They feel that they are the protectors and salvation of the yellow race.

Dr. Hsieh emphasized that China is far more ready for the conflict with Japan than she has ever been in her past history. Her growth in the establishment of educational institutions, churches, political unity, and national finance now places her in a position to combat Japanese aggression. Dr. Hsieh felt that China will ultimately win out. He feels that China is now fighting a battle for all the democratic governments of the earth against imperialism. That is why he feels that the democratic governments are somewhat sympathetic toward the Chinese cause.

The speaker felt that China would heartily welcome open arbitration of the present conflict. He felt that such arbitration might be brought about forcibly if the United States and the European nations declare an immediate boycott upon Japanese goods.

The members of the club were much interested in Dr. Hsieh's presentation and many expressed the hope that possibly some Japanese person could present the Japanese point of view in this present conflict.

Prize Winning Cattle To Be Shown At Wellesley Farm

The Massachusestts Guernsey Breeders' Association has again honored the home of the Wellesley Farms Dairy on the estate of C. H. Jones, Glen rd., Wellesley Farms, for the third annual consignment sale of prize-winning Guernsey Cattle. Cattle from all over New England will present a colorful spectacle on Tuesday, Oct. 5, on this estate, long famous for its breeding and raising of prize-winning Guernsey cows.

Many of the official records made on the Jones' estate, in milk and butter fat productions, still stands unequalled, especially those of Valintine 2 and Cherry of Edgewater.

Coming to Massachusetts for seed stock is an old habit among Guernsey breeders. Well-beaten paths took shape years ago when breeders from all over the country were lured by the accomplishments of Massachusetts great pioneer Guernsey breeders. They moulded a sound foundation and sifted out the blood lines that have carried it on. This blood has found its way into practically every Guernsey herd, yet it is more intensive and reflects most vividly in Massachusetts.

Every prominent Guernsey herd in the state is represented in this 1937 sale by actual consignments or by their breeding. It presents another opportunity to acquire the seed that has been most popular for years in establishing or bolstering Guernsey herds throughout the country.

Guernsey breeders from all over the United States will attend. Last year three carloads of Guernseys were bought at the sale by Raymond Griffith, movie magnate of Beverly, California. The prize-winning cattles will start arriving at Wellesley Farms on Saturday, Oct. 2. The Wellesley Farms Dairy extends a cordial invitation to the general public to view these famous Guernsey Cattle from Saturday to Tuesday evenings. Actual sale will begin on Tuesday at 12:30. Picnic luncheon will be served for fifty cents in the Pine Grove on the estate.

"Devil Is Driving"

"Devil Is Driving" In Newton Oct. 7-9

The Newton Chapter of the Massachusetts Safety Council at its meeting in police headquarters last night voted to urge every man, woman and child in Newton, who can do so, to go to the Paramount Theatre, Newton on either Thursday, Friday or Saturday, October 7, 8 and 9 to see the gripping film—"The Devil Is Driving." The purpose of this pictured drama is to aid in smashing a national menace which is 10,000 times more dangerous than the blazing guns of gangdom. This picture has become a national sensation. It is being sponsored by a nation-wide safety campaign, automobile manufacturers, insurance companies, the American Legion, Boy Scouts and similar organizations.

"The Devil Is Driving" is a scathing indictment of reckless driving and its murderous results. It carries a forceful message for every driver—every pedestrian. It combines thrilling drama with gripping tragedy. It carries a message which should be heeded by flaming youth who drive recklessly for a thrill, and who kill with throbbing jazz still ringing in their ears. It is an indictment of those playboys who hurtle excitement crazed girls to their doom, and who purchase their freedom with perjury.

A pre-view of this dynamic drama will be given tonight at the Paramount.

Newtonville Girl Drowned at R. I.

Miss Dorothy Thompson, 33, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thompson of 62 Parsons st., West Newton, was drowned last Friday while swimming in Cowesset Bay, Warwick, R. I. She was about 150 yards off shore when her cries for help were heard by William Baker of Warwick, who was nearby in a motorboat. He brought her to shore, and East Greenwich firemen worked for over an hour in a vain attempt to resuscitate her. Miss Thompson was born in West Newton, graduated from Newton High School in 1921 and from Framingham Normal School in 1924. After teaching a few years, she resumed her studies at Boston University School of Education, and received her degree in 1931. She is survived by her parents, and two brothers, Harold and Loring Thompson, both of West Newton. Her funeral service was held at her late home on Monday afternoon. Rev. Boynton Merrill officiated. Interment was at Milford, Mass.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Church of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, October 3.

The Golden Text is: "Thus saith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?" (Jeremiah 2:5).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. . . . For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee" (Isaiah 41:10, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Fear, which is an element of all disease, must be cast out to readjust the balance for God. Casting out evil and fear enables truth to outweigh error. The only course is to take antagonistic grounds against all that is opposed to the health, holiness, and harmony of man, God's image" (p. 392).

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled

Christian Science: Liberator of Mankind

by

JOHN RANDALL DUNN, C.S.B.

of Boston, Massachusetts

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

Friends:

This church welcomes you tonight to a lecture on Christian Science.

Our lecturer is a member of The Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

His subject this evening is "Christian Science: The Liberator of Mankind."

It gives me pleasure to present to you Mr. John Randall Dunn.

Mr. Dunn spoke substantially as follows:

The widespread interest in the subject of Christian Science, in this and other lands, is traceable directly to the fact that enslaved mortals are finding in its spiritual teaching that liberator graphically pictured by Isaiah as sent "to preach good tidings unto the meek; . . . to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound." The attempts of some misinformed critics to prove that Christian Science is not this liberator, that the sick are not healed, the sinning reformed, nor the sorrowing comforted through its ministrations, are of course of little moment in the presence of an ever-increasing host of witnesses testifying to the fact that whereas they were bound physically, mentally, or morally, now they are experiencing through the teachings of Christian Science a greater measure of health, freedom, and happiness than they have ever known.

In the past few years it has been my great privilege to attend Christian Science services, and talk with students of Christian Science in many lands—in Great Britain, Continental Europe, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, the Orient, the West Indies, Alaska, and in hundreds of places in the United States and Canada; and if a stenographic report could have been taken of all the testimonies of healing and regeneration I have heard, it would make a record filling volumes.

GAMALIEL'S ADVICE

What would those who fancy themselves opposed to this spiritual teaching have its students do? Would they ask the man who states, and whose family corroborates his statement, that he has been freed from the torments of alcoholism, to go back to his appetite and his bondage? Would they bid the infidel who through Christian Science has become a believer in and lover of the Bible, discard that holy volume, and tread again his cheerless, godless road? Would they bring back the pain and anguish which in the cases of thousands of men and women and little children have been banished by the touch of this healing evangel? Surely this is no time to oppose the coming to saddened humanity of a spiritual message the certain effect of which is the uplift and comfort of mankind. It might be recommended therefore, to those who feel called upon to ridicule and revile the Christian Scientists, that perhaps the safest and most Christian attitude for them to assume is to be found in Gamaliel's sound advice to the would-be-persecutors of the Apostles as recorded in the fifth chapter of Acts: "And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to nought: but if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even to fight against God."

THE COMING OF THE LIBERATOR

There is not a people on the face of the earth that is not yearning for the comfort and healing and joy that follow in the wake of this spiritual teaching. In many countries that one visits to-day, one senses a feeling akin to dismay over the increasing discord, unrest, and turmoil. What does it all mean? Christian Science answers, in the words of Christ Jesus, "When these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh." The Master plainly foresaw that an upheaval, a bringing to the surface of the hidden errors of the carnal mind, would accompany the appearance of that promised "spirit of Truth" which was to redeem and save mankind. In fact, Christian Science is explaining the present world-wide fermentation, and bidding mortals to see therein evidence that "the night is far spent, the day is at hand." And should it seem surprising that it was the gentle voice of a woman that was appointed to bring this message, assuring the saddened and fearing children of men with all the tenderness of the mother-thought, that God is indeed able to care for His creation, to heal and to save? We have only to remember the pure Jewish maiden, whose uplifted sense beheld, and brought into demonstration, the fatherhood of God; the repentance and gratitude of the Magdalen; the faithfulness of the women "last at the cross and first at the sepulchre"; and likewise the fidelity and devotion of the woman-thought through all the centuries to that which points to faith and purity,—we have only to remember these, should the human mind find it difficult to accept the fact that Truth has spoken to this age through a woman.

PREJUDICE AGAINST MRS. EDDY

I regret to confess the fact that before I knew anything about Christian Science, before I had read a line of its authorized literature, or attempted to prove by demonstration its truth or its error, I was one of that now rapidly decreasing number of persons who seem to take special delight in making flippant and unchristian remarks about Mrs. Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, and in laughing at the movement in general. I was quite sure that Christian Scientists worshiped Mrs. Eddy and that her system of healing was only will-power or the human mind over matter. In fact, my fund of information as to what Christian Science does not teach, reminds me of the immigrant applying for admission to this country, who was asked if he was familiar with the Constitution of the United States. He replied: "Indeed I am. I learned to sing it when I was a boy!"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE NOT SUGGESTION

But when at last I read the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, and when I had attended a few services, I found that which no impartial investigator could fail to discover: that Christian Scientists worship the supreme and only God and entertain for the revered Leader of their movement only sentiments of affection and deep gratitude. I found, instead of a system of material philosophy, dealing with the action of will-power and suggestion, the purest Christian metaphysics, based upon a spiritual sense of the Scriptures. Well may we rejoice that Mrs. Eddy, during her search after Truth, had investigated so-called magnetic healing, and mind-cure based upon hypnotic control, and found such systems not only devoid of spirituality, but positively iniquitous; and even a casual glance through the pages of the textbook should convince any fair-minded person that Christian Science is as far from hypnotism and suggestion as is Christ from Belial.

THE DISCOVERER AND FOUNDER OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

As to that revered gentle woman, through whose spiritual vision the simple healing truths of the Bible are to-day made available for those who sit in darkness, I need say only this: Her character needs no defense; by her fruits shall she be known. Go with me, for example, to a certain home I know of in far-off Australia. Let the husband and father tell of his beautiful redemption through Mrs. Eddy's teachings. He had scarcely known a sober moment for over thirty years, during which time he consumed, on an average, one bottle of whiskey a day. Let him tell of that wonderful moment when someone induced him to read Mrs. Eddy's book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and how, after reading not more than fifty pages, he found himself freed from the curse of alcoholism. Let him then tell of his homecoming after his healing. It seems that he and his wife, although living under the same roof, had not spoken to each other for three years. But when he returned to his home with God in his heart and a song on his lips, his wife met him and they embraced tenderly, beginning there and then a new life together. Then try to convince that man and woman that the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science was a fraud! They will tell you with eyes dimmed with tears of gratitude that they know that the woman who penned the words that brought such healing to their home must have walked and talked with God!

PRESENT-DAY SALVATION

Christian Scientists know that Mrs. Eddy did not originate Christian Science; she dis-covered it — in other words, brought it to light. The balm of Gilead which she has revealed for the healing of the nations is not of her creating, nor is it a restatement of ancient or modern material philosophy. It is the simple, unadulterated message of salvation from sin, disease, and death taught by the Master and his apostles and the prophets who preceded them. I once asked a woman seeking help in Christian Science if she understood the meaning of the word "salvation." "Indeed I do," was her response. "I was saved when I was eighteen." "From what were you saved?" I ventured to inquire. "Why, I was saved," she explained. "You know Jesus died to save me." "To save you from what?" I persisted. "Have you been saved from sin all these years?" "No," she admitted honestly, "I cannot say that I have." "Have you been saved from sickness?" "No," she replied sadly, "I have been a terrible sufferer for years." "Did your salvation include deliverance from heartache, from fear, from worry, from poverty?" "No," she said, "I suppose my salvation was reserved entirely for the future life."

JESUS' DEFINITE INSTRUCTION

Is it not strange, this seemingly universal misunderstanding among professing Christians regarding the teaching of Jesus upon this vital point? In the tenth chapter of Matthew we find these definite instructions given by the Master to his students: "Go . . . to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. And as ye go, preach saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give. Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses . . . for the workman is worthy of his meat." "The kingdom of heaven is at hand"! In the Christian Science textbook we read that heaven is harmony. Therefore the message of the Saviour, which indeed is "good tidings of great joy" to the bound and afflicted of earth, is that harmony, deliverance, and salvation from sickness, sin, and discord are at hand, and are to be realized in the proportion that mankind lifts its thought from the material and lays hold on the spiritual facts of being.

DEFINITION OF HELL

At this point someone may say, "If you believe that heaven is harmony, or 'a divine state of Mind' (Science and Health, p. 291), then I suppose that Christian Scientists do not believe in hell." Unfortunately most of them do, and they are trying hard to get out of it. Let us read the Christianly scientific definition of "hell" (Science and Health, p. 588): "Mortal belief; error; lust; remorse; hatred; revenge; sin; sickness; death; suffering and self-destruction; self-imposed agony; effects of sin; that which 'worketh abomination or maketh a lie.'" Now most of us find ourselves in one or more of the conditions of thought just described, and the insistent yearning of all mankind is for deliverance, for harmony, for heaven. How is this to be attained? By will-power? By forcing ourselves to think thoughts of health, rather than thoughts of sickness? By no means. Would a teacher say to a class in school, "Children, clench your fists, close your teeth hard, use all the determination and will-power at your command, and say, 'Five times five must equal twenty-five'"? Never. A teacher imparts to his class the truth about arithmetic, and that truth quietly enters the pupils' thought and gently displaces the ignorance which before held sway. Will-power has absolutely nothing to do with it. Nor can will-power or suggestion or any action of the carnal mind carry us from hell to heaven, from discord to harmony. The remedy lies in the simple rule left by the Master: "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent." Salvation, then, is a matter of knowing the truth about God and the son of God, and as Jesus says in another place, when you know the truth, the truth shall make you free.

Let no one think, however, that the working out of one's salvation through knowing the truth is always along a path of flowers. Spiritual unfoldment, like a child's material education, involves wrestlings with self-will, battlings with discouragement, and even the encountering of temporary defeats, until the human is brought into subjection to the divine. But in our spiritual education we have the comforting assurance that it is not human will but God that worketh in us "both to will and to do of His good pleasure."

BASIS OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Let us now consider the basis of Christian Science; let us find the truth about God and man which it reveals—that truth which is destined to liberate the race. Science and Health in a few words sums up the remarkable discovery of the truth of being. We read (p. 259): "The Christlike understanding of scientific being and divine healing includes a perfect Principle and idea,—perfect God and perfect man,—as the basis of thought and demonstration." "How can the statement be made that man is perfect?" someone may inquire. "Certainly this material, sick, sinning, dying mortal is anything but perfect." Christian Science agrees promptly with this statement, and asks, But does weak, suffering mortality constitute God's man? The first chapter of Genesis states plainly that the man of God's creating is made in the image and after the likeness of his creator. If God is admitted to be Spirit, or Mind, then the perfect man of His creating, to be like his Maker, must be mental, spiritual. Therefore this material, sinning, imperfect mortal is not God's man at all. The Apostle Paul makes this clear in his famous statement in Romans, "They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God."

ILLOGICAL DOCTRINE

For centuries have mortals refused to reason about the facts of creation, as stated in Genesis. Blindly have they accepted the illogical doctrine that a spiritual cause could produce a material effect; that a God who is Spirit could create His unlikeness, a material man, and that this man was quite good and harmonious until a woman was fashioned from one of his ribs, and shortly thereafter trouble began! In other words, this good, spiritual mortality fell into sin, and became bad or fallen mortality; as if mortality, signifying that which is fleshly and dying, could ever be good or spiritual!

"LET US REASON TOGETHER"

What wonderful service has Mrs. Eddy rendered theology here. She calls on mankind, in the words of Isaiah, to "come . . . and let us reason together" about the great facts of being. First, she avers with faultless logic, that a God who is Spirit could not create a man the opposite of Himself. Can light beget darkness? Certainly not. Nor can Spirit beget that which is unlike Spirit. Next, Mrs. Eddy calls attention to the fact that nothing ever happened to that spiritual creation which God pronounced very good. In the second chapter of Genesis we read that a mist went up from the earth, and with the coming of a mist seemed to appear mortality, or a man made from dust. But does a mist destroy anything? No, it only hides. So God's perfect creation must be as beautiful and intact as when the morning stars sang together. It has only been hidden from mortal gaze by the mist, or mesmerism, if you will, of material sense—by ignorance of the true God. And from this ignorance, this mistaken view, and not from a loving Father, comes this mortal, sinning sense of existence, this sense of a fallen, depraved man, the opposite of God's image and likeness. Therefore with boldness, but that boldness born of unassailable logic and proof, does the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science state that there is in truth but one creator and one creation, one God, one man, and that man spiritual and harmonious now. On this basis, and this alone, can the sick be healed, the sorrowing comforted, and the sinning reformed.

IS MAN BOTH SPIRITUAL AND MATERIAL?

"But," may interpose someone, "I certainly seem to be material. Why is it not correct to say that man is both spiritual and material?"

Let this question be answered by a simple illustration, although all material similes necessarily have their limitations. But this may help one to see why Christian Science insists that there are not two men, one spiritual and one material, but one alone—the spiritual harmonious man of God's creating. And it is the clinging to the spiritual fact of being, and resisting and repudiating the material seeming, that enables the scientific Christian to banish the mist of sickness and sin.

LEGEND OF THE LOST PRINCE

Now for the illustration: The story is told of a young prince, who, when a very small child, became separated from his nurse, and wandered into some woods where roamed a gypsy band. The gypsies carried the little fellow away with them, and brought him up as one of their own. Living in the great out-of-doors with his captors, before many years he became nearly as swarthy and browned as the gypsies. He wore gypsy clothes, spoke the gypsy tongue, and was given a gypsy name. To all intents and purposes, there was a gypsy. He certainly looked like one and thought he was one. When he arrived at manhood's estate, the gypsy band again roved to the woods near the palace, and a dear friend of the king who had never ceased seeking for the prince, saw him, and in spite of the gypsy appearance, recognized him immediately. Knowing something of the gypsy tongue he said to the young man, "Do you know who you are?" The other regarded him with a puzzled look. "Do I know who I am?" he answered, "of course I do." And he gave a gypsy name. "Ah," said the friend, "but that is not your real name. For the truth about you is that you are the son of our king!" The young man shook his head. "You are mistaken," said he. "I am not the king's son. I am a gypsy." "I know you seem to be," said the friend, but the fact is, you are not."

"If what you say is true," replied the other, "there must be two of me—this gypsy here, and the son of the king,—I don't know where he is."

"No," persisted the friend, "there is only one of you, and I am telling you about that one. That one is the son of our king."

Then said the young man, and he confidently expected that this question would settle the matter: "If I really am this son of the king, where did the gypsy come from?"

The friend replied that he would discuss the question of the gypsy no further, for he was not a gypsy; in fact, the only place a gypsy seemed to exist was in his ignorance, his misconception as to his origin; for all the time he had been the son of the king.

VICTIMS OF IGNORANCE

And how like the experience of mortals has this been! Victimized by ignorance of the true God and the true man, the true Father and the true son, mortals have accepted this material Adam-view of creation. They speak the tongue and think the thoughts of materiality. They adopt the customs of the race of Adam in expecting and experiencing sin, sickness, trouble, limitation, imperfection, old age, and death. And when the Science of Christianity, the spiritual truth taught by Jesus, which is the best friend mankind ever had, proclaims the fact that man is spiritual, the image of Spirit and the son of the King, the average mortal looks at his mortality, accepts as truth that which he sees with his eyes and hears with his ears, and says dubiously, "How can I believe it? Don't I know that I am material?"

BASING CREATION UPON MATTER INSTEAD OF SPIRIT

The impossibility of working from two standpoints, one spiritual and the other material, was illustrated in the following experience: A man of my acquaintance was literally going to pieces with drink. He tried different "cures," but all to no avail. Finally a friend asked me if I would try to "use my religion on him," as he expressed it. I knew nothing about Christian Science at the time, but was a member of a Christian church. I might say that my understanding of creation began with the second chapter of Genesis, rather than the first—with the Adam-man, rather than with the spiritual image and likeness of God of the first chapter. It was not long before I had an opportunity to "use my religion." The man in question was just recovering from a prolonged period of intoxication, and I sought an interview with him. Telling him that I and his other friends were earnestly desirous of helping him, I launched forth into a stinging indictment of his evil ways. I graphically pictured his weakness, his submission to appetite and its consequent degradation. My thought was first to convince him how bad he was, and then to bid him with God's help rise above his sin. But I had proved a bungling comforter. I had so convinced him that the truth about him was that he was a degraded, weak, sinning son of Adam, and not that he was a spiritual son of the King, with dominion over all the earth, that I was informed later that the poor fellow was not sober for two weeks after I had finished "using my religion." I respectfully submit that there was something radically wrong with that treatment. And I believe every thinking person can see where the error lay: I made Adam, materiality, my starting point, and saw it as the truth, rather than God's spiritual creation.

HEALING FOLLOWS CORRECT VIEW

Let me, by way of contrast, draw another picture. A man victimized by the appetite for liquor, drugs, or tobacco, seeks out a Christian Science practitioner. In the course of his work the Scientist may find it necessary to utter a strong and awakening rebuke, but he realizes that he is rebuking evil, and not man. Should one see a beautiful butterfly caught in a spider's web, would one say: "Look at that wretched butterfly!" Certainly not. The condemnation or rebuke would be for the spider and its web, not for the butterfly. Now the Christian Scientist, basing his argument on the goodness of God and man's eternal likeness to his Maker, proceeds to thank the Father that His image must be undefiled, pure, and harmonious, now and forever. He, therefore, is not striving to change man, but to reveal man; and as he refuses to be mesmerized by the gypsy-appearance, and clings to man's present dominion and satisfaction as the son of the King, in that proportion will that which is called healing take place.

THE PROBLEM OF INTEMPERANCE

Let us consider for a moment the problem of intemperance. The Christian Scientist does not indulge in intoxicants for the simple reason that he has learned that there is no real pleasure or satisfaction in such indulgences. Many turn to so-called stimulants because they crave a feeling of well-being, supposed to follow in the wake of strong drink. The Christian Scientist has found a more excellent method. He strives to partake of the wine of inspiration, rather than the wine of fermentation, and through the knowing of that Love "divinely near" (Poems, p. 6) eternally satisfying, strengthening, and upholding man, he gains a sense of peace and satisfaction and well-being never experienced before.

Christian Science, therefore, is not engaged in taking joy from mortals, it is in the glorious business of giving to mankind real joy and lasting satisfaction—that joy which the master said no man should take from us.

AN INSTANCE OF HEALING

A man sadly victimized by the drug and liquor habit once sought out a Christian Science practitioner. He told the Scientist of his unhappy plight, of his degradation, and the loss of money, friends, and self-respect, and then said: "In fact, there is only one person in all the world who thinks that there is any good in me, and that is my little three-year-old child; but of course," he added sorrowfully, "she does not know any better!" Then said the practitioner, "If that is the case, your little girl is the only one in all your world who has caught a glimpse of the real you; for in God's sight, the man of His creating, your real spiritual selfhood, is just as good, just as beautiful, just as undefiled as that child says he is." And I want to report that this revolutionary message so startled the material dreamer, and so clearly revealed man's real spiritual status, from that very day he found his tormenting desires gone, never to return; and he realized with joy that his little girl was not deceived after all, and that in truth God's man is pure and free.

BUSINESS PROBLEMS

"In what way could the understanding of Christian Science aid in the solution of a business problem?" someone may ask. And the answer is, that the basic rule of scientific being, wherewith one is able to silence sin and eradicate disease, operates in the so-called business realm as surely as in the mental or bodily realm. The Christian should feel as free to rely on a spiritual method for the healing of a sick business as for the healing of a sick body. In fact, the Master-metaphysician overcame a sense of lack of supply as readily as a lack of strength or health.

TRUE BUSY-NESS

At the age of twelve, Christ Jesus announced that he was about his Father's business, and what a marvelously successful business man he became! The primary meaning of the word business is, "the state of being busy or active"; and the Master exemplified this busy-ness in every thought, word, and deed. Recognizing God, Spirit, as his Father, and the son as the image or reflection of the Father, he laid down these fundamental rules for all righteous activity: "The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do." And again, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work." Thus Christ Jesus showed that man's true activity or busy-ness was not the selfish pursuit of material gain, but the reflection or expression of omni-active intelligence and good.

MAN NOT A BURDEN-BEARER

Business men and women who are students of Christian Science will tell you that marvelous solutions of vexing problems come about when they glimpse these truths, and realize, even in small measure, that man is not an independent mental machine, burdened and perplexed, but the very manifestation or reflection of the all-wise intelligence, which is God Himself. "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work"! The next time you find yourself confronted with a veritable stone wall, and know not what move to make, think of this wonderful rule and strive to apply it. It is not the Father's will that you should spend sleepless nights and anguished days in the effort to devise a method of escape from this calamity, or a remedy for that problem. "My Father worketh hitherto"! The one infinite Mind, governing the whole universe, is working, eternally working, and His plan for the least of His ideas is harmony, peace, and heavenly sustaining. Mankind's need is to lift thought above the mist of the human seeming, refuse to be dismayed, and commence the glorious work of reflecting the all-knowing, all-governing intelligence. In one of her shorter writings (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 306) Mrs. Eddy states, "God gives you His spiritual ideas, and in turn, they give you daily supplies." Therefore the man or woman who realizes that the primal need is to gain spiritual ideas, rather than money, is on the highway leading to a successful working-out of his problem.

HAGAR'S NEED

Take, for example, the case of Hagar, Sarah's bondmaid, whom Abraham cast out. At first reading of this Old Testament narrative it would appear that Hagar's need was food and drink; and yet it developed that all she needed was a spiritual idea. It will be recalled that the unhappy woman took her child and wandered out in the wilderness, where it seemed that starvation would surely overtake her. Soon, the record states, the water in her bottle was spent, and she cast the child under some shrubs where she could not see it die, and hopelessly resigned herself to her seemingly hopeless fate. There seemed no way out. Ah, but there was a way, and such a simple way! We read that an angel—a spiritual idea — whispered to her thought, "Fear not!" And then it is recorded that God opened her eyes and she saw a well of water. The well had apparently been there all the time, but she, like so many of earth's blinded ones, had closed her thought and her heart to the angel-messages which ever point outward and upward, and which ever find a way.

Is it not true that a man blinded by self-pity, immersed in the argument of lack, and mesmerized by fear and the limitations of sense-testimony, can look straight at an avenue of escape and not see it? Is not the need of the business Hagars of to-day a more spiritual view, a higher sense of things, which will banish fear and limitation and open the doors of thought for the reception of right, saving ideas? Do you not know men and women who spend valuable moments bewailing the fact, Hagar-like, that there is nothing but ruin ahead, and that there is no possible way out? To one looking through Hagar's spectacles, a splendid business opportunity, or other solution of the problem, might come right up to him and yet be unseen.

THE FATHER'S BUSINESS

If one is meeting one of the world's legitimate needs; if he is selling good goods, honest goods honestly, relying on truth rather than on suggestion and modern high-pressure methods for making the sales; if he is directing an honest business, honestly, lovingly mindful of the welfare of his humblest employee; if justice and cooperation are displacing selfish greed and tyrannical methods; if on the other hand, he is an employee and realizes that in rendering faithful cheery service to his employer he is really working for Principle,—then truly may he know that he is about his Father's business, and that governing him and protecting him is the law of immutable good and harmony. Only so long as one bears the gypsy-label of the Adam-man in his heart, can he be robbed of his joy and activity and supply. Note the freedom, the success, the absence of burden with the business man or woman who says each morning: "I am the child of the King! Dear Father, what are the orders for the day? Here I am. Use me!"

PRAYER THAT HEALS THE SICK

"This is a beautiful theory," says someone, "and it might help a sinful man, or one worried with business problems. But what about a sick man—a man really sick?" Go to any Wednesday evening meeting of the hundreds of Christian Science churches spread throughout the civilized world, and hear there testimonies and experiences of those who have been healed of practically every known disease through this spiritual teaching. You will find that these people have taken the Apostle at his word when he said: "Is any among you afflicted? Let him pray. . . . The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." But the prayer which has healed them has not been a blind petitioning to a God who supposedly afflicts His children. Rather has it been based upon such an understanding as the friend had who knew that the prince was not a gypsy. To refer to this simile again, suppose the prince had said to the friend, "Won't you pray for me, that I may be healed of this gypsy-sense?" Could one picture the friend then addressing the Almighty and imploring Him to remove the gypsy? Such a prayer indeed would be asking amiss. That friend clings to the facts—communes, if you will, with the truth as to the prince's being, and refusing to be swayed by sense-testimony, eventually dispels the other's ignorance. And what would be the first sign of an awakening with the prince? Would it not be an expression of joy and gratitude on meeting his parents and learning his real status? So the prayer that dispels the mesmerism of sickness, of pain, of helplessness, must not begin with such a phrase as, "O God, who hast seen fit to visit this child with affliction"; rather must it be a song of thanksgiving that a loving Father hath already done all things well, and that His law never causes disease, but annihilates it. Did not Jesus preface his mighty work at the tomb of Lazarus with the words, "Father, I thank thee"? Gratitude, therefore, is not only a very pleasing quality to possess, but is the precious forerunner and certain symbol of an awakening from the Adam-dream of discord and distress.

AN INSTANCE OF HEALING

A woman suffering from what the physicians called tuberculosis, and particularly harassed with a wretched cough, turned to a Christian Science practitioner for help. Faithfully did the Scientist strive to awaken a sense of gratitude in the patient, but all to no avail. The patient was a gypsy, and knew that she was a gypsy, and that settled it. What was there to be grateful for in that? Finally one night, when the poor woman was about worn out with the cough, the light broke in upon her thought and she said aloud: "Now I know what I can thank God for! I can at least thank Him that I know that He never made a cough or laws of disease! I can thank Him I am learning that this is only a dream and is not happening in His beautiful kingdom. I can thank Him for that!" After this, an even more violent spell of coughing seemed to overtake her. Calmly she addressed the error: "I refuse to be dismayed and I refuse to fight you any longer, I am thank-

Kiwanis Club

Miss Harriet Parsons of the Newton Welfare Bureau, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday at the Charles River Country Club. Miss Parsons described most interestingly the work of the Bureau which is supported in part by private contributions and in part by the Newton Community Chest Inc.

The work of the agency is extensive and its problems many. Cases which cannot, by their very nature, be taken care of by the City's welfare department are administered unto by this great humane organization. Young men who have been unsuccessful in securing work are aided both by constructive advice and by financial aid. Many boys have obtained permanent paying positions through the tireless work of Miss Parsons and the agency.

Food, clothes, rent, medical and dental services are rendered by the agency in certain cases. Families have been held together during distressing times by the personal and efficiently humane efforts of Miss Parsons and her assistants. The agency renders valuable aid in many individual cases where a man may have been thrown out of work due to business conditions. Through the cooperative efforts of the agency many opportunities have been found for these unfortunate men and women and the encouraging facts in all of these cases is that once these people are back on their feet they almost always repay the agency for any financial aid they may have received.

The agency does a great deal of camp work with children in the summer and supplements this line of endeavor by supplying milk and food to a large number of Tubercular cases throughout the city. As a member of the Traveler's Aid Society the agency has been instrumental in helping many boys home from distant cities in which they have found themselves stranded.

The great humane work of the agency is becoming better known here in our city and Miss Parsons closed her talk with a request to all of the members for information on any cases where the Newton Welfare Bureau may be of any assistance, moral, physical or financial.

The meeting next week will be in charge of Past President Ernest Gibson during the absence of President Bill White and Vice Presidents Archie Bellinger and Walter Finlay who as delegates to the New England District Convention will be in Springfield.

Christian Science Lecture

ing God that you aren't happening!" Soon like a babe, she dropped off into a sweet sleep, and from that moment began the liberation. Within a short space of time she was whole. A miracle? No, the morning light of gratitude broke into the dark chamber of ignorance, and she awoke to find herself not a diseased mortal, but the joyous, free child of the King.

THERE IS NO DEFEAT

"And yet," says someone, "Christian Scientists have passed away. What do you say about that?" The Christian Scientist admits with regret but not discouragement, his failure to measure up to the Christ-ideal in all cases. He is, however, tremendously grateful for the progress already made; and he refuses to admit that those who have passed from sight clinging to the glorious facts of being have gone down to defeat. They must be nearer the complete sense of dominion over evil by reason of each step Spiritward taken here; while those seemingly left behind experience a comforting and peace the world cannot comprehend, in the realization that God's children are not separated, no matter what sense-testimony argues, and that the loving Father-Mother of all and His glorious family of undying ideas, are now rejoicing in an eternity of bliss together. More and more are Christian Scientists learning to look the so-called "last enemy" in the face and be undismayed thereby. Again and again is it being conquered, and more and more is its sting being removed. "Behold," said the Master, "I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you"! And our beloved Leader has given us a wonderful correlative statement in a letter which she wrote to a student, which was quoted in The Christian Science Journal of August, 1912. "Did you but know the sublimity of your hope; the infinite capacity of your being; the grandeur of your outlook, you would let error kill itself. Error comes to you for life, and you give it all the life it has." Here then is the clarion call to all students of Christian Science to take their stand with God, everlasting Life, and refuse to admit into their mental homes the terrorizing suggestions of the Adam-dream. Refuse to be stampeded. Refuse to be dismayed. Refuse to give evil life. Rejoice that we are learning that suggestion and all evil are just being brought to the surface by Truth, to be relegated to their native nothingness.

"AWAKE, THOU THAT SLEEPEST"

Someone may say: "But I have been striving so long, and yet do not seem able to gain this spiritual view." Yes, some persons do seem to be heavier sleepers than others, and so require more time to be awakened; but this should furnish no excuse for self-condemnation or discouragement. As a child, whenever I was ill and had a fever, even though such experiences were years apart I would have this nightmare: I would seem to be picked up by a mighty hand and carried out over the sea, farther and farther from the shore, never knowing at what moment I would be dropped into the depths. The picture was so terrifying that invariably I would cry aloud in my sleep. This would bring my mother speedily to my side; and then, right through the awful dream-pictures and long before they faded from thought, I would hear my mother's voice saying, "Why, little son, I am here—mother is right here! everything is all right; see, it was only a dream!" And oh, such a wave of gratitude would sweep over me. And while the waking was not always speedily accomplished, there was nevertheless the blessed dawning sense that the unhappy vision was not true and that the mother was right there. And now to you and to me in the midst of our Adam-dream of sickness, of heartache, of fear, of limitation, and of ignorance sounds the voice of the Father-Mother God, saying gently: "Fear thou not, for I am with thee. Thou art my beloved child in whom I am well pleased. All is good! Awake, thou that sleepest!" What if the awakening does seem slow? Thank God we have heard that materiality with its ills and woes does not constitute the truth of being; and are we being truly grateful for that? It is well to realize that gratitude is the sure symptom of an awakening; but ingratitude, impatience, and discouragement can mean only a prolonged slumber.

CONCLUSION

To earth's material dreamers, to the dream-troubled nations, Christian Science, the liberator of mankind, echoes this clarion call of Scripture: "Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: . . . Shake thyself from the dust; . . . Loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion. . . . Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem" . . . "for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth"!

Central Club To Open Season With Science Talk

The Central Club of the Central Congregationl Church at Newtonville begins its 1937-38 season on Monday night, October 4.

Mr. George B. Rowlings, the new president of the club, has announced a very ambitious program for the coming year which should be of great interest not only to the members of the club but to the community at large. It is planned to have as speakers at the regular monthly meetings men of prominence in their professions, who will speak upon a wide range of subjects of general interest. Day Jr. High School

The first regular assembly of the school year took place on Friday, September 24th. The school orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Frank Tanner made its first appearance. Janet McEwan as chairman of the assembly introduced the following ninth grade girls who sang: Alice Birmingham, Phyllis Dodge, Genivive Cupoli, Marilyn Fickett, Marjorie Gregoire, Alice Kelley, Blanche Kennedy, Georgia Leonard, Jeanne Linberg, Thada Thornton, Elena Visco, and Betty Waterhouse. Miss Hart trained and conducted the girls while Miss Hinckley accompanied them on the piano. Janet McEwan then presented Mr. Lockman and the Southland Singers, a double quartet of southern singers, who entertained with three groups of songs and negro spirituals.

The school is very busy with the customary fall activities in addition to the regular classes. The audiometer tests, which are given to every pupil in the school, were managed by Miss Seale on Wednesday, Thursday and Monday. The medical examinations are also well under way. These examinations are made under the guidance of Dr. Chope with Dr. Paul, and Dr. Glendy assisting him.

Miss Lougee has inaugurated the Golf and Games Club this year. The members of the club will be allowed to spend their club period and the res tof the afternoon at the Albemarle Golf Course whenever the weather permits, if they have completed their school obligations. At present the club consists of the following pupils: Joseph Beatty, Robert Beatty, Thomas Kelly, Albert LoChiatto, Joseph Tedesco, and Charles Kilgore of the ninth grade. Maxwell Jonah, Charles McDonald, Lincoln White and Robert Stackhouse of the eighth grade; and Francis Bova, Albert Cavanaugh, James Gerraughty of the seventh grade.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

The first boys' soccer game of the fall term was won by Room 118. The goal was made by August Avantaggio. The ninth grade girls played the eighth grade girls on Thursday, Sept. 23. Ann Nardone and Sally West of the ninth grade scored three points and two points, respectively. Audrey Fitzgerald is captain of the ninth grade team and Barbara Belloit of the eighth grade team.

Dr. Samuel Lindsay of Brookline was the speaker at the Friday morning assembly. His subject was "Current Events."

Club activities are under way in all grades. The following officers have been elected: Art—president, Edgar Burkhardt; vice-president, Paul Black; secretary, Donald Craig; Dramatic—(grade nine) president, Audrey Fitzgerald; secretary, Sally West; Homecraft — president, Nancy Loveland; vice-president, Barbara Moorhead; secretary, Doris Perkins; treasurer, Dorothy Totten; Social — president, Robert Walker; vice-president, Rockwood Smythe; secretary, Sheldon Martines; treasurer, George Pierce; Personality—president, Bernice Fishman; vice-president, Barbara Belloit; secretary-treasurer, Betty Rogers; Science — president, Sanford Clark; vice-president, Richard Buswell; secretary, Alexander Wilson; treasurer, Henry Wilson; Sports—(seventh and eighth grades) president, Leo Baldwin; secretary, Robert Whelan; Typewriting — president, James Francis; vice-president, John Nolan; secretary-treasurer, Irene Murphy.

"Stella Dallas" Heads Program At Newton Paramount

That "Stella Dallas," which is booked at the Paramount Theatre for 4 days starting Sunday, will be one of the outstanding pictures of the current season is evidenced from advance reports which hail it as one of the most poignantly dramatic pictures ever to be screened.

It is from the famous novel by Olive Higgins Prouty. The screen play was written by Sarah Mason and Victor Heerman. King Vidor, who made "Street Scene" for Mr. Goldwyn, directed.

Barbara Stanwyck in the title role registers one of the greatest triumphs in her career. John Boles heads the distinguished supporting cast which includes such personalties as Anne Shirley, Alan Hale, Al Shean, Barbara O'Neil, and Tim Holt.

Of the entire group of massive productions which Mr. Goldwyn has scheduled for the new season, which include such pictures as "Dead End," "The Goldwyn Follies," "The Adventures of Marco Polo," etc., he elected to launch his program with "Stella Dallas," which he confidently believes will not only establish new records at the box office, but will elevate Barbara Stanwyck, John Boles and Anne Shirley to new heights of stardom.

The co-feature on this program is Guy Kibbee in "The Big Shot" with Cora Witherspoon and that bright young screen newcomer, Dorothy Moore.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday brings to the screen that zestful new romantic comedy, "It's All Yours" co-starring Madeleine Carroll and Francis Lederer. Also on this program is the picture "Devil Is Driving," a sparkly vivid drama, boldly pictured against the background of the horror of highway accidents. "Devil Is Driving" sounds the Death Knell for traffic violators and is being shown as part of a Nation-wide Safe Driving Campaign.

CAPITOL THEATRE, ALLSTON

"Topper" which opens at the Capitol Theatre, Allston, for the entire week of Friday, October 1st, is presented as one of the top comedies of the season. Based on the superb whimsy of the screen play, adapted from Thorne Smith's sensational novel, "Topper," the brilliant talent of the principals provide uproarious fun and fast moving action from the opening scene until the final fade-out.

Constance Bennett and Cary Grant are presented as delightfully gay but rollicking madcap ghosts who involve Roland Young in astounding adventures and ribald escapades in their conception of doing a "good deed" in changing the normal life of a sedate bank president in order that they can escape a spiritual prison. Billie Burke, Alan Mowbray, Eugene Pallette and others give admirable support to the co-stars.

As a co-feature the management will present a dramatic story of love and tense emotions in the life of a great metropolitan hospital, "Between Two Women", with Franchot Tone, Maureen O'Sullivan and Virginia Bruce in the leading roles. In the supporting cast are Cliff Edwards, Helen Troy, Charlie Grapewin, Grace Ford, June Clayworth and Hugh Marlowe.

Are the Suburbs of Boston Musical?

The Boston Transcript at one time referred to Alumnae Hall, Wellesley College as a "temple of music." Formally opened as such a "temple" in 1926 by the Boston Symphony Orchestra, it has introduced to college and suburban audiences a great number of the artists of today who have an international reputation. Paderewski, Lotte Lehman, Flagstad, Smeterlin, Kipnis, Schnabel, Lawrence Tibbett, the Cleveland Orchestra and many others have been heard. Last season over forty Boston suburbs were represented among ticket-holders, and the number of music-lovers from Newton, Waban, Wellesley Hills, Natick, coming as far away from Wellesley as Lawrence, Dover, N. H., and Newport, R. I. is noticeably large.

Dr. Macdougall, manager of the concerts since 1900, has interesting recollections of the artists who have delighted the many audiences; tales could be told of their adventures, musical and non-musical. For example: Hilde Konetzni, who is a member of the Wagnerian Festival Singers giving the concert on Oct. 21 made her first entree into public favor as a champion swimmer, holding the women's championship of Austria for four years. Last season, while filling an engagement at the Prague opera she saved an old woman from drowning in the Moldau. Konetzni was walking on the bank of the river when she saw a little boat spin around and overturn; she threw off her coat, plunged into the water fully clothed, and towed the unfortunate woman to the shore. Then, within a few hours she sang the role of Sieglinde in the opera house.

Music-lovers are referred to the advertising columns for particulars of the Wellesley concerts.

97 Tested at Pre-School Health Con.

The first session of the preschool health conferences under the direction of the Newton Health Department was held last week at the West Newton library under the direction of Dr. Harold Chope, Newton health officer. Ninety-seven children were given physical examinations, including forty-five babies who were formerly under the care of the Newton District Nursing Association. Mrs. Lewis Arnold, president of the association, aided in sponsoring the project. Also assisting were Hilga Nelson, supervisor of the District Nursing Association, and Mary Tedesco, district nurse at West Newton. A staff of physicians was in charge of the examinations, and at the conclusion of the tests, a group of Newton Hospital staff doctors made a study of ways to remedy defects revealed. Several of the children were found to have serious heart defects, and about 50 per cent needed dental treatment. A group of women volunteers, in charge of Mrs. Daniel Needham, assisted by providing transportation for the children and their mothers.

NEWTON BEATS CANTABS IN SEASON'S FIRST GAME

The Newton High School football eleven opened its 1937 season auspiciously last Saturday afternoon by trouncing the Cambridge Latin gridders, 20-7 at the Dickinson Stadium. Although Coach Sanborn's outfit played smoothly and strongly they were aided in their victory by visiting fumbles. Fred Fisher, Johnny Fitzgerald and Guido Castoldi, three backs, were the Garden City stars. Each scored a touchdown with that of Castoldi for the final score the most spectacular following a 53 yard run off tackle. Fitzgerald's touchdown came on a wide end sweep from the 27-yard line while that of Fisher was on a 5-yard plunge following a 70-yard advance. Castoldi kicked two out of three tries for the point after touchdown.

The Cantabs lone tally came in the second session to tie the score on a short pass to the six-yard line with Buckley going over and Boudreau converting the point.

The Cantabs received the kickoff after acting Captain Ted Duffy of Newton lost the call on the toss of the coin. Failing to gain the visitors kicked to the Newton 30-yard line. The Newton backs, with a fast charging line to open up for them steadily ground out yardage with Fisher and Castoldi doing most of the carrying. A series of five first downs put Newton on the Cantabs five-yard line from which point Fisher plunged through for the initial score. Castoldi's toe scored the seventh point.

The Cantabs failed to get going until after the second period opened. From their own 43-yard line they moved to the Newton 13-yard line. Their main ground-gaining plays were passes from Boudreau to Buckley. Another pass play saw Buckley going over with Boudreau drop kicking the tying point. The half ended with neither side threatening.

Newton came out full of grim determination and pep for the second half. Receiving the kickoff they began another advance. A number of plays brought them to the Cantabs 27-yard line. A Castoldi to Fitzgerald pass ate up about twenty yards in this march. On the next play Fitzgerald swept around left end and outran the Cantab secondary to the corner of the field for touchdown number two. Again Castoldi converted.

The ensuing kickoff went to Cambridge deep in their own territory and failing to gain they kicked. Boudreau's punt was taken by Fitzgerald who made a pretty run to the Newton 47. On the next play Castoldi started on an apparent run around right end behind some good interference. With a huge hole opened up at tackle he cut abruptly in and raced 53 yards to the goal without a hostile hand being placed upon him. His try for the point following was blocked.

Although neither team failed to score again Cambridge threatened several times. With an eye to giving his squad experience Coach Sanborn used many substitutes who successfully protected the margin of victory. Before the game the Newton cheering section gave a cheer for Captain-elect Bill Johnston who died last June.

LOCAL YOUTH TO START FOR LEHIGH IN B. U. TILT

When the Engineers of Lehigh University invade Fenway Park on Saturday to meet the Terriers of Boston University, Walter Blackler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Blackler, of 241 Austin st., West Newton will be the starting left halfback.

Coach Glenn Harmeson of the Brown and White eleven will place his hopes for the first win of the season upon Blackler's shoulders. The former Newton High and Dean Academy gridder was the only Lehigh player to score a touchdown against the Rough Riders of Case Institute in the opening of the 1937 campaign last Saturday.

Blackler holds the distinction of being the only Massachusetts player on the squad, and will be plugging for the Engineers in familiar territory to him. In addition, the Newton senior is the only father on the squad of thirty-eight players, although Paul S. Woodring, Catasauqua, Pa., quarterback, is the other member of the duet. Blackler, majoring in Mechanical Engineering, is the proud father of an eighteen months old son.

NEWTON ELEVEN AT FULL STRENGTH FOR BIG GAME

The Newton high school eleven will be at full strength tomorrow when they visit Arlington in their first away from home game of the season. After a successful opening of the season against Cambrige Latin last Saturday the orange and black will make a strenuous effort to keep its slate clean by taking the measure of the Spyponders. Coach Sanborn's squad came through their initial conflict without injury, mute testimony to the condition efforts of Trainer Frank Simmons. In addition Paul Robey, reserve end on the 1936 squad, has become eligible and will doubtless see service against Arlington. He has been transferred to the backfield squad and is developing into a hard-driving ballcarrier who should gain lonsiderable yardage.

Arlington has played two games, defeating Winchester in its opener by a 6 to 2 score and losing to Leominster last week in a 7 to 0 affair. Coach Ostergren's lads have always been a tough nut for Newton to crack and this year shoul be no exception. The Arlingtonites will show the orange and black more potent offense than the Cantabs possess and will also provide a stiffer defense. Bob Anderson, veteran Arlington tackle, is lost to the squad for the season having undergone an emergency appendicitis operation recently. His loss has weakened Arlington somewhat but the Arlington mentor has several reserves who are being groomed to fill his shoes.

Against the Cantabs the Newton team used but four plays and one pass giving the Arlington scouts little to look at from an offensive angle. The Newton repertoire of plays has been increased this week and Newton supporters should see a more varied attack if such is found necessary. Several of the second string Newton linemen are coming along fast and within a few more days may be giving the socalled regulars a close race for starting berths. These same regulars will be forced to put forth their best efforts against the Spyponders tomorrow in order to hold their positions. Tomorrow's line-up will again find the backfield composed of Stan Sohaski at quarter, Johnny Fitzgerald and Fred Fisher at the halfback berths and Guido Castoldi in the fullback position. Bob Liming will be at center, flanked by Ted Duffy and Earl Colvin at the guards and Bob Weldon and Steve Balkus in the tackle berths. Ernie Collantonio and Bob Kleien again get the call on the wings. Tomorrow's game will be called at 2:30 at the Arlington High field. Once past the Arlington game and with another victory under their belts the Newton squad will get ready for the Everett invasion a week from tomorrow.

More Expense For Oak Hill Bus

the complaint to the school superintendent.

Supt. Warren states that when the new street will have been built from Parker st. to the Oak Hill School, the extra bus will not be required. The necessity of the street was emphasized by the school committee some months ago. No definite action was taken until the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen, when on recommendation of the Mayor an appropriation of $70,000 was made to finance the building of an 80 foot boulevard from Parker st. to the school. Work on this avenue has just started.

Reception For Legion Guards

The Newton Legion Guards, drill team of Newton Post 48, American Legion, were tendered a reception at the high school auditorium on last Saturday night. The team won first prize in the drill competition at the National Convention of the Legion in New York on Sept. 20. Roy Edwards, an honorary member of Newton Post, A. L., was chairman of the reception. About 500 persons were present. Among the speakers were Mayor Childs, Raymond McAvoy, State Commander of the A. L.; John J. Maguire, State Vice-Commander; John H. Walsh, Past State Commander; Leon Mayer, Commander of Newton Post; Sherman Irving, Commander-Elect; Arthur W. Hollis and James P. Gallagher. The band of Newton Post played several selections and the drill team gave an exhibition of marching evolutions. Next Sunday the drill team and band will take part in the parade at Brookline, held in connection with the sesqui-centennial of the Constitution.

Newton Safety Council Meets

A meeting of the members of the Newton Safety Council was held on Thursday night at police headquarters, West Newton. Over 50 were present. General Daniel Needham, chairman of the council, presided, and reports were made by the chairmen of the various sub-committees. It was voted, on motion of Richard Dunn, vice-chairman of the council, to recommend to Mayor Childs that a traffic division be organized in the police department, and that a sergeant, patrolman and clerk be assigned to that division. Dunn advocated the name of Sergeant Richard Bannon as supervisor of the proposed new division. Bannon recently enrolled in the two weeks course on traffic control conducted by the Harvard College Bureau of Traffic Research. It was also voted to recommend to the Mayor that side-cars be purchased for the police motorcycles and that additional motorcycles be obtained. This would enable the motorcycle officers to continue their work during the winter months, and give them safer conditions. The eight motorcycle officers have been using only four motorcycles, necessitating the use of these vehicles by both day and night patrols.

General Needham announced that the Newton Council will co-operate with the State Safety Council in the safety drive which will be conducted this month and the following two months. Among the plans for the campaign in Newton are educational work for school children, talks to adult organizations, newspaper publicity and a parade which will display wrecked cars.

Truck Hits Man At Newton Centre

Adams Sterling, 61, of Murray Hill rd., Cambridge, was hit by a truck driven by Ernest D'Annunzio of 148 Pine st., West Newton, as he was crossing Commonwealth ave. near Hobart rd., Newton Centre, on Wednesday. He received cuts and bruises on his head and body and was taken to the Newton Hospital. Sterling had alighted from a bus and was crossing the street to board another bus when the accident occurred.

Tomato, or "Love Apple," Also "Apple of Morocco"

When the Spaniards invaded Peru they found the natives eating a small pear-shaped fruit growing on plants as tall as dwarf trees. When later they saw plants in Mexico bearing the same fruit, they did not connect the Peruvian discovery with the fruits which the Aztecs of Mexico called "Tomatl."

In process of time seeds of this "tomatl" grown in Spain found their way to Morocco, where they first became known as the "apple of Morocco." There the Italians found it and translated this term into "Pomo dei Mori." When it finally reached France it became Pomme d'Amour. Thus did our English cousins arrive at the term "love apple" now used for the tomato in various languages.

The earliest colonists to reach this continent brought seeds with them, among them those of love apples, which in those days were cherished more for the beauty of their fruit than their service as a food. Not until the beginning of the Nineteenth century did the tomato descend from its ornamental position among the posies to its lowly place in the vegetable garden.

The real history of the tomato as an economic factor starts around 1847, states a writer in the New York World-Telegram. It was then that the pioneer tomato grower of this country, A. W. Livingston, of Ohio, started to take the tomato seriously. What he found was a pin cushion shaped fruit, more or less hollow, tough and full of acid juice. The evolution of the tomato forms a fascinating chapter in the history of American vegetables.

DOG NOTES

by PETER BOGGS

How old do dogs live to be? I don't know just what the record is, but Miss Betty Krueger of Berlin, Germany, claims that her poodle is 37 years old. Poodles on the average seem to live longer than most other breeds, many in this country having reached 20 years of age. The oldest authenticated age of any dog in this country is 22 years and 3 months. "Topsy," a registered Collie died in Massachusetts in 1933 after attaining this ripe old age.

On a certain street in Knoxville, Tenn., a fox-terrier slowly wended his way on the sidewalk along the shopping district. Suddenly he stopped in front of a display window, and no amount of coaxing would make him move. A wax figure of a lady dressed with a bright blue dress was behind the glass. Evidently it resembled the dog's mistress so much that the dog kept vigil. Many people think that a dog only recognizes people by their sense of smell. This is wrong, a dog's eyesight is often very keen and they can usually distinguish objects at great distances.

When one buys a dog and becomes its master he has bought true love and devotion. A man may be the worst scoundrel in the eyes of his fellow men, but to his dog he is the best person in the world.

If you have a new puppy in your home don't handle it too much. It is generally true that the average puppy is handled altogether too much, especially in a home where there are children. They would not think of harming the little pup for the world, but carting it around in a doll carriage or cart, and feeding it little morsels of this and that may be doing the pup's well being.

Allow the pup to exercise just as much as he desires to, but when he wants to lie quietly and sleep allow him to do so. He will get all the exercise he needs by himself even if he has to chew up your best hat or shoe. Oh yes, give him an old shoe to chew on, he will soon learn which is his and which is one of your best ones.

Perhaps you read about "Tim" a three year old Irish Setter, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Harding of Goshen, N. Y., who died of a broken heart. Tim was placed in a boarding kennel while his owners spent a three weeks' vacation in Florida. He refused to eat all food placed before him and when the Hardings returned the dog wagged his tail weakly, blinked his eyes happily, tottered to greet them and slumped to the floor dead.

Robert Allen and Sandy McPherson, age 7 and 8, started out to play and to tramp through the "Rim of the World Park" located in the San Bernardino mountains in California. A stray Cocker Spaniel soon joined them. Six hours later the barking of the little dog led rescuers to the boys lost in the snow covered canyons. The boys were up to their waists in a snowdrift too exhausted to move, the dog was sitting near by.

Because the Legislature last year passed a law which compels retail stores to close on Columbus Day, between the hours of 7 a. m. to 1 p. m., only such retail stores as are permitted to keep open on Sundays, can be opened next Tuesday, October 12. Stores in Newton which usually close on Wednesday afternoons will be open next Wednesday afternoon because of having been closed on Tuesday, October 12.

Cashman To Run For Alderman

George W. Cashman of 204 Eliot st., Newton Upper Falls has announced that he will be a candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 5. Cashman opposed Alderman Temperley for this office two years ago, but was defeated. He is a graduate of Boston University Law School and has a law office at 259 Walnut st., Newtonville.

Judge Palmer Resigns Position

Judge Joseph N. Palmér of 63 Lombard st., Newton, for 40 years a special justice at the Roxbury Municipal Court tendered his resignation to Governor Hurley on Tuesday. In accepting the resignation, the Governor wrote the following letter:

"It is with genuine regret that I accept this day your resignation as Special Justice of the Municipal Court of the Roxbury District of the City of Boston.

"Your record as a humane, intelligent and learned justice, covering a period of over forty years, prompts the citizens of the Commonwealth to join me in full appreciation of the splendid service to our beloved State.

"God grant you an enjoyable rest and health."

Governor.

Capture Two Young Burglars

During the past three weeks fourteen burglaries have occurred in Newton, most of them apparently having been committed by the same man or gang, as the methods used have been the same in the majority of residences entered. The breaks were made in houses temporarily unoccupied and entrance was effected by climbing porches and forcing second story windows. Much of the loot taken was of slight value, although many valuable articles were also stolen. Some of the burglaries have been solved by the capture in Boston on Tuesday of George R. Milligan, 19, of 21 Cottage pl., West Newton. He was picked up by Boston police as he was trying to dispose of a Gladstone bag at Cornhill st. The bag contained some clothing. Following Milligan's arrest, Captain Goode and Lieut. Crowley of the Newton detective staff, on Wednesday, arrested Carlo Pintabona, 17, of Underwood Park, West Newton. The pair are alleged to have admitted having been involved in three burglaries in Newton and two in Waltham. Newton police believe the porch burglar

To Raze Houses For Parking Lot At Newton Corner

The much needed parking space at Newton Corner which has been sought for years by merchants in that district, will soon become a reality, according to present plans. The parking space will, if negotiations with the city go through, be located on land owned by the R. C. Taylor estate at Pearl Court, and the rear of Bacon Block, Newton. It contains about 28,000 square feet and will provide parking for between 150 and 200 cars. There are seven old structures on the property and six of these will be razed. The buildings to be torn down contain fourteen tenements. This week the tenants were given 30 days' notice to move.

For many years there has been great need of parking space at Newton Corner, and the decadence of that section as a shopping centre has been largely attributed to lack of parking space. The land owner by the Taylor estate at Pearl court has been frequently mentioned as a logical site for the parking area. For a number of months Phillips Byfield, agent of the Taylor estate in Newton, has been negotiating with Mayor Childs and City Solicitor Bartlett on this matter. It was understood that the city, in return for the use of the land as a public parking area, would rebate the taxes which would ordinarily be assessed on the land. The matter was brought before the Board of Aldermen and referred to the Public Works Committee at the meeting on Monday night. Some of the members of the Board of Aldermen are of the opinion that the city should not assume control over the proposed parking area, but that Newton Corner merchants should co-operate in this matter with the Taylor estate.

Dart Returned To State Prison

Wilfred Dart, 34, formerly of Bacon st., Newton, who was arrested in Boston on September 25 for participating in the robbery of a number of watches from the E. B. Horn jewelry store on Washington st., Boston, was brought before the Governor and the Executive Council last Friday evening, and ordered, by vote of the Council, to be returned to State Prison to continue a life sentence. Several witnesses testified before the Council that they had seen Dart hurl a brick through a window at the jewelry store early on the morning of September 25. Another man who was with Dart grabbed nine watches from the window. Both robbers were caught by Boston police within a few minutes after the robbery had been committed.

On the afternoon of June 13, 1931, Dart shot and fatally wounded Charles Bernard of Jamaica Plain, as the latter was seated in an automobile on Pearl st., near Jackson rd., Newton. Dart had been seated in the car with Bernard, and was alighting from the automobile when he pulled the gun and shot the Jamaica Plain man. Dart made his escape and was captured some months later by Newton police in Hingham. On November 6, 1931 Dart was found guilty of second degree murder in Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge and sentenced to a life term in State Prison. On December 24, 1936, Dart was one of several long term criminals, including murderers, who received Christmas present pardons or paroles from Governor James M. Curley and a majority of the then Executive Council. Dart had served but 5 years of his life sentence when he was freed.

The action taken by Governor Hurley and his council last Friday is one that had been rarely resorted to in the history of this State. Maurice Winslow, superintendent of the Norfolk Prison Colony, appeared before the Council and asked that Dart's pardon be revoked because he had violated his parole conditions.

Slain Policemen's Widows' Pensions

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night voted to grant annuities to the widows of Patrolmen Henry Bell and Lawrence Murphy of the Newton police, who were fatally shot on August 21 by Edward Simpson. Mrs. Bell will receive a yearly pension of $1000. Mrs. Murphy will receive an annual pension of $1000, and in addition $200 for each of her four children until they reach the age of 18.

Alderman Clarence C. Colby, Candidate for Mayor, Pledges Co-Operation In City Affairs

Alderman-at-Large From Ward 7 for Past Three Years Claims Need for New Viewpoint

At the annual meeting of the Braeburn Club on Wednesday night Clarence C. Colby of 31 Farlow rd., Newton, announced that he will be a candidate for Mayor at the city election to be held on December 7. Mr. Colby is serving his third year as an Alderman-at-Large from Ward 7. In announcing his candidacy Mr. Colby makes the following statement:

To the Citizens of Newton:

In the last twenty-four years there have been but two men elected Mayor of Newton. One of these carried the burden of the six most difficult years of the recent depression. The other with the exception of these six depression years, has held the office since the outbreak of the World War in Europe. In a long term of service in the same position, one's thoughts, actions and reactions cannot fail to become crystalized, and it is natural to seek the answers to pressing problems from past experience rather than in analysis and study of present conditions. The tendency is to rely more on one's own judgment and less on the opinion of others.

The Newton of today is vastly different from the Newton of a quarter of a century ago—the population has more than doubled and has greatly changed, the annual budget has risen until it exceeds five million of dollars, and with the political and social development of the last six years, we are living under new conditions and faced with new problems. We are in fact entering upon a readjustment period which needs the fullest co-operation of all classes of our citizens and the combined thought of our community, to guide us through.

With this idea in mind it may well be in the city's interest that a new executive be chosen at the coming election in December and that a fresh viewpoint and new energy be focused upon the city's affairs.

For some months many friends of mine and men conversant with conditions in the city with whom I have come in contact through my service upon the Board of Aldermen, have urged me to become a candidate for Mayor. The acceptance of such a responsibility is not a simple matter to one who is cognizant of the work and sacrifice involved. I have delayed my decision for many months with the

Another Woman-Planned Home
Open for Inspection in the Cliff Estates
Monadnock and Edmands Rds., Wellesley Hills

THE lure of space . . . the desire of moderns to get away from the crowd . . . to breathe . . . to play . . . to go truly rural . . . has inspired BRODRICK BROS. to set their newest woman-planned home on a spacious corner lot of one and one-quarter acres in the beautiful and fashionable Cliff Estates.

Its size and splendor are matched by other Brodrick-built homes in the vicinity and in its present setting it is equally as impressive as was the original country house in Kent, England, from which it was sketched.

In the foreground, giant oaks rise shapely and majestic, their leafy branches reflected in the aquamarine blue of the pool, which with goldfish swishing through it and flowers mirrored in it, makes such a delightful picture in the centre of the sunken garden.

The cloistered porch at the rear fosters that very human desire for solitude. On one side its arches frame a view of virgin forest just a few hundred feet away and on the other, a rolling hillock with native rock peeping through to inspire the devotee of rock gardens to make this sweep of green lawn even more picturesque.

But . . . step inside this home, for it is here that the woman who designed it has given free rein to her flare for color and detail.

Like the great hall in medieval houses, the living room has been panelled from floor to ceiling with the finest oak carved in linen-fold effect to frame archways and the large studio windows. A stone mantel and hand-carved radiator grilles add interest to the decor.

A connoisseur of woods would be captivated by the beauty of the walnut panelling in the library. Across a corner, a hand-wrought, copper-hooded fireplace focuses the interest.

The size of the dining room suggests entertaining on a lavish scale and a breakfast snack should taste better in the unique morning room, for it looks across the motor-court, through the gateway into the garden beyond.

Monel metal gleams in the butler's room and ultra modern kitchen, and the stove is a modern miracle of chromium and porcelain, its efficiency entirely concealed by its beauty.

On the second floor there are five master bedrooms, two dressing rooms, four master baths and a linen room; over the garage, a servants' suite of three rooms and bath; on the third floor a Penthouse for Ping Pong, Billiards, etc. and bunks for the Juniors and their guests.

Now, swing down the gangplank to the basement where the pleasure yacht "Sans Souci" is moored awaiting the "All Aboard" signal when the owner of this home plays "Captain" and invites his guests on a moonlight cruise.

Not to mention the practical things would be a serious omission when they include such important features as a General Electric Oil Furnace; Capital Rock Wool insulation; the finest quartered oak floors; a laundry chute, incinerator, two lavatories and a cedar sapling fence around the service yard.

In fact, it is your own "castle of dreams," the one you planned but never dared to build because you dreaded the worry and uncertainty of planning it. We have designed it for you and placed it in a setting where even the neighbors are acceptable, however discriminating you may be regarding social contacts. THE LAST ANNUAL ELECTION IN NEWTON?

The announcement this week of the first mayoralty candidate brings to the attention of the voters the realization that the forthcoming city election is but a little more than two months away. As the candidates have about six more weeks before nomination papers must be filed it will be uncertain for some time just who the candidates may be. However, from various reports and rumors being circulated, it seems evident that there will be but a very few, if any, candidates unopposed for the offices on the ballot,—mayor, aldermen or school committee.

This is as it should be for the sake of good government. Contests for political offices always tend to increase the interest of the electorate and thus induce a larger percentage of registered voters to exercise their right of franchise. The greater the percentage of votes cast the lesser the possibility of minority candidates being elected. In our form of democratic government one of its greatest weaknesses has been the indifference of the voters in casting their ballots and thereby inviting such minority rule. The city of Newton needs capable and efficient men in elected positions. There are many such living among us. Yet they will not consent to become candidates knowing that their own friends and neighbors are among the indifferent voters of the past.

As an aid to the furtherance of good government in Newton the voters at the coming city election will also be asked by referendum to adopt or reject the biennial system of elections here. In the coming two months every voter should become acquainted with the provisions of this system. Incidentally the adoption of the system will mean that the coming election will be the last annual election and the last election held in December in Newton.

HOME OWNERS' WEEK

The coming week is known as Home Owners' Week. The advance of modern civilization has not only provided many improvements, conveniences, and appliances for the home, but it has also provided a volume of building and business which makes a home more readily accessible to the average home-seeker. It is comparatively far easier to own a home today than it was a few decades ago. In most banks interested families will find complete information about home-owning opportunities in their neighborhood brought up to the minute in co-operation with a state-wide program along these lines. Many stores, utility organizations, and others concerned with the home and home furnishings have services and advisers available for the purpose of aiding the home-loving person.

Home building in Massachusetts during the past seven years has shown an almost constant growth and is approximately sixty per cent more active than in 1930. Costs have increased considerably in the past twelve months, although the greater part of this increase is due to additional equipment now considered a necessity in the modern home.

During the so-called era of prosperity and the speculative period real estate, as well as other assets, was generally rated far and above its normal or even proper value. With the depression came a sudden deflation of values. Real estate activity failed to continue through the scarcity of money and the continuance of high assessments and taxes. Although the dissatisfaction over high taxes will continue for some time, real estate today still remains as one of the soundest of investments. And today it is considerably less expensive to finance the purchase of a home through liberal direct-reduction mortgages over periods up to twenty years at lower interest charges than for years. Financial institutions are seeking good property in which to place available funds. The opportunity is at hand. If you are interested in owning your own home and your prospects for the future are reasonably sound the opportunity should not be passed by.

COLUMBUS DAY

Nearly four and a half centuries ago Christopher Columbus discovered America. Setting out on a commercial venture to find a new trade route around the world his discovery of the new continent gave added impetus to the advance of civilization. Pioneers of that day became the founders of the New World. Pioneers of a later day became the founders of this nation and leaders in its development as the leading nation of the world. Today there remains little space upon this earth that lies undiscovered or undeveloped. There are, however, countless pioneers delving into the thousands of interesting fields that the world of today has opened for us. In honoring Columbus let us keep in mind that men of humble parentage, such as he, may become the discoverers of these New Worlds of tomorrow.

Second Church To Hold Seven Special Services

There are hundreds of people in the City of Newton who do not find it convenient or possible to attend regular Sunday morning services. There are other hundreds who would eagerly welcome the opportunity of hearing distinguished preachers who very rarely, if ever, speak in pulpits of Newton churches.

During this coming year, the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, desiring to meet this need and eager to discover if the people of Newton will give a genuine welcome to such preachers, has planned a series of seven evening services,—one service to be held each month on a Sunday evening. There are to be three guest preachers, men who are among the most influential Protestant clergymen in this country. Their promised presence in Newton will give to all interested people an opportunity to hear exceedingly strong men. The fourth preaching service will be taken by the Rev. Boynton Merrill, D. D., minister of The Second Church. The other evening services will be without preaching, for the committee in charge believes that there is a place for services for stirring and beautiful music to make itis contribution. The services will be held at 8 o'clock.

Rev. James Gordon Gilkey, D.D. of the South Congregational Church in Springfield will speak at the first of these services on October 31st. Dr. Gilkey's ministry at Springfield has been marked with amazing success. His many books are full of practical helps and great inspiration. He is in wide demand as a lecturer and preacher and the committee feels exceedingly fortunate in securing him to open the series of services.

The second service on November 28th will feature the Chancel Choir with Walter H. Kidder as guest artist. The choir will sing the oratorio, "The Holy City."

On December 12th the Highland Glee Club will usher in the Christmas season with a concert of Christmas music. Rev. Dr. Merrill will preach at the January 23rd service. Dean Charles R. Brown, D.D., for many years leader of the Yale Divinity School, will come for the February 20th service. Dr. Henry Sloan Coffin, president of Union Theological Seminary in New York will preach on the evening of March 27th and the concluding service on Palm Sunday evening, April 10th, will feature a pageant tracing the march of the Christian Church through the centuries.

Canoeist's Club Girls Plan October Dance Program

The Associate Membership of the Canoeists' Recreation Club, headed by Councillor Virginia Corner of Newton, have planned a series of dances for the month of October to be held Friday evenings at the club, the former Newton Boat Clubhouse at Riverside Depot, Auburndale.

The October Frolic will be held this evening. The committee is headed by Marjorie Murphy of Brighton, assisted by Virginia Corner of Newton, Robert Severance of Newtonville, Ann Kenefick of Auburndale and James Holian of Brighton.

Next week the committee will present the Annual Barn Dance, one of the highlights in the fall calendar of the club. The Main Ballroom will be virtually turned into a farm yard scene with special decorations and contests to include Milk Drinking, Wood Sawing, Nail Driving, Hog Calling and Husband Calling.

On Friday evening, October 22nd, a Poverty Party will be held to be followed by the Annual Hallowe'en Party, Friday, October 29th.

Rotary Club

Robert Bittenbender, patrol leader of the Beaver Troop of the Norumbega Council of Boy Scouts, was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday noon at the Brae Burn Country Club. He told of many interesting experiences and incidents connected with his recent trip to the International Jamboree for Boy Scouts held in Holland. His impressions of the scouts of many of the fifty four nations represented there was of much interest to the members. The one word which was understood by scouts of all nations was "swap" and articles of various nature were objects of trade among them all. The group of scouts from Newton at the Jamboree were under the direction of Lyscom B. Bruce, Jr., a member of the club and former Boy Scout executive in Newton.

Sunbeam Chats

There's been a lot of whooping cough around the neighborhood lately. Mother saw a little girl get black in the face from coughing, she was losing her food and getting very thin. The doctor at the Well Baby Conference said many of the children were "developing complications," whatever that means. The district nurse said she did her best to prevent children from getting it, and some of them had had their own doctors give them "vaccine." Must be awful to cough like that. See you next week.

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

Annuity Refused To Mrs. Charlton

The Newton Board of Aldermen spent about two hours on Monday night arguing over the granting of an annuity to Mrs. Delphine Charlton, widow of Charles J. Charlton, a Newton fireman, who died on May 5th of this year. Charlton was 43 years of age, had served in the war as a member of the 101st Infantry, and had been a member of the fire department for 16 years. He was driver of Engine 8 at Nonantum and on April 19, 1934, sprained his left ankle when he alighted from the fire truck. He died from Berger's disease and his widow claims that the ankle injury caused her husband's death. A long conference in executive session preceded the open debate on this matter. Also considered in the conference and the subject of considerable debate was the question of granting a claim of $492 presented by Arthur McCarthy, also a member of the Newton fire department. McCarthy, a member of Engine 3 crew, was off duty for 6 months this year following an operation for appendicitis. He claimed the appendicitis was caused by a strain he received while pulling on a hose line at a fire.

In reporting on the Charlton claim, Alderman Rawson, chairman of the Claims Committee of the Aldermen, stated that during 1934 Charlton had been off duty a number of times because of the trouble with his ankle, but during 1936 he had worked more regularly. He explained that Mrs. Charlton is 44 years of age, has a life expectancy of 29 years, according to life insurance statistics, and the annuity would be $1000 yearly. In addition she has three children, one of whom was born after Mr. Charlton's death. Annuities of $200 yearly would have to be paid for each child until it reaches the age of 18, should the claim be granted. Mr. Rawson said that the Claims Committee held two hearings on the Charlton claim. At these hearings medical testimony was offered by Dr. Warren Marston, who was Charlton's physician; Dr. Louis Pilcher, and Dr. Kenneth Coonse, orthopedic expert on the Newton Hospital staff, who treated Charlton, and City Physician A. C. Cummings, who investigated the case.

Dr. Marston and Dr. Pilcher were present at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night and were asked questions by various members. Dr. Marston contended that the injury to Charlton's ankle resulted in Berger's disease which caused the fireman's death. Dr. Pilcher said that the cause of Berger's disease is unknown, but, the ankle injury might have been responsible. He would not state definitely that it was responsble. Dr. Coonse's testimony at the hearings was to the effect that he had never heard of Berger's disease resulting from an ankle injury, that both of Charlton's legs had become affected from the disease, and that he saw no connection between the ankle injury and the disease. The direct cause of Charlton's death was an embolism which followed an operation in an effort to overcome the disease.

Alderman McCabe, with Alderman Cronin of the Claims Committee, favored the granting of the claim. He argued that Dr. Marston's testimony should carry weight as he had been Charlton's physician for many years, and had thorough knowledge of the case. McCabe said that Dr. Cummings had never seen Charlton, and that Dr. Coonse was a witness paid by the city. Alderman Cronin said that two physicians had stated the injury might have caused the disease. When the vote was taken on the question the majority report of the Claims Committee was sustained 14 to 5. Those voting in the negative were Aldermen Barwise, Cronin, Fahey, McCabe and McKay.

On the claim of Arthur McCarthy, Chairman Rawson of the Claims Committee stated that the city had paid the petitioner for the three months' limit allowed for sick leave. He was then paid by the Firemen's Relief Association for the balance of the time he was absent from duty. Rawson said that the hospital report of McCarthy's case had made no reference to any injury received while the claimant was pulling the hose line. Alderman McCabe answered that because the applicant was so seriously ill, it could not be expected that he would mention the injury at the hospital. Dr. William O'Halloran, who had attended McCarthy, had testified that the injury received by the fireman had aggravated a chronic appendix trouble. Alderman McCabe asserted that if we expect the police and firemen of this city to do their duty, we must protect them. The McCarthy claim was refused by the Board. The vote was the same as on the Charlton matter; 14 sustaining the majority report of the Claims Committee and 5 opposing. Those voting in the negative were Aldermen Barwise, Colby, Fahey, Cronin and McCabe.

B & A Asks City To Pay For Roof

A claim has been presented against the city by the Boston & Albany railroad company. The railroad asks for $21.93 in payment for repairs on the roof of the Newton Centre railroad station. The roof was damaged by a power shovel which the Street Department used while resurfacing Union st. near the depot.

Another claim made against the city, according to the docket at the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen is one from Charlotte Tierney of Felchville, Natick. She states that the heel on one of her shoes caught on a defect in a sidewalk opposite 983 Chestnut st., Upper Falls. She fell and broke her eyeglasses, and tore her stockings. Miss Tierney also states that the fall caused her to have a headache, backache, and injuries to her right side and elbow.

NEWTON In The Past

Newton Republican, Oct. 9, 1875

Patrick Sullivan of Newton, who was shot a few weeks ago by Patrolman Hoyt, while the latter was arresting him, is dead. It was thought the shooting was the cause of his death. A post-mortem examination of the body demonstrates that he died of typhoid pneumonia. No bullet was found in his body.

The concrete sidewalks laid this year are, in most cases, an improvement over those laid last year. Many of the walks put down then are still very soft. For months they were so as to be tracked into houses to the great annoyance of the tidy housewife, whose soiled carpets cried out at one time in a petition to the City Council for an abatement of this nuisance.

An informal meeting was held on October 6th at the house of Daniel Dewey, Esq., Walnut pk., Newton, to take into consideration the getting up of a Centennial Tea Party, to be held in Eliot Hall the latter part of this month. A. L. Clarke was called to the chair and he explained the object of the enterprise. Various committees were appointed and there is no doubt but that it will be one of the most successful entertainments ever given in Newton.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday afternoon the committee on police reported that there was not sufficient money to provide a day policeman at Auburndale, but they thought the necessity existed. The Boar vote to have a day patrolman there, and Charles Heustis was appointed.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday the following ordinance was reported by Alderman Pratt—"No person shall ride any horse or horses attached to a carriage of any description, either of burden or pleasure, or cause the same to be ridden or driven in any street, lane or alley or over any bridge in the city at an immoderate gait, so as to endanger or expose to injury any persons standing, walking, riding in or upon the same; and any person having any truck, cart or wagon under his care, shall—when driving the same, hold the reins of his horse or horses in his hand, or be in such position and so near the team he is driving as to be able at all times to guide, restrain and govern the same."

Newton Graphic, Oct. 8, 1887

A great improvement has occurred at the incandescent electric lights at the Newton depot since the new machinery was put in. They are now very satisfactory.

The High School boys will be interested in the advertisement relating to Miss Poat's dancing class, which is printed in another column. A few more young gentlemen are desired.

During the past few weeks numbers of persons who have been diligently seeking homes in Newton had to go elsewhere to live. For one small house there were five applicants. Why don't capitalists put up a large number of medium size houses at a fair rent. There would be no doubt of their being let at once.

Thursday morning a team owned by Mr. Paxton, the caterer, came rushing down Centre st., distributing ice cream tubs and cans on the way. Near the library a wheel on the wagon hit the fender of a buggy in which a lady was seated. The blow as a glancing one and the lady was not injured.

Mr. H. H. Cutler's tricycle was struck and carried along from Hubbard & Proctor's drug store nearly to Bush's stable, and there deposited, badly shattered. In turning from Elmwood st., the wagon was overturned and the runaway horse ran into the stable alone. Neither horse nor wagon was much damaged.

The last sheep in Newton, judging from careful research, was killed by dogs in Oak Hill one day this week. It belonged to Mr. Esty.

A petition was received by the Aldermen on Monday night from the Cambridge Street Railway Company, stating that the road has been making experiments in electricity, and was expecting to use a car run by an electric motor. If successful the company intended to use cars run with these motors instead of horses. Permission to do so has been granted the company by both Cambridge and Boston. They allow the use of storage batteries in cars, but do not permit the system of overhead wires and poles. An order with similar restrictions was passed.

An illustration of that moral education so much desired, has been given in one of our schools. A visit to Room 2 at Underwood School on any Friday morning in June or September would have shown the teacher's desk covered with flowers which were brought by the children, arranged in bouquets by the teacher, and sent to the Flower Mission in Boston. During the months mentioned and the latter half of May pupils of this room sent 402 bouquets.

The approach of wet weather causes the people who have to use the tunnel under the Boston & Albany railroad, opposite Canning st., Newton, to wonder if the railroad company will drain the tunnel this Fall as has been promised. In wet weather there is from 6 inches to a foot of water in the tunnel, making it a dangerous as well as disagreeable place to pass through.

Powers' Paragraphs

The radio address delivered by Supreme Court Justice Black last Friday night relative to his membership in the Ku Klux Klan was a poor apology. Mr. Black is smart, but he wasn't very clever in denouncing bigotry and intolerance, and then admitting that about 15 years ago he joined an organization which thrived on religious and racial prejudice. Justice Black was no juvenile when he became a member of the Ku Klux Klan, he knew its principles, or lack of principles. Any man who subscribes to a movement which "fans the flames of hatred," when it served his political purposes to do so, and later denounces the projection of religious and racial issues into political campaigns, when it serves his purpose to do so, proves himself to be insincere, a charlatan, and an opportunist.

Justice Black says he resigned from the Klan, but he did not give the date of his resignation. He says he did not keep the unsolicited membership card given to him after he was elected Senator. What did he do with it? Did he publicly refuse it?

Justice Black, in our opinion will not be asked by the President to resign from the Supreme Court. We do not believe that Congress will seriously endeavor to have him impeached. We have little respect for some of the Senators who recently have been making such a brave show of attacking Black. They knew of his membership in the Ku Klux Klan when they voted to confirm his appointment to the Supreme Court. Now, they are pandering to public opinion. They are as inconsistent and hypocritical in certain things as the slick politician and jurist from Alabama.

We believe that President Roosevelt was sincere when he made his speech at Chicago on Tuesday, denouncing those nations which threaten the peace of the world. But, that speech certainly diverted attention from the controversy over Justice Black.

Isn't it nice of the Duke of Windsor and his wife to announce that they intend to visit the United States to study working and housing conditions. This activity of the Duke and the Duchess is quite significant in view of their past records in sociological work. Just before the storm broke over the abdicated king because of his determination to marry the then Mrs. Simpson, he visited the poverty stricken coal regions in his country, and dramatically expressed his solicitude for the miners and their families. But we didn't read of donations from him to relieve the needs of the poor miners, although he had been lavish in his expenditures for gifts to the woman he loved. If the Duke and the Duchess announced that they intend to come to this country to enjoy the social honors which many wealthy Americans will vie in heaping on them, and the acclaim they will receive from a large percentage of the "hoi polloi," they would have displayed more candor.

The announcement by Alderman Clarence Colby that he will be a candidate for Mayor, was not entirely unexpected. For several months there have been rumors that Mr. Colby might be a candidate for the office. He has not shown undue haste in throwing his hat in the ring. To date Mayor Childs has not definitely stated that he will be a candidate for reelection, but months ago, he intimated to persons who questioned him, that he will once again seek the office. In deferring his announcement, the Mayor is only following the practice he used during the many times he has been a candidate. Two years ago, after much persuasion, the Mayor consented to have his candidacy announced some months prior to the date of election.

Alderman Colby in becoming a candidate for Mayor, and in all probability opposing Mayor Childs, displays more courage than is evidenced by a number of Newton men, including some other members of the Board of Aldermen, who have had the Mayoralty bee buzzing in their bonnets (or Fedoras). The Ward 7 Alderman has served efficiently on the Board for three years, and has taken his duties seriously. He is entering a combat against big odds; assuming that Mayor Childs will be a candidate. If General Daniel Needham, with the support he received from the Weeks organization, could not defeat Childs, Colby must be accredited with courage, and a certain degree of confidence in entering the fray.

Mr. Colby has a quite different personality from Mr. Childs. Instead of the suavity which the Mayor possesses to a marked degree, Mr. Colby is quite outspoken. One is apt to get a wrong impression of the Ward 7 Alderman, until one becomes fairly well acquainted with him. We believe he tries to be fair and just in his views. He will probably conduct an interesting campaign. It is to the advantage of the city to have a contest. When anyone is handed an office on a silver platter, the recipient is apt to get the idea he is nearer perfection than is really the fact.

The numerous burglaries which have occurred in Newton the past few weeks, naturally resulted in residents of this city becoming apprehensive. Because of the recklessness of the robbers and the fact that much of their loot consisted of articles of little value, which professional burglars would not bother to steal, caused the inference that the thieves were local residents, probably youths. This has proved to be true. Two youths have already been arrested, and have admitted some of the burglaries. Both are residents of this city. The police are still performing extra duty on the supposition that all the burglars have not been caught.

A pair full of apple-jack should be pippins in the "big apple."

Alumnae Hall Concerts Offer Outstanding Music

"Popular in the best sense of the word" was the description of the twenty-eighth season of Alumnae Hall concerts given to a Newton Graphic reporter this week. These concerts, under the management of Dr. Hamilton C. Macdougall from their beginning in 1900, have presented to the public of Wellesley College and surrounding towns the finest artists of the international concert platform. More than that, the programmes have been planned to give the greatest value in musical worth combined with an appeal to the innate musical feeling.

Great music is born of great emotions and invokes them in the hearer. So long, however, as human nature remains as it is now, so long will interest lie more in personalities than in abstractions. The Wellesley Concert Fund has had the honor and pleasure of introducing to its public—now scattered over forty of Boston's suburbs—the very greatest orchestras, concert singers, pianists, violinists, cellists, and string quartettes. Its present series (1937-1938) is true to its past history; in no season has it offered for musical appreciation more genuine worth and artistry than is bound up in the programmes of the present. A scrutiny of the advertising columns will substantiate the assertion.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

The Other Half

It may not be important yet I wouldn't be surprisied if the places that invite motorists to pause for the purchase of food and sustenance have about exhausted all available names for signs. The majority urge you to devour "Hot Dogs." Others say, "Meals Served," "A Good Place To Eat," "Home Cooking," "Ma's Place," "Best of Eats," "Lunch," "Food Shoppe," "Our Meals Are Famous," "Restaurant," "Meals at All Hours," "Try Our Chicken Dinner," "Drive In and Eat," "Breakfast," "Fish Dinners," "Seafood Specialties," "Diner," "Dine and Dance," "Sandwiches," "Stop Here for Food," "Hamburgers," etc. As far as I can see, it all goes to show that while one-half of the country is riding the other half is cooking.

Head of the Class

Like many others, there have come to me throughout adult life times when I longed for the bygone days when studies, teachers, "exams" and credits were my only concern. A few minutes of mature reflection and the mood vanishes. At least, such has been the case until last week when I learned of a college where a course in swimming counts for so much and reading poetry is also good for a certain number of points and that a student may read poetry in the swimming pool and thus receive full credit for both. At such an institution I would have led the procession.

Summer Vision

When Autumn comes we feel obliged to put aside certain things that have proved most useful during the summer. I know I am going to miss the sun-glasses I bought early in June. There is really nothing wonderful about them but I became attached to them after I found they gave me a different outlook. Viewed from the rumble seat, that bit of disintegrating road surface right head seemed, after I once had adjusted my glasses, only a section of rugged scenery. When I was hiking in the country the hills in the distance appeared to the naked eye insurmountable. Through the smoke-colored lens they became mere mounds. Glaring sunlight was turned into soft shadows, thunder showers proved non-existent, disagreeable sights were blurred and unpleasant faces suffered total eclipse. Tenderly and with gratitude are these glasses temporarily laid away. At the first chance, sun-shine on the snow or whatnot, I shall have them out again with their handsome orchid frames so suggestive of a well-appointed bathroom.

Another Puzzle

It is difficult to keep up with some people and frequently the results do not justify the effort. On the other hand you may actually learn much from them, which really places you in their debt. I have a friend who likes to spring such things on you as, "Do you know what a viscacha is?" and laughs heartily while you try to think. Then when you say, "Give it up," he explains that he has inquired about a burrowing South American rodent, though just what connection it has with the present state of economic chaos no one seems to know.

Less Noise, Please

Trailing along after Boston by a full month or more our city campaign in Newton cannot expect to command the interest aroused by the larger city. Nor have I found anybody who is grieved by this fact. The volume of racket required to elect a chief executive and other municipal officers in Boston makes a short-wave station of many a home where the finger-wave should be the absorbing interest.

Aldermen Refuse Feeley Annuity

The petition of Mrs. Lillian E. Feeley of 9 Capitol st., Newton, for an annuity from the City of Newton, was given leave to withdraw by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. Mrs. Feeley is the widow of Francis G. Feeley who died on May 22, 1934 in the Baker Memorial Hospital, Boston. Mrs. Feeley had applied for the annuity on September 8, 1936 claiming that her husband had died as the result of an injury received in the performance of duty.

Francis G. Feeley was born in Newton and was in his 40th year when he died. He had been a member of the police department for 15 years, and had served as a member of the inspectors division for several years before his death. In January, 1934 he was promoted to the rank of sergeant. On May 11, 1932 Feeley, in company with 'other policemen was on watch near Boylston st., Newton Centre, for the writer of threatening notes which had been sent to a Newton Centre resident While stalking the note-writer, Feeley fell off a stone wall and injured his head, but he remained on duty. A few weeks before his death, Feeley collapsed while in the court room at West Newton.

In reporting for the Claims Committee, which had considered Mrs. Feeley's claim Alderman Rawson, chairman of the committee, explained that Serg. Feeley had fallen off the wall on May 11, 1932 and was attended by Dr. Alfred Amendola, but that Feeley did not remain off duty. Rawson said that Dr. Amendola did not attend Feeley again professionally until the latter was stricken in 1934. The physician diagnosed Feeley's ailment as caused by a brain tumor. The policeman failed rapidly, and was operated on at the Baker Memorial Hospital. The operation did not reveal a tumor. After the policeman's death an autopsy was performed and a tumor was found deep in the base of the brain. Dr. Amendola told the committee that in his opinion the tumor was caused by the fall Feeley had. Dr. S. M. Fitchet and Dr. W. J. Mixter were asked for opinions on the case, Mr. Rawson stated, and they said that while a tumor might possibly have resulted from the fall Feeley received, it was not probable. Dr. Henry G. Chase, well known brain surgeon, was also asked for his opinion on the case, and told the Claims Committee that Feeley's fall did not cause the tumor which caused his death. Rawson said that evidence showed that the injury received by Feeley was a superficial one. He quoted the General Laws of the State which specify that complications allegedly resulting from injuries received by public employees, and which are the basis of such claims as that in the Feeley case, must show natural and probable connections.

Alderman Cronin was the only one of the seven members of the Claims Committee who favored the granting of the Feeley claim. Cronin argued that Dr. Amendola had testified that the fall caused the tumor in Feeley's brain, and Dr. Chase had admitted that science does not know what causes tumors. He also said that Dr. Chase was not present when the autopsy was performed on Feeley. Cronin asserted that in justice to the taxpayers and Feeley's dependents, the annuity should be granted to Mrs. Feeley. He said that even if the Aldermen voted to grant the annuity, a board of three physiciains must then agree that the claim is warranted. Alderman Lyon called attention to the fact that the tumor was found at the base of Feeley's brain, whereas the injury received when he fell was at the top of the back of his head. Alderman Inches said that the physicians at the hospital said they had no record of Dr. Amendola having reported to them that Feeley had received the injury alleged, when the policeman was a patient there. Dr. Amendola had stated that he made such a report. The Board, with Alderman Cronin in the negative, voted not to grant Mrs. Feeley's claim.

Alderman Colby To Run For Mayor

expectation that some other candidate might be found, but this hope has not materialized. I consequently have decided not to avoid the challenge for service, thus presented, and shall be a candidate for Mayor at the coming city election in December.

My candidacy is based upon the premise that, if elected, I shall give to, and seek from, every member of the city government, and the heads of every city department the fullest co-operation; that I shall seek information and advice from every available source within the city; that my decisions shall be made only after the closest scrutiny and exhaustive study; and that no act on my part shall be influenced by political considerations.

I shall welcome the support of all citizens of Newton to whom this pledge appeals.

Sincerely yours,
CLARENCE C. COLBY.

Clarence C. Colby, candidate for Mayor of Newton, was born in Boston in 1879, a descendant of old New England families. His ancestors on both sides were descended from colonists who settled in Massachusetts prior to 1650. He graduated from Roxbury Latin School, from Harvard College in 1902 and from Harvard Law School in 1908. Before completing his law studies he taught in boys' schools for three years.

In 1916 he became President and General Manager of the Samson Electric Company of Canton, Massachusetts, and brought this company to national prominence in its line with forty-three sales agencies in foreign countries. During this period of his management he had no labor troubles and what his employees thought of him can be seen by an excerpt from a letter received from one of his old workmen when he was a candidate for Alderman in 1934.

> "I know that if the working class of Newton knew you as I do, after being in your employ for seven years, you would be swept into office by a tremendous labor vote. I can truthfully say that in all my years of shop life, which are many, the name of C. C. Colby stands alone."

He held various executive offices in the national association of the radio industry and was elected its president in 1927. This association composed of manufacturers whose annual aggregate sales exceeded six hundred million dollars was very active during Mr. Colby's administration. He was a leader in protecting the smaller manufacturers and successfully fought the illegal patent pool by means of which the larger companies attempted to control this industry.

Elected Alderman-at-Large in 1934, and re-elected in 1936, Mr. Colby has been chairman of the Franchises and Licenses Committee, has served on various other committees, and is well conversant with city problems. His supporters believe that his business and professional experience, his knowledge of city departments, and his sympathetic attitude toward the working man qualify him to serve as Mayor.

Stole From Man Who Aided Him

George E. Walsh, 21, was arraigned in the Newton court on Tuesday charged with the theft of $10 in money and a watch from Douglas Birgfeld who rooms in a house on Hollis st., Newton. Walsh, a former Framingham resident, is down on his luck. He is a musician and formerly played in an orchestra with Birgfeld. Last week he told his hard luck story to Birgfeld. The latter fed and lodged Walsh for a few days. His guest showed his gratitude by stealing the money and watch from his benefactor's room. Birgfeld missed $10 and a gold watch and suspected his guest. He informed Patrolmen Maguire and McGrath and they took Walsh into custody. After questioning, the suspect admitted the thefts. The patrolmen found the money concealed in one of Walsh's stockings. He then guided Captain Veduccio and Patrolman Henrikus to a tree at Farlow pk. where the watch was found hidden in a crotch. Judge Allen gave Walsh a two months' suspended sentence in Middlesex County prison.

Want Trucks Kept Off Waltham St.

A petition has been received by the Board of Aldermen asking that trucks be prohibited from using Waltham st., West Newton, between the hours of 8 p. m. and 7 a. m. The petition is signed by residents of Waltham st., and also by persons residing on other streets, including North Gate Park, Randlett Park, Lindbergh ave. and Davis ave. Among the reasons stated in the petition for the restriction are that trucking over Waltham st. "interferes with our sleeping; cracks our ceilings; those of us who are parents are up against our children being awakened."

Automobile Accidents

Cars driven by Frederick Lawson of 45 West st., Needham, and John L. Stearns of 18 Hillside rd., Wellesley, collided on September 30 at that danger spot—the turnpike and Woodcliffe rd., Newton Highlands. Lawson reported that Anna Lyons of 45 West st., Needham, who was riding with him, received an injury to her right leg. Lawson also reported that the accident occurred as he was making a left turn from the south side to the north side of the pike; that two cars had stopped to allow him to make the turn, when Stearns' car came along and hit him.

Auto Hits Man At Newton Corner

Llwellyn Thompson of 19 Jewett st., Watertown, was hit on Sunday night at 7:55 while crossing Pearl st., Newton, by a car driven by Byron W. Reid of Central Falls, Rhode Island. Reid, assisted by passersby took Thompson to the office of Dr. T. M. Gallagher at 31 Channing st. Dr. Gallagher ordered the injured man removed to the Newton Hospital, and Thompson was taken there in the police ambulance. He was found to have concussion of the brain, and cuts on his head. Reid reported to the police that he was driving along Pearl st., near Channing st. at a rate of only 20 miles an hour when suddenly he saw an object in front of the car. He did not know it was a man he had hit, until he stopped the car.

To Observe Salvation Army Sunday In Newton Churches

Participating in what is expected to be one of the greatest non-denominational, simultaneous services ever held in America, Colonel Edward B. Underwood of New York, will speak at Trinity Church, Newton Centre, Sunday evening in connection with the annual Salvation Army Sunday. The sextette of the New York City Salvation Army staff band will play at the service.

Adjutant Frank Brister will speak at the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, at the 11 a. m. service.

Comparatively new in Salvation Army programs, Salvation Army Sunday has become so popular that 150 churches in Boston and vicinity are cooperating in this service Sunday, October 10. Seventy-five of the churches are opening their pulpits to visiting speakers, who will be men of prominence nationally and internationally throughout the Salvation Army.

Colonel Underwood is in charge of the bequests department of the Army and previously was responsible officer for The Salvation Army Financial Campaigns and efforts of the 11 eastern states. He has been an officer for 38 years, entering the work at Bay City, Michigan.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, October 10.

The Golden Text is: "The law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death" (Romans 8:2).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "When he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him. And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed" (Matthew 8:1-3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If sin, sickness, and death are as real as Life, Truth, ann Love, then they must all be from the same source; God must be their author. Now Jesus came to destroy sin, sickness, and death; yet the Scriptures aver, 'I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.' Is it possible, then, to believe that the evils which Jesus lived to destroy are real or the offspring of the divine will?" (p. 474.)

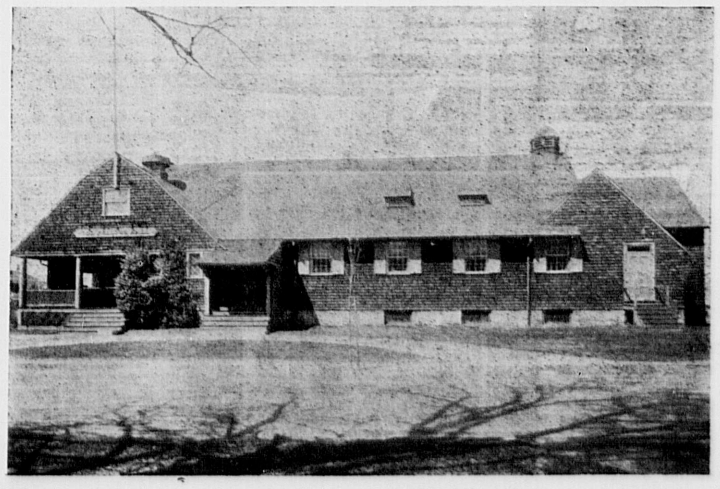
Odd Fellows Hold Bazaar, Oct. 8, 8, 9



ODD FELLOWS BUILDING, SOUTHGATE PARK, WEST NEWTON

Newton Lodge of Odd Fellows was instituted 50 years ago, on June 15, 1887, at Nickerson's Hall, West Newton with 19 charter members. The first Noble Grand was Edwin O. Childs, father of the present Mayor of Newton. One charter member is still alive and a member of Newton Lodge. He is Dr. Arthur Hudson of Washington st., Newton, for many years a prominent Newton druggist and city chemist. The building now occupied by the Odd Fellows was acquired in 1924, and is located at 15 Southgate Park West Newton. It houses Newton Lodge, No. 92 and Waban Lodge, No. 156, I. O. O. F.; Tennyson Rebekah Lodge, No. 119 and Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge, No. 177; and Garden City Encampment, No. 62.

During the 50 years since Newton Lodge was instituted it has held over 2600 regular sessions. It has had 662 members, and has a present membership of 136. Each week for over 50 years, officers of the lodge have made calls to the sick. It is estimated that over 40,000 sick calls have been made, and sick benefits totalling more than $27,000 have been paid. In addition $4500 in special relief payments have been paid, and $15,000 in death benefits. Newton Lodge of Odd Fellows has never refused a call for help, when occasion demanded it. It has earned commendation and deserves co-operation in its efforts.

Defers Decision To See Scene of Crash

Neil McCarthy of 25 Essex st., Cambridge, was in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with driving to endanger. On September 9 a car driven by McCarthy emerged from the by-pass on the north side of the turnpike overpass at Centre st., Newton Highlands, and hit a car driven by Anne B. Horton of 37 Stony Brae rd., Newton Highlands. The Horton car was overturned and its occupants injured. Riding with Mrs. Horton were Alice Badwell of Augusta, Maine, and Lucy Dayton, 4, of 36 Stony Brae rd. They were taken to the Newton Hospital. The place where the collision occurred is a very dangerous spot. The abutments of the overpass conceal any car coming west on the by-pass road, and there is a compulsory STOP sign for cars traveling on the bypass road, before they are driven onto Centre st. Lieut. Crowley of the Newton police testified that McCarthy in reporting about the collision stated he had slowed down, but had not stopped. Judge Lloyd Allen, who heard the case, did not make a decision. He said he desired to view the location of the accident before he would make a finding.

Brighton Youths Steal Autos

Members of the night shifts of the Newton police department and the ranking officers of the force have been performing extra duty the past week and more in attempts to catch the burglar or burglars who have entered and looted about 15 residences in this city the past couple of weeks. The day patrolmen have not been assigned to this added work. Monday night the police did not catch the burglar, but, they did apprehend some Brighton youths who had stolen two automobiles at Newton. Captain Veduccio and Serg. Bannon found an abandoned car on Kenrick st., near the Brighton line about 8 o'clock. They picked up a youth near the corner of Waverley ave. and Sargent st. and questioned him.

At about the same time Patrolmen McEnaney and Turner observed several youths stealing a car on Fellsmere rd., a short distance from Waverley ave. The car was owned by Patrick Mutrie of 17 Fellsmere rd. The police gave chase and the auto thieves leaped from Mutrie's car without stopping it. The car crashed into an automobile owned by E. W. Kirby of 50 Dolphin rd., opposite that address. The car thieves ran through yards on Mandalay rd. toward Ward st. Patrolman McEnaney fired a shot which entered the home of Charles Bryant at 175 Ward st. The thieves escaped, but shortly after Patrolmen Maguire and Henrikus captured a youth on Waverley ave. He admitted having been one of a gang who had stolen one of the cars, and he gave the names of several other Brighton youths and a Waltham youth. They will be arraigned in the juvenile session at the Newton court today. As two of them are 16 years old, and the others 15 and 14 years of age, their names were not revealed by the police in keeping with the modern system of protecting youthful transgressors of the law.

Get Sidecars For Motorcycles

At the meeting of the Newton Safety Council on September 30 it was voted to request the Mayor to obtain sidecars for the four motorcycles used by Newton policemen. It was also voted to request the purchase of additional motorcycles, as the four now in use are operated on two shifts, day and night, by eight motorcycle officers. The reason for asking for sidecars is to permit the motorcycles being used in coming months when the streets will be slippery from snow and ice, and it would be practically impossible to use the motorcycles unless side cars are attached. Mayor Childs acceded to the request of the Safety Council and at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night recommended $460 for the purchase of the sidecars and other equipment. The Aldermen voted favorably on the recommendation.

Found Not Guilty Of Drunken Driving

In the Newton court on September 30 Russell Maintain of 181 Upland rd., Newtonville, was found not guilty on charges of drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. The case was tried before Associate Justice William Murray of the Milford court. Serg. Sullivan and Patrolmen Kiley and White testified that on August 27th they arrested Maintain after a car he was driving had hit a pole on Commonwealth ave., and that the defendant was drunk. William Hayden, attorney for Maintain, produced a number of witnesses who testified that they had seen the defendant shortly before and after the accident, and that he was sober. A physician testified that the defendant has low blood pressure which causes him to tire. Maintain testified that he had been working long hours and was sleepy when the car hit the pole.

"Souls At Sea" Heads Bill At Capitol Theatre, Allston

A glance back at the motion pictures for the last decade reveals the rather surprising fact that most of the big, epoch-making films were stories of the sea. "Down to the Sea in Ships," "The Sea Wolf," "Captain Blood," "Mutiny on the Bounty" and "Captains Courageous" are a few films which bear out this fact.

Now comes another, as big and as epochal as any—the powerful, dramatic and beautifully filmed motion picture "Souls at Sea," which opens for one week's engagement at the Capitol Theatre in Allston, starting Friday, October 8th.

Here is a picture taken from an actual occurrence in history, so skillfully directed and acted and so masterfully produced that its place among the great pictures of all times is assured. The cast is headed by Gary Cooper, George Raft and Frances Dee.

Suffice it to say that the role of Gary Cooper is probably the most brilliant of his entire career. George Raft, as Cooper's side-kick, is masterful, as is Miss Dee. Others in the supporting cast include Henry Wilcoxon, Harry Carey, Olympe Bradna and Porter Hall.

As the co-feature attraction, the management will present the biggest little singing star—Bobby Breen, in a charming melody-drama located under the giant pines in the woods of Maine. A new and refreshing adventure in musical drama in the picture "Make a Wish," surrounded by an all-star cast including Basil Rathbone, Marion Claire and Henry Armetta, the wonder boy of melody thrills the world again with his tune-drenched drama filled with laughter and heart throbs.

Women's Club Activities

Famous Women To Speak At Fall Meeting

Famous women will address the clubwomen who will attend the Fall meeting of the State Federation, at Plymouth, on Wednesday, October 20th. From Tulsa, Oklahoma, comes Judge Grace Elmore Gibson, the first and only woman in the United States to sit on a state Criminal Court of Appeals. Mrs. Gibson devotes her law practice to the poor. She is a member of the faculty of the Law School of the University of Oklahoma, where she previously received her degree; a member of several literary and social clubs; and she still has time for music and a garden.

Mr. E. St. John Catchpool, who organized the Youth Hostel Association in England and Wales in 1930, and who is a guest in Northfield this month, also will speak at Plymouth. His subject will be the Youth Hostel Movement. The first youth hostel in America was opened in 1934. Today there are 106 hostels in America, which formed an association known as the American Youth Hostels, Inc., with headquarters in Northfield, Massachusetts. He hopes to create a better International understanding between young people of different nations of the world through the Youth Hostel movement.

Miss Hazel Brooks of Chicago, chief stewardess of the American Airways, will describe the advantages of air travel. Miss Lena Maesin Phillips, associate editor of Pictorial Review, and president of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women, will fly from the south to speak. Miss Phillips has travelled in every state in the United States and in 21 countries of Europe. Throughout her travels she has been brought into contact with many outstanding figures in world politics, and she has acquired an amazing capacity for shrewd analysis of factors which underlie current economic problems and political unrest. A Kentucky lawyer, she is the daughter of a Kentucky judge, and very early in life she turned her organizing genius towards the solution of women's problems. Her monthly articles and booklets addressed to clubwomen have aroused their keen interest.

The meeting is sure to be well worth attending.

Lecture On Historical Places And Flower Show

A lecture on the "Preservation of Beautiful and Historical Places in Massachusetts," illustrated by pictures of unusually gorgeous coloring, promises an outstanding program for the first meeting of the Newton Community Club. This will be held on Thursday, October 14th, at 2 p. m., in Underwood School Hall. Mrs. Frank H. Briggs, the new president, will preside.

Not only will the Conservation committee, of which Mrs. Donald V. Baker is chairman, present the speaker, Bradford Williams, Field secretary of the Trustees of Public Reservations, in this fascinating lecture, but the committee is arranging also for a Fall flower show for that day.

On the program, too, Ralph Tailby, well-known New England Baritone, will sing a group of songs, accompanied at the piano by Mary Ranton Witham.

A Reception to the new officers will be held following the program. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Allan N. Kee and her social committee.

For the Flower Show, all entries must be in the Hall by 1 p. m. on Thursday. Doors will be open after 11 a. m. Exhibitors may enter as many classes as they choose, but only one entry is allowed in each class. Exhibits will be placed on tables by the committee in charge of each class.

There are five classes as follows: Class I. Mrs. William Duncan Reid, chairman. For children: Arrangement of flowers by exhibitor in any container, for mother's desk. a, children under 12; b, children over 12. Class II. Mrs. Franklin Lowry, chairman. Flower arrangement in an old-fashioned container, such as sugar-bowl, soup-tureen (glass, metal, china). Class III. Mrs. Arnold Barker, chairman. Specimen Bloom from exhibitor's garden. Container to be furnished by committee. Class IV. Mrs. Joseph Gerritel, chairman. Arrangement of Garden Flowers in own container for living-room. a, Open to those who have never received an award. b, Open to those who have received a award. Class V. Mrs. Garret Schenck, chairman. At Home To New Members

There will be an At Home to the new members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Friday afternoon, October 15th, from 3 to 5 o'clock at the Club House, with the Membership and Reception committees as hostesses. These committees hope many of the old members will come to greet the new members on this delightful social occasion.

Operation of Ohio Canals

In 1861 the management of the Ohio canals passed from the hands of the state to private hands through leases. And they remained so until 1877, when the state again assumed control, after the private interests found these waterways too expensive to operate.

Hobby And Travel Classes

The first meeting of the Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held on Monday, October 11th, at the home of Mrs. Edwin Ward, 75 Pickwick rd., at 2 p. m. Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Everett L. Upham will be hostesses. The subject will be "Dauphiny."

Mrs. Edward H. Cameron, leader of the West Newton Junior Club, and Mrs. Roy A. Stinson attended the annual Fall Conference of the State Junior Clubs held on Saturday, October 2nd, at Webster, Mass. The Club is very much interested in the Ball which is to be held at the Copley-Plaza on October 30th, for the benefit of The Talking Book for the Blind. Tickets are $3.50 per couple, and may be procured from the members.

The West Newton Women's Educational Club plan to organize a Hobby Class, under the direction of Mrs. Patrick Duncan, and will meet at the home of Mrs. Francis H. McCrudden, 19 Stonleigh rd., on Thursday, October 14th, at 2 p. m. This Class will include plain knitting, block-knitting, needle-point work, and rug-making, under direction of Mrs. A. Invitation To New. Clubwomen

Of interest to all members of the Newton Women's Clubs is the first meeting for 1937-1938 of the Boston City Federation, which will be held at 10:30 o'clock on Friday morning, October 15th, in the Auditorium of the Young Women's Christian Association, 140 Clarendon st., Boston. The president of the City Federation, Mrs. Edward H. Rugg, and the vice-presidents, Mrs. W. O. B. Little, Mrs. C. J. Cook, and Mrs. R. Earl Hoffman, have arranged a most timely and instructive program. A cordial invitation to attend this meeting is extended to all Newton clubwomen and their friends.

Dr. Edwin W. Hadley, president of the New England Anti-Gambling Association, will speak on "Gambling Problems in Massachusetts." With the possibility of having a State referendum on the establishment of a State Lottery, Dr. Hadley is sure to have something of practical value to offer his listeners. "Crime—Its Menace" will be discussed by Joseph F. Timilty, Esq., Boston Police Commissioner.

The third address will be given by Mr. R. F. Cahalane, executive director of Associated Hospital Service, who will speak on "Removing the Hazards from Hospital Bills." In view of the fact that this hospital service has been adopted by forty general hospitals in Massachusetts including our own Newton Hospital, clubwomen will be interested to know further details and to take advantage of the question period which will follow this address and the other addresses of the morning.

Officers and committee members of the City Federation living in Newton include the treasurer, Mrs. F. Greenwood Morse; the historian, Mrs. William E. Birdsall; Mrs. James E. Spike, Mrs. Henry L. Borg, Mrs. Clarence W. Randlett, Mrs. Wallace H. Jose, and Mrs. Newell L. Keith, besides many delegates representing member organizations and 16 associate members from clubs in Newton.

BURKETT—BIGELOW

Miss Rosalind Emma Bigelow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carle M. Bigelow of Bound Brook, New Jersey, and formerly of West Newton, was married to John Richard Burkett of Bound Brook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richard Burkett of Perry, Iowa at three-thirty on Saturday afternoon, October 2, in St. John's Church, Somerville, New Jersey. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. Ernest Pugh, who was assisted by Rev. Raymond Lang, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church in Newtonville.

The church was decorated with southern smilax, palms and ferns, with lighted candles and bouquets of white chrysanthemums on the altar. Earl S. Epps, organist, played the wedding music, and assisted by a harpist gave a recital before the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin in bouffant style with a long train and a standing duchess lace collar of old family lace from her mother's wedding own. Her long tulle veil was attached to a cap and coronet made of the same lace. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias, lilies of the valley and sweet peas. Miss Olivia Marsa Bigelow, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore powder blue taffeta with a Juliet cap and slippers of Persian ruby velvet and carried a Colonial bouquet of red roses and white carnations. The bridesmaids were Miss Lucille Lansing of Cranford, N. J.; Miss Francis Lange of Allentown, Pa.; Miss Louise Balch of Auburndale and Miss Betty Ann Schrontz of Cleveland, Ohio. They wore Persian ruby velvet gowns and shoulder veils held in place by crowns of gold leaves. They carried sheaves of chrysanthemums tied with gold. The flower girl, Anne Frances Cole, cousin of the bride, of New Haven, Conn., wore powder blue taffeta with a Juliet cap and slippers of Persian ruby velvet and carried a small Colonial bouquet of red roses and white chrysanthemums.

The couple were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Bigelow, who wore copper satin with hat to match and Mrs. Kenneth Rowley, sister of the groom, of Perry, Iowa, who wore royal blue with hat of matching shade. Owing to the illness of the groom's father, Mr. and Mrs. Burkett were unable to attend the wedding.

"How Modern Business Serves Us," a Ginn publication for eighth and ninth grade pupils of all curricula, has been made especially valuable for schools by the publication of a work book by Miss Ruth M. Twiss, co-author of the text. This work book has several features unlike any others. Exercises on selecting radio programs, planning automobile trips with the use of the road map, the problems on safety in driving, and exercises on the motion picture make this book unique in its field. Well illustrated with pictures and pencil drawings, the book teaches boys and girls the services which business has to offer every individual regardless of his vocation, and his relationship to the entire field of business.

Miss Twiss, a commercial teacher —Newton High School, is now working on a companion volume intended for Grade X. Her aim is definitely vocational, and there are exercises on the business budget, the business cycle, taxation, and business records.

Sergeant Richard Bannon of the Newton Police Department gave a talk on crime before the Block D (Mr. Paige's class) class in problems of democracy on Friday, October 1. Sergeant Bannon discussed the work of the police, pointed out the dangers of bumming rides, and answered pupils' questions on crime control.

Mrs. Bayard Oheran, a native of Ohio and a graduate of the University of Michigan, gave a very interesting talk before Mr. Paige's class in block C. Her subject was "Mr. Farmer in the Middle West."

Superintendent of Schools, Julius E. Warren, and Principal of the High School, Paul E. Elicker, this week attended the October Conference of New England Educators at Crawford Notch, New Hampshire.

Made Business Manager of Newtonite

Frank Scheel has recently been appointed by Lester E. Williams and Jim Dealy, faculty adviser and editor of The Newtonite respectively to serve as business manager of the ensuing year. Scheel's nomination came as a result of his fine work as assistant business manager last year.

At the same time, all other appointments for 1937-38 were made. Jerry Harvey and Michael Golden were chosen as co-news editors. Harvey served as copy editor last year along with Grace VerPlanck, who is again filling that position. Golden has been a news reporter for the past two years. Nancy Flagg, assistant Feature's Editor of last year, takes over Page 2. The literary page, will be edited by Shirley Fuller. Thomas Peebles will be in charge of the page 3 alternate, the supplement page. Claire Wilson has been appointed to take charge of the editorials.

Because Bill Gardiner, who has been appointed Sports Editor, went away to school, page 4 is being published by Michael Golden until a new Sports Editor is chosen.

Cheer Leaders Chosen

At the final try-outs recently Mr. Charles W. Peterson and Mr. Carl L. Swan were the judges for choosing the school cheer leaders for 1937-38. Winners were Donald Fulton, Harold Fisher, Beal Marks, Edward McIsaac, Benet DeSaulniers, and Donald Smith.

High School Alumni Notes

Eleanor Weston, '32, is now furthering her work in archaeology at Bryn Mawr, having won a Johns Hopkins Fellowship upon her graduation from Vassar in 1936.

Miss Ruth Burns, Miss Mary T. Tagney and Mr. Frank H. Woolway, all graduates of Newton High School, have enrolled with the midyear class which is starting this week at Northeastern University School of Law.

The Dean's List from M. I. T. contains the names of the following Newton graduates: Arthur Paul McCabe, Benjamin Wilson Badenoch, Willard Farrington Babcock, Charles Walter Doten, Hugh Foster Kennison, John Irvin Argersinger, Howard Charles Ness, Julius Kovitz, Karl Perley Goodwin, Philip Chauncey Jacobs, Jr., Joseph Faber Keithley, Thomas Reed Kinraide, Theodore Ruggles Timbie, Harry Udin, Fred Wasserman and Gordon Borthwick Wilkes.

Adele Goldfine, Charlotte Paul, Louise McKinney, Margaret Borg and Lois Rogers, graduates of Newton High School, have achieved high academic distinction at Wellesley College. In the Honors Day celebration, their names were read as being Wellesley College Scholars, which is an honor reserved for juniors and seniors who have maintained excellent scholastic records throughout their years at Wellesley.

Barbara Phinney, also a Newton High School graduate, had the honor of having her name read as being a newly elected member of the Phi Beta Kappa and a Senior Durant Scholar at Wellesley College.

Richard Harvell, class of 1934, has been awarded a cash prize of $25 and a scholarship of $100 at William and Mary College for his excellent work in translation of Horace.

Frances Clay, class of 1936, because of the distinctive character of her work at Bates College, has been appointed proctor and counsellor of a group of younger students.

Evan Collins, class of 1929, and Dartmouth College graduate, is this year at Harvard University taking work for his Master's degree. Mr. Collins has been teaching at Tabor Academy.

Among the fifteen seniors initiated recently by the Wesleyan University chapter of the national scholastic honorary society of Phi Beta Kappa was Roger Maynard, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Maynard, Newtonville He has served as secretary-treasurer of the College Body, as a senator, and as captain of the cross-country team. Already a holder of an Olin scholarship, he was awarded, in addition, the William Day Leonard scholarship which is awarded annually to "that student who is considered to give the greatest promise of success through character, scholarship, physical endowments, personal popularity, and qualities of leadership." Additional honors include winning the Sherman Prize for excellence in mathematics and being chosen as a member of the Mystical Seven, a senior honorary society.

NEWTON AND EVERETT CLASH IN ANNUAL GAME

Determined to make amends for its last minute defeat at the hands of Arlington last Saturday the Newton eleven diligently prepared this week to meet an invading Everett horde tomorrow at Dickinson stadium. This annual Newton-Everett grid battle is always one of the leading attractions of the schoolboy football program. No quarter asked nor given. Traditions of previous games are recited and rehearsed. A battle to the grim death—are a few of the descriptive phrases usually used to portray this dual between two rival schoolboy elevens.

Newton suffered nothing more than injured pride and the loss of a clean slate in the Arlington battle but the showing of some of the boys against the Menotomy Towners caused Coach Sanborn and his assistants to consider possible changes in the starting lineup for this Saturday.

Everett will invade Newtonville tomorrow with a unique record. The Gildea outfit has played two games and has emerged with ties in each instance. Top-heavy favorites against Concord two weeks ago one of the greatest surprises in the schoolboy football world came when the inspired shock troops from historical Concord held their vaunted opponents to a 6 to 6 tie. Last Saturday against its traditional rival Salem the Gildea outfit was the slight underdog. This time a scoreless tie was the result of an hour's battling.

The Everett team began its season with a highly touted veteran line against which but one touchdown was scored throughout the 1936 season. Scrimmage practice before the Concord game shelved two powerful tackles and other injuries fairly riddled the Everett squad. The return of Captain Hal Everett, leading schoolboy centre a year ago helped to bolster the Everett team against Salem and improved line-play provided the defence to keep Salem at bay.

Both Coach Sanborn of Newton and Gildea of Everett respect the abilities of their respective opponents and although Newton rates as the slight underdog it will be anybody's game until the final whistle blows. One touchdown or possibly only the point after touchdown seems to be the most likely margin that either team will have when the teams leave the field.

ARLINGTON WINS WITH LAST PERIOD SCORES

Outplayed but not outgamed the Newton high school football team battled valiantly against a stronger Arlington High eleven at Arlington last Saturday to succumb in a garrison finish by the Spyponders to a 14 to 7 to count. Frank Hines, Newton ace sprinter, intercepted an Arlington pass in the second period and raced half the length of the field to put Newton out in front. Castoldi kicked the point to make it 7 to 0.

Newton held onto that score for dear life and with an edge in punting kept the Arlingtonites from their goal line. With the final period more than half gone Coach Ostergren's team began to come. Grinding out yardage against a slowly yielding Newton frontier and with several well-executed passes thrown in an earned touchdown and point after knotted the count. This tying tally seemed to discourage Newton and aided by a fumble and 15-yard penalty Arlington again was in scoring position and produced the winning tally shortly before the game ended.

Outside of Hines' spectacular dash in the second period the first half of the game was unproductive of many thrills. Nabbing one of Eddie Quinn's passes at midfield, sidestepping two would be tacklers on the Arlington 40 Newton set out for the goal and with a dazzling burst of speed easily outdistanced his pursuers. With Hines holding the pigskin Guido Castoldi booted his third point after touchdown in four tries.

Arlington's march for the tying score began when Fitzgerald, Newton's ace punter, hoisted a lofty kick to Mills on the Arlington 30-yard stripe. As in many previous instances the Newton ends downed the receiver in his tracks. A five yard line play between two successful passes carried Arlington to the Newton 40. Two passes were incompleted and it seemed as though the Arlington attack was stalling for the umpteenth time but another successful pass made it first down on the Newton 30. Quinn in two rushes reached the 19 and after a short pass White knifed through tackle to the two yard line. He was almost shaken loose by Mahoney's great block but Earl Colvin, Newton guard, and Fred Fisjer, Newton back, nailed him in the corner of the field. Two plunges by Quinn brought the touchdown and pass was barely completed for the tying point.

Fitzgerald ran the kick-off back to his 30-yard line. Going back to pass he fumbled and Phil Downs of Arlington covered the ball to give the Arlingtonites another glorious opportunity. On the play Newton was guilty of unnecessary roughness and penalized 15 yards, putting the home lads on the Newton 5 yard stripe. White raced around left end for the game-winning touchdown against a discouraged and weary Newton crew. Blanchard kicked the point after.

Newton Oldsmobile Dealers Attend Sales Convention

Returning this week from Lansing, Michigan, where he attended the national sales convention of Oldsmobile, Percy E. Frost of the Frost Motors, Inc., predicted a record-breaking sales year in Newton for the new 1938 Oldsmobile Sixes and Eights which have just been announced. Mr. Frost was accompanied to the convention by W. C. Wallace, sales manager, and Charles L. Smith, salesman of the local dealer's force.

Oldsmobile this week announced its 41st series of cars, distinctively different in appearance and styling. The two cars, sixes and eights, are on display at the showrooms at 399 Washington st., Newton. A demonstration of the wonderful riding qualities and easy operation of these new "Wonder" cars will gladly be given.

Both the Six and Eight present much that is new in performance and mechanical design and both now offer as an extra-cost option the new automatic safety transmission, developed and introduced by Oldsmobile. This new development, regarded as one of the major automotive advancements of modern motoring, was first offered as optional equipment on the Oldsmobile Eight of last year.

Among other features of particular interest is the new Oldsmobile safety instrument unit and safety dash, a departure in the modern manner from the conventional type of instrument panel. The safety panel, free of projecting knobs, is but one of many details which contribute toward passenger security in the redesigned safety interiors of the new Oldsmobiles. Safety glass, of course, is standard throughout. A choice of new upholstery fabrics is available, tailored to the deep cushions in an effective pleated treatment.

As was the case in the 1937 Oldsmobile, the designers have preserved complete individuality in styling the new Six and Eight. Body lines are lower and cleaner than before. Fenders are unusually wide, deeply valanced and of heavier gauge metal than in previous models. Bullet-type headlamps are mounted low on the crowns of the front fenders.

The first major point of difference that strikes the eye in distinguishing the Six from the Eight is the sharp contrast in the smart front end designs of the two cars. The radiator grille of the Six employs heavy, die-cast horizontal louvers, recessed deeply and plated in bright chrome. The grille of the Eight, however, is a single massive die-casting with two narrow horizontal bars, alternating with a single bar of somewhat greater width. The grilles of both cars taper in a graceful "V" to meet the fender aprons which sweep in an unbroken line, relieved only by slotted louvers across the base of the aprons.

An entirely new type of hood louver has been developed to provide invisible outlets for escape of engine heat while preserving hood lines of unbroken simplicity.

Bumpers, front and rear, are of exceptionally heavy construction and carry dual bumper guards, the entire assembly being plated in chrome.

Interior detail has been redesigned in all body models. Most interesting among the changes is the new safety dash with a raised safety instrument panel which centers all gauges in direct line with the vision of the driver and at a height which minimizes distraction from the road. The instrument panel is curved smoothly downward and inward, eliminating projections which might cause injury in event of a sudden stop. For the same reason, cord robe rails have been adopted in the rear compartment and the top edge of the front seat is covered by thick roll-type padding.

A radical change has been made in one important detail—the location of the battery. A long, narrow battery of the "end to end" type replaces the conventional battery and is located alongside the engine under the car hood, accessible to service without disturbing the car occupants. The new location permits use of such short battery cables that line loss has been reduced to a marked degree.

Although both the Six and Eight are unusually fast and responsive when equipped with conventional transmission, they attain even higher peaks of performance when equipped with the Oldsmobile automatic safety transmission. This transmission also contributes importantly to both driving ease and operating economy, the latter resulting from a fourth gear direct drive which reduces the number of motor revolutions and improves fuel economy by 18 to 20 per cent.

Operation is extremely simple. Control is by a short lever on the steering column. With the automatic safety transmission, the foot clutch is used only to start and stop.

The wheelbases of the Six and Eight, respectively, are 117 inches and 124 inches. The Six develops 95 horsepower and the Eight 110 horsepower. Each series is offered in seven attractive new body types by Fisher; the Two Door Sedan; Two Door Touring Sedan with trunk; Four Door Sedan; Four Door Touring Sedan with Trunk; Business Coupe; Club Coupe and Convertible Coupe. All closed Oldsmobiles are built with seamless steel turret tops and Fisher Unisteel body construction.

Carnation, an Old Flower

The history of the carnation family runs back to 300 B. C. The name was derived from the clove tree by the Greeks, due to the scent of the blooms, no doubt, the specific name of which is Caryophyllus aromaticus. The development of the carnation as a greenhouse flower has been carried on in America since 1852, and the first hybridizing work was done on Long Island.

She was removed to the Faulkner Hospital where several stitches were taken in her face. Fire Drives Aub. Family From Home

An early morning fire in the home of Patrolman John B. Foley at 42 Charles st., Auburndale, was discovered about 4 a. m. on Sunday when the family pet, a collie dog, awoke Rose Doherty, housekeeper for Mr. Foley. The fire started in the cellar, and the dog, which was kept in the cellar, scratched on the door at the head of the cellar stairs, until he awakened Miss Doherty. She aroused Foley and his two little daughters, and then assisted the policemen who made an attempt to extinguish the flames by dousing them with pails of water. The fire gained, however, and Miss Doherty, assisted by Doris Foster, another occupant of the house, fled to the street, taking the children with them. The fire department had been notified by telephone and Engines 2 and 5 with Ladder 1a arrived at the house at 4.16. The firemen were at the house for about a half hour before the flames were extinguished. The fire, confined to the cellar, caused damage estimated at about $1000. Patrolman Foley had arrived home at 1 a. m. from his patrol duties, and the fire must have started between that hour and when it was discovered.

Speeder Judge's Wife, Case Filed

In the Newton court last Friday Mrs. Louise Brackett of 34 Lombard rd., Arlington, was arraigned on a charge of speeding. The woman is the wife of Judge John G. Brackett of the Boston Municipal Court. Motorcycle Officer Dowling testified that on Sept. 25th Mrs. Brackett drove a car along Cherry st., West Newton, past the dangerous intersection at River st. and other intersections, at a speed of between 45 and 50 miles an hour. Dowling also testified that children were playing in the gutters along the street at the time. Mrs. Brackett testified that her husband was riding in the car at the time and would not permit her to drive as fast as Dowling claimed. Judge W. Lloyd Allen found the woman guilty, and then placed the case on file.

In court the same day several fines of $5 each were imposed on speeders. Joseph Johnson, Jr., of 29 Merrill rd., Newton Centre, was also found guilty of speeding. His case was placed on file.

Because the money was needed to meet this week's payroll, suspension of the rules requiring appropriations recommended by the Mayor to be held over until the following meeting was voted. Thirteen members were present and eight absent. The special meeting was called by the Mayor at the request of Director of Public Welfare James P. Reynolds.

License Board Clears Beer Parlor On Police Charges

Last Friday night at City Hall the Newton License Commission held a hearing on charges preferred by Newton policemen against the Depot Lunch, a beer dispensary at 108 Oak st., Newton Upper Falls. Patrolmen Charlton and McKenna testified that on the night of September 29 they observed a Wellesley man in a drunken condition in front of the Depot Lunch. He was bleeding from cuts on his head and face and said he had been thrown out of the beer place. Charlton testified that he questioned the manager of the Depot Lunch, Anthony Medaglia, and the latter denied that the drunk had been drinking in his place. The drunk, however, insisted he had been bounced out the back door of the lunch room. Charlton and McKenna also testified that they found a Needham man in the lunch room, who was also drunk, and who was being served beer. Both men were placed under arrest and found guilty in the Newton court the next day.

Medaglia and his wife, Mary Medaglia, to whom the license is issued, were represented by an attorney and brought a number of witnesses to refute the testimony of the police. They asserted that the man found drunk outside the place, not only was ejected from the Depot Lunch, but had not been drinking there. It was alleged that he is an inebriate who will not be served at several beer places in the South Side of this city.

Patrolman Lynch testified that in June and July of this year he arrested two drunken men outside the Depot Lunch and had them convicted in the Newton court. The License Board took the stand that Lynch's testimony had no bearing on the charges before the hearing, and should have been reported at the time the arrests were made. The Board reserved its decision on Patrolmen Charlton and McKenna's testimony until Monday, and then decided that the charges preferred by the policemen had not been sufficiently proved by evidence to warrant any penalty being imposed on the Depot Lunch.

While the hearing was in progress, Charles Barbour of Hampton ave., Needham caused a disturbance and was ordered ejected from the room by Chairman Glidden of the License Board. As he was being removed from the building by Patrolman Charlton, he started to struggle and Patrolmen Lynch and McKenna went to Charlton's assistance. Barbour was placed under arrest and in the Newton court on Saturday was charged with disturbing the peace, and assault on a policeman. His case was continued until October 18.

Aged Man Hit By Auto Dies

Llewelyn O. Thompson of 19 Jewett st., Watertown, who was hit by an automobile on the evening of October 3rd, while crossing Pearl st., Newton, died at the Newton Hospital on October 11. Mr. Thompson, who was 76 years of age, was crossing Pearl st. opposite Channing st. at 7:55 on Sunday evening, October 3rd, on his way to his home at 19 Jewett st., near the Newton line, when he was hit. The car that struck him was driven by Byron W. Reid of Central Falls, Rhode Island. Reid reported to the police that he was driving about 20 miles an hour when suddenly he saw an object in front of the car. Reid and passersby took the aged man to the residence of Dr. Thomas M. Gallagher on Channing st., about 100 yards from the scene of the accident. Dr. Gallagher ordered the victim taken to the Newton Hospital. There it was found that Mr. Thompson had concussion of the brain and other injuries.

Fifty Churches Join in Religious Education School

ADD Norumbega School of Religious

Some fifty churches of the Newtons, Watertown, Waltham, and Belmont will join in the Norumbega District School of Religious Education which opens Monday evening, October 18th, 7:30 o'clock in the Newtonville Methodist Church. The school has behind it many years of successful effort in the training of leaders in the various church schools of the area.

Parents, teachers, and young people have joined annually in attending these classes. This year the school offers increased opportunities to all these classes of church people and members of the community, in offering ten courses each Monday evening for six weeks. An outstanding faculty will be on hand to guide the several courses of instruction and discussion.

HERBERT C. MAYER

Among the courses will be found several which appeal to adults generally. There is for instance, "Understanding Today's Boys and Girls" led by Mr. Russell V. Burkhard; "Religious Drama," taught by Professor Esther Willard Bates; and two attractive Bible courses under the leadership of Rev. B. K. Anthony of Belmont, and Dr. Amos Wilder of Andover Newton Theological School.

An innovation in this type of education will be a symposium on Worship participated in by Miss Bessie Stratton, Dr. Randolph S. Merrill, Dr. H. Augustine Smith, and Mr. Herbert C. Mayer.

Other members of the faculty are Miss Luliona Barker of Watertown, Mrs. E. S. Colton, Jr. of Newton Highlands, Miss Sally Daniels of Boston, Mr. Frank Grebe, and Mr. Edwin Grimes of Newton. Joseph R. Ludwigson of Newtonville is the Dean.

City Officials Back From Convs.

Two city officials who were attending national conventions last week, returned to their duties on Saturday and Monday. Dr. Harold Chope, head of the Health Department was at the convention of the American Public Health Association in New York City. He read a paper on the tuberculosis prevention program which is being conducted in Newton. He was elected as a fellow of the association. Chief Hughes of the police department was attending the national convention of police chiefs at Baltimore.

Charged With Drunken Driving

Nicholas Broadwater, 41, of 12 Durant st., Roxbury, was arrested on Saturday night at Newton Centre for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested by Patrolman Rogers. Broadwater was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and his case continued until October 18.

Seek $10,000 for Bell-Murphy Fund

Now that it has been definitely determined by the City of Newton to provide pensions of $1,000 each to the widows of Officers Henry G. Bell and Lawrence E. Murphy, while remaining unmarried, and in one family $200.00 annually to each of four children until they reach the age of eighteen, the Citizens' Committee has established a goal to be attained of $10,000. No sum of money can replace the husband or parent, but a fund of this amount will provide some of the comforts of life which the deceased men would have wished for their wives and children.

The money received, it has been arranged, will be placed in trust to be dispensed under the direction of trustees who will be selected by the Citizens' Committee.

The Newton Police Benefit Association has already paid each widow $1,000 and in addition has agreed to cancel its annual ball so that those usually called upon to patronize this affair will be encouraged instead to contribute to the Bell-Murphy Relief Fund.

The police force, to a man, has contributed one day's pay to the fund, and the same degree of magnanimity, as already demonstrated by the citizens of Newton, has raised the total received to date to $3,000.

The Citizens' Committee, now actively participating in the solicitation of funds for this worthy cause, consists of the following:

Fred M. Blanchard, Henry E. Bothfeld, Warren K. Brimblecom, William M. Cahill, C. R. Cabot, Wilfred Chagnon, William F. Chase, Edwin O. Childs, Frederic J. Driscoll, Charles B. Floyd, John B. Foley, Edward J. Frost, James P. Gallagher, Roland F. Gammons, Charles E. Hatfield, Guy Hopwood, Michael T. Hughes, Phillip S. Jamieson, Seward W. Jones, Thomas F. Leehan, Albert M. Lyon, M. Lester Madden, Edward N. Marcus, Donald D. McKay, John W. Murphy, Daniel Needham, Henry J. Nichols, Seward M. Paterson, William H. Rice, James L. Richards, Frank L. Richardson, David L. Rosenberg, Leverett Saltonstall, Frank A. Schirmer, Frank H. Stuart, Rupert C. Thompson, Charles E. Valentine, Julius E. Warren, Abraham C. Webber, Sinclair Weeks, Thomas Weston, George L. White, Thomas W. White.

Contributions should be sent payable to the Bell-Murphy Relief Fund, W. M. Cahill, Treasurer, 93 Union st., Newton Centre.

Lottery Salesman Gets $50 Fine

Salvatore Campisi of 142 Calvary st., Waltham, who conducts a shoe repairing shop at 1393 Washington st., West Newton, was fined $50 in the Newton court last Saturday when found guilty of promoting a lottery. He was also given a suspended sentence of three months in Middlesex County prison. Campisi was arrested on a warrant that morning by Inspector Hammill of the Newton police. On the preceding Thursday Hammill trailed Campisi's 13-year-old son when the latter rode from West Newton to Nonantum. In the boy's possession Hammill found a large number of slips used in connection with the so-called "nigger pool," a number lottery. Hammill then procured an admission from the boy's father that he had been serving as an agent for a number pool syndicate.

Childs Will Run Again For Mayor

Mayor Edwin O. Childs announced last Friday that he will again be a candidate for Mayor of Newton. He stated: "If I am re-elected, I will strive to make a good city better." He commented: "We will have a contest, but no quarrel." Mayor Childs ran for Mayor the first time in 1913, and was elected. He was re-elected for seven successive terms of two years each. In 1929 after Sinclair Weeks had announced his candidacy, Mayor Childs decided not to run. In 1935 after Mayor Weeks had stated he would not seek re-election for a fourth term, and the candidacy of General Daniel Needham had been announced, Mr. Childs again became a candidate, and was elected in December of that year.

Newton Burglars Held for Jury

George Milligan, 19, of 21 Cottage pl., West Newton, and Carl Pintabona, 17, of 96 Underwood ave., West Newton, were arraigned in the Newton court on Thursday on charges of having committed three burglaries. Police testified that the pair had confessed to having entered the following residences—those of Anna Starr, Ireland rd., Newton Centre; Edward Bergonzoni, 115 Harding st., West Newton; David Hill, 46 Bemis st., Newtonville. They are also charged with having committed two burglaries in Waltham. Lieut. Crowley stated that jewelry stolen from Mrs. Starr's home had been recovered; the prisoners showing the police where they had hidden the articles.

The two youths had been engaged in the painting of house numbers on sidewalks, an activity brought into Newton by outsiders for the purpose of obtaining money from householders by solicitation after this work had been done without authorization from the persons in front of whose homes the numbers were painted. The youths observed that the houses were empty as they did the painting, and were tempted to enter them. Dennis Cronin, attorney for the pair, asked that they be placed on probation, but, Judge Allen refused such leniency and held each in $1500 bonds for the grand jury.

A DANGEROUS CONDITION

The accident this week in Newtonville square, although not a particularly serious affair, calls attention to a dangerous condition that exists in that locality. This condition is naturally more acute in periods of heavy traffic. We refer to the practice of many drivers of making a left turn onto Walnut street from Washington street in front of traffic proceeding on a green light. It is only natural for drivers with cars which possess quick pick-up to attempt to get across in front of the oncoming procession of cars that have gathered while waiting for the green signal. This action prevents additional congestion and entanglement of traffic in the square. However, unless steps are taken to correct the situation some pedestrian who has been unable to get across Walnut street on the pedestrian light, or some car picking up speed rapidly coming along Washington street is likely to become involved in a serious accident. We believe that to require automobiles to make a left turn around the signal would only tend to increase the congestion that already exists in attempting to keep traffic moving regularly through this area. The remedy exists in requiring traffic to make a left turn only upon a green arrow which should be installed there, and further requiring drivers to stay in the proper lane of traffic in which to make this turn. As it is now many drivers make bad matters worse by making a third lane of traffic on that side of Washington street designed for east-bound moving vehicles. We suggest that traffic officials make a survey of the traffic making this left turn at this point and we believe that they will find a sufficient volume to make the installation of the green arrow a desirable improvement.

Rotary Club

Mr. Edward T. Richardson, New England Manager of the Dunlop Tire & Rubber Company, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Brae Burn Club. His talk concerned the history and development of the rubber industry and present methods of manufacturing rubber tires. He pointed out that the first rubber bottle was brought to Boston in the year 1805, and the first rubber shoes were introduced into the States in 1820.

Until 1910 Brazil had the monopoly on rubber production. It sent 30 long tons to the United States from South America in 1825. By 1910 this had risen to 83,000 tons. At that time rubber was selling for $3.06 a pound on the market. However, in the meantime, rubber trees had been cultivated in the East Indies and the Orient and soon the crude rubber from these places broke the Brazilian monopoly. In 1934 1,019,000 long tons were imported into the United States, and only 1.4% of this came from Brazil.

Two of the most important factors in the development of modern auto tires came about as a result of the discovery of vulcanization about 1847, by Charles Goodyear, and the formation of the British Dunlop Company for the manufacture of pneumatic tires in the year 1888. Mr. Richardson spoke of the methods in which latex rubber is now compounded with certain acids and powders to make modern long-wearing tires. The increasing quantity of production has allowed a decrease in the cost of tires to the consumer.

CHILDREN'S SINGING GUILD

Mrs. Florence Wood Russell, director of the Children's Singing Guild of Newton, announces the program for the coming season, rehearsals for which began October 3rd. Beginning promptly at nine a. m. on Saturday mornings, in the Playground house on Tyler ter., the entire Guild have their vocal exercises, followed by practice of several favorite ballads and folk songs. Next comes a period of work on the new "Choral speaking," the reciting of poems in unison. A session of play, either basketball or games is then in order, giving an opportunity for relaxation and freedom from restraint. Upon the sound of the whistle, the Guild once more settles down to serious study, this time the rehearsing of one or more of the choruses from the season's opera, "All at Sea," an arrangement of some five of Gilbert and Sullivan operas, by Harvey Worthington Loomis. A solo number, volunteered by a different member each week, either song, reading or dance, is a feature, intended to give poise and confidence before an audience. The Guild now numbers over sixty boys and girls, between the ages of five and thirteen, and very few more will be accepted. Auditions are held every Saturday at nine, and will continue for two weeks more only. There will be a Christmas party, and the club will study and offer in a radio program, the Carols from the Kentucky mountains, which they gave last year over WCOP.

A special moving picture show for young people will be given at the Capitol Theatre, Allston, on Saturday morning, October 23rd at ten o'clock under the auspices of the Junior Mother's Rest Club for the benefit of the Mothers' Rest at Oak Hill, Newton.

From June until the middle of September six two weeks parties are planned. Each party includes twenty mothers and their children of five years of age or younger. This year the guests at the Mothers' Rest totalled one hundred and twenty-three mothers and one hundred and ninety-one children. These guests are invited from the churches and charitable organizations of Greater Boston without discrimination as to race, color or creed.

Sunbeam Chats

"Oh! dear—Guess I'll have to give up sucking my thumb. Mother is sweet about it but I know she would rather I didn't. It's such a joy when things go wrong. What else is a thumb good for anyway? The District Nurse says sucking your thumb is a bad habit. What's it to her, it's my thumb. See you next week."

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

Newton Kiwanians Plan Annual Kiddie Movies

Elaborate plans are being formulated by the "Entertainment Committee" of the Newton Kiwanis Club. This year as in past years it will sponsor a Movie Frolic for the Newton Children proceeds of which are donated to the Underprivileged Child Fund. The day chosen for this affair this year is Saturday, November 13th, at 10 a. m. in the Paramount Theatre, Newton Corner.

The screen part of the program will consist of a number of screen varieties, with "Popeye, The Sailor Man," on hand to delight the children's fancies, a "Spotlignt" reel and surprise subjects, followed by a full length Western Feature picture titled "Powder Smoke Range.' This picture was chosen by the committee principally because all together in the same yarn of the old west are seen such old time and modern time screen characters as: "Hoot" Gibson, Harry Carey, Bob Steele, Tom Tyler, "Big Boy Guinn Williams," "Boots" Mallory, Sam Hardy, William Farnum, Art Mix, Buddy Roosevelt, Buffalo Bill Jr., Franklyn Farnum, Buzz Barton and William Desmond. NEWTON
In The

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, Oct. 16, 1875

The epizootic is again among the horses in this section of the country, but it is yet not so bad as formerly.

We publish this week a full text of the ordinances adopted on Monday by the Aldermen, giving the new Ward lines. Ward 1 has been divided and now makes Wards 1 and 7. Some territory was taken from Ward 2 for the new Ward 1. A slice of Ward 5 was added to Ward 6.

The Newton & Watertown Gas Light Company reduced the price of gas on October 1st to $3.75 per thousand cubic feet. This makes a very liberal reduction, and we hope the increased consumption will enable them in the future to make an even lower price.

The members of Steam Fire Engine 2 of West Newton started to New Bedford on their excursion on Friday morning. They had procured new caps of a very neat pattern, dark blue material, and marked in front N. F. D. No. 2. It is rumored that a reception will be given them on their return this (Saturday) afternoon.

Mr. Sawin, the popular master of the Bigelow School in the 4th District at Newton, is making special efforts to secure the co-operation of parents to the end that scholars may complete the studies set them each day in school rather than to keep them after school for this purpose. Unless the lesson is learned in school, the scholar is expected to learn it at home, and recite it on his return to the schoolroom.

The Water Commissioners have contracted with the Worthington Company of New York for one of their duplex pumping engines. It will be located at the pumping station to be built in Upper Falls and will be ready on June 1st next. It will be able to pump 5,000,000 gallons of water daily to the height of 184 feet into the distributing reservoir 4 miles distant.

The movement in the city government to have doors in all public buildings swing outward is one we are glad to see. In some of our halls, school houses and churches, if an alarm of fire should sound when they are full, the loss of life might be frightful.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Oct. 14, 1887

Adjutant Benyon is proving a very popular military instructor at Newton High School.

The Newton Electric Light and Power Company is now supplying Watertown with 40 incandescent lights for street lamps, which will be used in place of gas lamps. The incandescent lights are of 25 candlepower and are said to be proving perfectly satisfactory.

The Read Fund committee has arranged for the annual course of lectures to begin in Armory Hall, Newton, on November 15. George Makepeace Towle will start the series, giving two lectures, on November 15 and 29 on "Iron, Printing and Steam," and "Great Modern Inventors."

There is a good deal of complaint about the discontinuance of street sprinkling. The city government passed an order to have the streets watered until November 1st, and on that representation property owners paid what they supposed was half the cost. Now, the water carts have been abruptly taken off and inquirers are told that the city's appropriation is exhausted. This may be so, but those who paid their assessments feel they paid for six months sprinkling, and have been deprived of one-sixth of it.

The new electric-motor car on the Cambridge Street Railway was a disappointment because of its slow rate of speed. We hope this will not discourage the new Newton Street Railway from experimenting with electricity. The defect in the Boston car will probably be remedied long before the Newton railway begins operations.

BORROWED. Will the person who accidentally took the umbrella from Eliot Hall, Newton, at the religious service last Sunday evening, kindly oblige the owner by leaving it at the office of C. F. Rand in the postoffice building.—(Adv.)

The Board of Health will visit the low land about Cork City, Newton Centre, on Saturday afternoon to see what has caused the great prevalence of maria there the past summer. About half the inhabitants have been sick.

Mr. Allen of Allen's School, West Newton, has leased for the use of his boys, as a playground, the land on Elm st. known as the common. The land is owned by Mr. Brackett.

Four barge loads of young ladies from Lasell Seminary went to Concord on Monday. After visiting all the places of interest in which that town abounds, they ate their lunch on the banks of the beautiful river, and on their arrival home voted the affair to have been a "jolly good time."

A party of young ladies and gentlemen from Newton Highlands took a moonlight ride on tricycles last Friday evening. A run of 12 miles was accomplished in about 2 hours.

Edward H. Powers' Paragraphs

One of the most attractive areas owned by the public in Greater Boston is the Metropolitan District reservation between Faneuil and Newton, between the Boston & Albany railroad tracks and the Charles River. When the writer was a boy, this area was marsh land, with foul smelling mud flats exposed much of the time, during periods of low tide. Later, the dam was built at the Craigie Bridge in Boston and the Charles River Basin created. The land along the river, between Newton and Faneuil, and also on the Watertown side was acquired as part of the Metropolitan Parkway system.

For many years the Metropolitan Parkway Commission, and its successor, the Metropolitan District Commission, gradually evolved the area between Faneuil and Newton from an unsightly spot, into a beutiful recreation park. Trees and shrubs were planted and have matured, an excellent parkway was constructed, the land along the river was filled and graded, and a bathing beach constructed just over the Brighton line. The wide stretch of river is used as a harbor for many motor boats, and in winter skating is enjoyed on the river by thousands. The reservation has been kept in excellent condition under the supervision of the Speedway Station of the Metropolitan District.

Last July the pleasing aspect of the parkway at Faneuil started to become disfigured by the erection of a handball court near the bathing beach. The huge, wooden structure took form very slowly. It was erected by boys, under the auspices of the National Youth Administration. A couple of carpenters could have erected it in a few days. It took weeks for a crew of boys to build the plain walls of the court. Then, the structure toppled over and the N. Y. A. boys took several more weeks to pull the walls apart. Rebuilding the court has consumed the intervening time to date, and the crude structure is still unfinished.

Any fair-minded person will agree that the youth of this country, in large part, have been facing very unfavorable conditions the past nine years. Millions of boys and girls have found it difficult to obtain employment. The National Youth Administration meets the approval of a large percentage of citizens as a movement to provide greatly needed assistance for the morale of American youth. But, why should the N. Y. A. condone such stalling as has been evidenced in the construction of the handball court at Faneuil? Would it not have been much better to have had the boys who worked on this project, sufficiently industrious to have erected the simple structure within a reasonable time, instead of loafing on the work to a ridiculous degree? Then they and others could have benefitted from the exercise which the game of handball gives. It would be preferable to pay the boys for playing handball, rather than pay them for becoming trained in the habit of loafing. Inertia has been characteristic of a large percentage of so-called workers on WPA projects. It doesn't augur well for the future of the youth of this country if the N. Y. A. encourages boys to idle on tasks assigned them.

In the past two Mayoralty contests in Newton we took an active part as a member of Thomas W. White's campaign committee, and as one of the nine citizens selected by Edwin O. Childs to serve on his campaign committee. This year we will not serve on the campaign committee of any mayoralty candidate.

In coming issues of the GRAPHIC we shall state why our ardor for one of the candidates has cooled. Our reasons may not be convincing and will not be written with the expectation that they will materially affect the result of the coming election. If we possessed the tact, discretion or practicality exercised by most men who succeed in the material things of life, we would maintain a prudent silence. But, being one of those persons utterly lacking in shrewdness, who persist in saying what they think, in being actuated by their feelings rather than by expediency or economic determinism, we shall frankly tell why for the first time in the twenty-four years Edwin O. Childs has been a Mayoralty candidate at ten elections, we shall not be speaking or writing as one of his endorsers.

It is not a pleasant task, but, since we were so militantly for Mr. Childs in 1935, we believe our readers are entitled to know why our sentiments have changed. What we shall write may be interesting to some, amusing to some, and irritating to others. Since we were openly critical of Sinclair Weeks' candidacy in 1933 and that of Daniel Needham in 1935, we cannot be accused of being partial.

In justice to the Bradys, the real name of the gangster who was killed at Bangor by the G-men was John A. Barton. Incidentally, it is getting to be rather monotonous to have every bandit captured or killed by G-men labelled "Public Enemy, Number 1."

The foliage this autumn did not change on a large percentage of the trees. The same condition obtained in the autumn of 1936. A sufficient number of trees, however, had their leaves take on the gorgeous hues which have won for New England the reputation of providing nature lovers with one of the most magnificent yearly spectacles in the world. The foliage along the Mohawk Trail was especially beautiful the last week end, and the hills of Vermont brilliantly beautiful.

A year or so ago the Newton Board of Aldermen voted to take land at Oak Hill for a parking space, despite the fact that a business area in that district is a thing of the future. The Aldermen acted wisely in making provision for a parking area in Newton's most thinly settled district. If the Aldermen do not co-operate in the latest plan to provide Newton Corner with a parking area which has been needed there for 20 years, they will certainly lay themselves open to a charge of gross inconsistency.

Arrest Man For Begging In Newton

Dennis Murphy, 55, who gave his home address as 11 Pine st., Boston, a lodging house, was arrested at Newton on Sunday night for vagrancy. Murphy had been going from house to house in the Hunnewell Hill section asking for aid. Word was phoned to police headquarters and Patrolman Riley found the man in hard luck eating a meal in a house on Hunnewell ave. In court on Monday Murphy told Judge Allen he could not work because he is in poor health. He asked not to be sent to the State Farm. His wish was granted and he was sent to Middlesex County Prison at Billerica.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Newton's Greatest Want

What Newton needs most at this moment is a genius. There are several on hand already, I'll admit, but none of them has produced that which our city is in dire need of. As beautiful as Newton stands before the world, how much more impressive would her October grandeur be if it were not for burning leaves and rubbish piles. Smoke therefrom obscures our vision, stings our eyelids and makes them smart, fills our lungs and causes us to cough and, worse still, endangers our happiness. If we cannot see each other clearly how may we expect the rest of the world to view and appreciate our full splendor. And yet there seems no other way of disposing of the accumulation of fallen leaves, withered grass, etc. The problem is acute, immediate! Newton must be rescued. Let the call be widespread for a mechanical wizard who will, without delay, invent an outdoor furnace for SMOKELESS brush fires!

Wasted Sympathy

When I learned that a good friend of mine was keeping house all by himself because his wife and children had gone for a brief visit to the mountains I thought I would call on him to cheer him up. Whatever possessed me to consider him an object of even mild pity I do not know. Of course he was not unhappy when I found him. He was preparing his evening meal at an hour when others were beginning to think of bed. He explained he had just got around to it. On his invitation I sat in the kitchen while he concocted a soup. "Tonight's piece de resistance," he exclaimed, "and strictly original. See what I put in it." And I did. Going about the refrigerator shelves and vicinity he began collecting ingredients. First some hamburg steak, then some sliced onion. On these he poured a can of tomatoes, adding, presumably from the Sunday dinner left-overs, lima beans, green peas, celery, a dash of curry powder, of mustard and of Worcestershire sauce. For stock he used hot water. When I saw that weird preparation boiling on the stove and its cook smiling proudly upon it, I resolved that a man who could eat such an awful mixture was not entitled to the least bit of sympathy.

Improved Conditions

With the Newton schools in regular session and everybody's routine resumed, bicycle riding on sidewalks is increasing. As for pedestrians occasionally knocked flat by the wheels, they, too, may count on an early picking-up.

Calling Names

It doesn't happen to be our own local railroad line that is urging school pupils to send in names for locomotives and yet the idea interests me. It used to be the custom years ago and there is no reason why children of the present generation shouldn't get a thrill from it. I suppose that if we saw a name which had been suggested by a member of the family we would display a feeling of pride. I know nothing of the rules of the competition but I can see how names submitted could be based on allusions to one's own domestic circle. Nothing is more prominent on a locomotive than its whistle. Next comes its bell. Both are distinctive. It might, therefore, be fitting if one of these thundering "iron horses" could be called "Dad," the allusion being to father's puffing after extra exertion. Or "Brother," who screeches when he's lost his football or something and wants the household's help. Or "Sister," who has a way of screaming over small matters, or "Uncle" who snorts at most of the Washington news he reads in the papers. The ringing of the engine bell might suggest the name of the family member who receives the most telephone calls or the greatest number of visitors at the front door.

Letters To The Editor

ADVOCATES PARKING SPACE

To the Editor:

The proposition to arrange for a parking space at Newton Corner at the rear of the Bacon Block is to be commended. It is possibly the beginning of the idea for the solution of the other Villages in Newton.

Take Newton Centre for instance the proposition has been made several times by the unthinking or those who have never known the history of Newton to take the Common in front of the Mason School for a parking space.

A study in each village might reveal also back land with poor building that had better be removed and the land turned over to a present day use of relieving congestion.

Newton Resident World Famous

Dr. William H. Workman, who died on October 7th, at his home, 300 Franklin st., Newton, in his 91st year, had lived quietly in this city for the past twelve years after a lifetime of activity in the medical profession, and as a world famous explorer and mountain climber. Dr. Workman was born in Worcester on Feb. 16, 1847, the son of William and Sarah (Hemenway) Workman. He was graduated A.B. at Yale University in 1869, receiving the degree of A.M. from that institution in 1872. He was graduated M.D. at Harvard Medical College in 1873, serving as medical interne at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, in 1872-73. After taking postgraduate courses at the Universities of Vienna, Heidelberg and Munich, he began the practice of his profession in Worcester, and quickly won a prominent place in medical affairs in city and county. He was physician to the Worcester Memorial Dispensary during 1875-79; pathologist to Worcester City Hospital during 1875-78; visiting physician during 1878-86, and visiting surgeon in 1887. He was city physician of Worcester during 1876-77. Ill health caused his retirement from practice in 1889. With his wife during 1892-96 he traveled by bicycle in Belgium, Holland, France, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, and made pioneer tours through Italy, Sicily, Spain, Algeria and Tunis, visiting also Morocco. In 1896 they visited Palestine, Syria, Turkey, Egypt and Greece. During the winters of 1897, 1898, and 1899, they made pioneer journeys by bicycle of 1,800 miles in Ceylon, 1,500 miles in Java, and 14,000 miles throughout the length and breadth of the peninsula of India, visiting all parts of these countries for the purpose of studying the people, their architecture and art. They also visited Burma and made two expeditions to Singapore and the Straits Settlements, Cambodia and Southern Siam to study the remarkable temples of Angkor Wat and Angkor Tom. In the summer of 1898 they made a journey of some 2,000 miles from Srinagar in Kashmir through Baltistan, Ladakh, Nubra, Suru and Sikkim. In 1899 they made an expedition to the great Biafo glacier in Baltistan, reaching Hispar pass at its head, 17,500 feet. On their return they ascended two snow peaks of 18,600 and 19,450 feet rising above the Skoro glacier; the latter being named for Mrs. Bullock Workman, and the snow peak Koser Gunge, 21,000 feet in the Shigar valley. In 1902-03 they made two expeditions to the northern part of Baltistan, exploring the Chogo Lungma glacier and its branches, Hoh Lumba, Sosbon and Alchori glaciers, never before explored, mapping regions previously unvisited and unmapped, and passing many weeks together at altitudes of more than 15,000 feet. In August, 1903, taking advantage of the only five days of suitable weather during the season, they made first ascents of the snow peaks at the head of the Chogo Lungma glacier, Mt. Chogo, 21,500 feet, and Mt. Lungma, 22,568 feet. Dr. Workman with two Italian guides further attained a height of 23,394 feet on a third peak adjoining and rising above the other two. This was a world's altitude record at the time and was especially noteworthy on account of his advanced age. In 1906 they made the first exploration and mapping of the Nun Kun mountain group in Suru, Kashmir, camping on ice, the highest camp being at an altitude of 21,300 feet, the highest camp till then made by mountain climbers. They made the first ascents of two sharp snow peaks of 19,080 and 20,571 feet, and Mrs. Workman with two guides ascended a third peak of about 23,000 feet. In 1908 they explored the 37-mile long Hispar glacier in the province of Nagar on the edge of the Pamirs and its larger branches to their sources; again crossed the Hispar pass, 17,500 feet, and descended the Biafo glacier for the second time into Baltistan, these two glaciers joining at the pass and forming a continuous ice-stretch of 74 miles. They also made the first ascents of two snow peaks in that region, the highest being 21,350 feet. In 1911, on the seventh Himalayan expedition, they explored the region south of the Baltoro glacier, including Aling, Masherbrun, Komdokoro, Chogo Lisa, Kondus, Sher-pigang, and Dong Dong glaciers, previously unexplored; ascended the Bilaphond glacier, crossed the Bilaphona La, an 18,400 feet snow-pass connecting it with the recently discovered Siachen glacier, 50 miles long, the largest, longest and most complicated of Himalayan glaciers, made the first exploration of the upper half of the glacier and its two largest affluents, and ascended two steep snow peaks of more than 21,000 feet.

Waban Boys Take Tractor, Hit Trees

Three Waban boys, trying to be smart, started to operate a tractor of the bull-dozer type last Friday afternoon on Quinobequin rd., Waban. The boys, who are high school students, found the key to the tractor, which was being used by employees of the Newton Street Department, after the men had concluded their day's labor, and started the powerful vehicle. As the operation of a tractor is quite different from that of an automobile, the "mischievous" youths could not steer the bull-dozer and collided with several trees. A neighbor, realizing the danger, telephoned police headquarters and Patrolmen Taffe and Riley went to the scene in a police car and stopped the activity of the pranksters. No complaints have been issued against the youths. They will probably get no more punishment than a lecture.

Nash Cars Now Air-Conditioned

The world's first automobiles utilizing a conditioned air system for winter driving were previewed in Boston on Monday by August Osterlund, local dealer in Nash automobiles. The preview, staged especially for dealers and salesmen of this area, was held in connection with a nationwide series of pre-announcement meetings that are being conducted throughout October by officials of the Nash Motors Division of Nash-Kelvinator Corporation.

In addition to viewing the new Nash cars for 1938, Mr. Osterlund heard in detail Nash Motors' merchandising plans for the coming model year.

"The company," he said, "will shortly launch the largest advertising campaign in its history. Having established outstanding sales gains in 1937, it will seek to better these records in 1933. Local newspaper campaigns, 'tailored' to fit the needs of individual dealers in their own communities, will constitute the backbone of the campaign.

"Nash Motors has set its sails for what it believes to be the biggest automobile year in history," he continued. "Recently, the company completed a $2,000,000 program of expansion in its factories at Kenosha, Racine, and Milwaukee, Wisconsin, which virtually doubled production capacity and which was designed to keep step with the company's rapidly-mounting sales curve."

The Program committee, with Mrs. Hortense Creed Railsback as chairman, has arranged a most varied and delightful series of lectures and entertainments for the coming year. As a second feature of the afternoon, Mrs. Lucy Simonds will give her delightful Recital-Talk on Wagner's Opera, "Die Walkure." Mrs. Simonds is both a musical and literary interpreter of operas, and so brings to her audiences a most unusual fund of information and enjoyment.

As heretofore, this first meeting will be Bundle Day for the benefit of the Mayor's Relief Committee, and as there is a great need for clothing, each member is urged to bring a contribution.

Four solos were rendered very beautifully by Mrs. Pearl Bates Morton, accompanied by Mrs. Moses Gulesian.

This was Garden Club Day and the hall was decorated most appropriately with beautiful flowers and plants. Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, chairman, introduced Mr. Gardner Campbell, of Wakefield, who gave a very inspiring lecture entitled "On the Ridge Pole of New England," illustrated with about 200 gorgeous colored slides. He covered the wonderful mountains and lakes of New England, and showed pictures of both summer and winter scenes to compare the arts of beauty. Some of the pictures were taken under very difficult conditions and some were taken from air-plane. Many views from the air and mountain peaks the lecturer obtained when he established a new record for Mt. Washington, this year, by ascending the 6,293-foot peak four times in one day between sunrise and sunset—on foot, by automobile, by air-plane, and by the historic cog railway. Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Newton Centre Woman's Club began the new Club Year with an appreciative and enthusiastic audience of several hundred members enjoying the attractive dance and musical program given by Laura Dalzell and Margaret Reed Martin, Friday afternoon, October 8th. The president, Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock presided for the business meeting, and Mrs. Benjamin H. Badenoch introduced the two artists. Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr. and Mrs. John F. Capron presided at the dainty tea table. Chrysanthemums, asters, and autumn leaves decorated the tea-table and Reception Rooms.

On exhibition at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House Gallery, from October 8th to the 22nd inclusive, is a group of Water-Colors, by Harry Spiers, of Dedham, Mass. Mr. Spiers has received very excellent criticisms from art devotees on his recent one-man showing at the Vose Galleries. His masterful way of painting, with bold, sweeping strokes, and the poetic feeling he instills in his subjects, give his productions at once a feeling of definition and mystery that commands attention. The Gallery will be open during this Exhibit every afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

A group of Process Photographs, by William Charles Noetzel of Newton Centre, also will occupy space in the Gallery.

Mrs. Gardner Walworth is opening her home, 855 Centre st., on Wednesday afternoon, October 20th, at 2:30 o'clock, for the first meeting of the Study Group of the Literature committee. Many members and ticket holders of the community have urged the committee to continue this current events feature, which is free to all Club members, and available to others for $2.00 for the season ticket of five lectures, or 75 cents for a single ticket. Tickets are available by telephone or letter from Mrs. Ralph E. Houghton, 73 Allerton rd., Newton Centre, C. N. 4131, or from Miss Miriam Hardy, 524 Ward st., Newton Centre, C. N. 0052.

Speaks on European Fairs At Woman's Assn. Meeting

Edith Winifred Fisher spoke on "An Old Maid Merchant Goes A-Buying" at the afternoon session of the monthly meeting of the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church on Wednesday of last week. Miss Fisher goes to Europe annually to buy wares at the Trade Fairs of that country which she described in a most interesting manner. It was her experience to observe the British Royalty shopping at the British Institute Fair, where exhibits from every country of the Empire may be seen. The Lord Chamberlain and the President of the Board of Trade accompany members of Royalty to the fair where the shoppers make known what they wish to purchase, to the former who passes the word on to the latter who in turn goes back to the stall and gives the order.

She told also of visits to fairs in Leipzig and Vienna.

The women of the Association met in the morning to sew for the Newton Hospital. Luncheon was served by Group Four, Mrs. H. F. Keiser and Mrs. John Elliot, chairmen. Plans are going forward for the bazaar featuring Old Home Week Nov. 9 and 10.

Many novelty shoots were enjoyed under the direction of Miss Brewer, Mr. Frentz and Mr. Norton. Dinner was served in the open by a large fireplace and Miss Brewer awarded prizes and souvenirs to all attending.

Among the Newton Archers present were: Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Nash, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Van Roosen and Hugh and Donald Van Roosen, Mrs. L. A. Schall, Mrs. J. D. Traylor, B. J. Seaman, Mrs. J. C. Wingett, Elaine Tailby, Mrs. D. E. Goldich, Bob Goldich, W. E. Long, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Frentz and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Whitten.

Judge Lenient With No-License Driver

Dr. Waldo B. Jones of 122 Overbrook rd., Wellesley, was arraigned in the Newton court on Thursday charged with driving a car after his license had been revoked. The license was revoked after Dr. Jones had been convicted for driving while under the influence of liquor. Jones was apprehended on Wednesday night on the Worcester turnpike by inspectors from the Registry of Motor Vehicles who were checking up on cars and drivers. When asked for his license, he produced a license issued to his brother. Judge Lloyd Allen gave Jones a sentence of 6 months in Middlesex County prison—and then suspended the sentence.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

LAST MINUTE SCORE GIVES EVERETT WIN

With less than two minutes of play Captain Hal Everett and his mates from Everett High dug down into their repertoire of plays to snatch a last-minute 6 to 0 win over Newton High last Saturday at Dickinson stadium. The Newton defeat was its second in succession and its second in which defeat came in the closing minutes of its game. Everett's victory was its first in three games, having played two previous tie contests. Throughout the entire four periods neither eleven showed little offensive strength and both were guilty of frequent inexcusable fumbles which stalled their attack.

The Newton outfit fumbled five times and the visitors three. Everett recovered four of the Newton fumbles and took the ball on downs on the other occasion. Newton recovered two of the visitors three miscues and took the ball on downs on the other. Five of the total of eight fumbles occurred within about six minutes of play in the third period and within a space of twenty yards in Newton territory. Late in the fourth period another Newton fumble gave Everett the ball just over the midfield stripe in Newton territory and set the stage for the eventual solitary score of the game.

Taking advantage of its recovery of the ball on the Newton 43 yard line an Everett forward passing attack functioned where it had previously failed. Five passes, three of which were completed ate up 36 of the necessary yards and two rushes gained seven. Walker, Everett back featured in this advance gaining twelve yards on the first pass, four on a rush, seven on another pass, and four on the second line play to put the ball on the Newton seventeen yard line. A pass to Brickley, nephew of the famous Harvard Charlie Brickley of two decades ago, into the end zone brought the touchdown as the Everett substitute end made a pretty jumping catch to complete the play. The try for point by placekick was wide of the mark.

Penalties which usually are frequent in a Newton-Everett contest were few with Newton drawing the officials ire but three times and Everett but twice. An offside penalty of five yards and another of a similar distance for taking too much time in putting the ball in play together with a holding penalty cost the orange and black a total of 25 yards. The visitors drew a 15-yard setback deep in their own territory and a five yard offside penalty for a 20-yard total. Everett had a five to four advantage in first downs.

Neither team threatened throughout the first half when a kicking duel between Fitzgerald of Newton and Watson of Everett kept each team in its own territory. Newton failed to cross the midfield stripe while in possession of the ball in the first half while the best Everett could do was to penetrate to Newton's 42 yard line. On this occasion a possible scoring march was averted when Castoldi intercepted a pass on the Newton 30-yard mark and returned it six yards.

Shortly after the second half kick-off which Castoldi ran back 18 yards to the Newton 33 and Newton had ground out a first down the series of fumbles began. Fisher had plunged through center after Hines had missed a first down by inches on an end run to put the ball on the Newton 45. The attack stalling Castoldi attempted a quick kick. The ball was partially blocked and recovered by Newton linesmen on the Everett 45. On the next play another fumble gave the ball to Everett. Hughes broke through to nail the carrier for a five yard loss and Everett kicked to the Newton 30. Castoldi reeled off 15 yards on a tackle jaunt but another fumble returned the ball to Everett's possession on the Newton 40. Four plays later, after Everett's air attack had not functioned, an Everett fumble gave the ball to Newton on downs on their 33. Newton returned the compliment on the very next play. Not to be outdone Everett handed the ball back to Newton by the same method on the next play on the Newton 27. Finally Fitzgerald kicked to the Everett 35-yard marker to put the ball in Everett territory again. Here Weldon recovered another Everett fumble to give Newton a shot for the goal from the 30-yard line. The Newton attack missed fire completely and Everett took the ball on downs. A 15-yard penalty set the visitors back to their 15 yard line and a short kick gave Newton the ball at the 37-yard line. The home team reached the 26-yard line and a first down and then the 20-yard line with fourth down and four yards to go. An incomplete pass gave Everett the ball. Another Everett kick slipped out of Sohaski's grasp as he was smothered by tacklers and Everett recovered on the Newton 43 to set the stage for their scoring journey.

Following the kickoff after the score there was but a quarter minute to play and in two attempts the Newton interference could not shake their ball carriers free for a sixty yard touchdown run and the game ended.

ARCHERS HOLD ANNUAL COLUMBUS DAY SHOOT

The Newton Archers held their 24th annual championship tournament on Columbus Day at the Newton Centre playground. Sixty-five archers participated despite threatening weather and high winds which resulted in generally lower scores. Mrs. Grace Harrison won the Club championship for ladies establishing a new record for the Metropolitan Round with a mark of 108-668. This mark exceeded the previous total of 111-663 made by Mrs. Dorothy S. Cummings on Columbus Day, 1927. Miss Thelma Phillips, sister of Mrs. Harrison, was runner-up and Mrs. L. F. Whitney in third place.

W. C. Shedd is the new men's club champion with B. J. Seaman, second and J. Albert Shief, third. In the junior division Bob Goldich again won the title breaking his own record of a year ago with scores of 89-601, thirty points above his old mark. Leonard Berkowitz was runner-up in this division and Donald Van Rosen third.

James F. Waterman of Waltham captured the open championship with W. C. Van der Pyl second and M. S. Pearce of Waltham, third. Mrs. Hazel Wilson of Waltham won the ladies open with Mrs. Flora Bryant of Worcester second and Miss Lillian Callamore third. Bradford Cheney of Worcester won the open junior honors with Arnold Tofias of Newton second and Barbara Collester third.

Championship cups were awarded Mrs. Harrison, Mr. Shedd, Bob Goldich and Mr. Waterman. The improvement cups for members went to Albert A. Shief and Mrs. W. E. Whitney. The Nisbet Bugle for highest practice score was awarded Mrs. G. P. Harrison and the Nisbet Arrow for highest average score for the year's four quarterly shoots went to Mr. Shedd. The Dallin medals in gold, silver and bronze were awarded the first three members to place and numerous other medals, pins and prizes were awarded.

Mrs. Blanche Traylor was awarded the Cummings Handicap trophy and Roger Bryant the Mariner Handicap cup. Mrs. Ruth Dick of Worcester was high lady for handicap score, Mr. Leon Gagnon high man with handicap, and Roger Bryant of Newton Centre, high junior with handicap. Mrs. Dick was awarded the Visitors Handicap cup.

INDEPENDENTS WON TWIN-COUNTY SERIES

Although football is king at present, it is of interest to Newton sports fans to note that the Newton Independents won the Twin-County Baseball League championship for the second successive season. This series was played at Wellesley against the second half winners—Wellesley Town Team. The Newton heroes were the Greene brothers— "Phil" for his pitching and "Dutch" for his hitting, the latter making five hits in six times at bat in the last game.

The deciding game was air-tight until the sixth inning with Wellesley leading 1 to 0. Then the Newton batters broke loose. "Dutch" Greene singled, "Bert" Marrozzo sacrificed, "Bill" Hunnefield knocked in Greene with a single and then scored by good base running on a wild throw to catch him at second. "Freddy" Maguire doubled down the left field line and "Jeff" Jones scored him with another double to right field. Wellesley collapsed after that inning with Newton scoring 6 runs in the following innings and Wellesley adding two runs for a final score of 9 to 3.

Immediately following this game, the champions played a league All-Star team, the score at the end of the fifth inning was tied, 1-1, when the game was called on account of darkness.

The Newton representatives on the All-Star team, chosen by opposing managers, were Lester Slatzer, outfielder; "Freddy" Maguire, second baseman, and "Jeff" Jones, first baseman.

The players on the Newton Independents at various times of the season were Gates, Mahoney, and Dyer, catchers; Rhodes, Ryan, Castoldi, Dyer, Paul, P. Greene, Slatzer and Gallagher, pitchers; Jones, 1st base, and manager; Ferguson, Hunnefield and Maguire, 2nd base; Marrozzo and Hunnefield, shortstop; F. Green, 3rd base; Berry, Colantonio, and Slatzer, outfield. Slatzer, a former New England League player, was of great value to the team during the regular season, with his steady pitching and long distance hitting.

The team which disbanded during the second half sent players to other leagues where they stood out brilliantly, namely, "Phil" Greene and "Brad" Dyer, with Brocksville of the Canadian-American; "Freddy" Maguire, manager of Glace Bay in the Dominion Colling League; Neil Mahoney, manager of Harwich, in the Cape Cod League; Lester Slatzer, Falmouth, of the same league, and "Herb" Gallagher, Malone of the Northern League.

Fined $50 For Reckless Driving

Neil McCarthy, 57, of 25 Essex st., Cambridge, was fined $50 by Judge Allen in the Newton court on Saturday for operating an automobile so as to endanger the lives of the public. According to testimony presented at the trial of McCarthy in the Newton court a few days previously, on Sept. 9th the defendant drove a car out of the by-pass at the intersection of the turnpike and Centre st., Newton Highlands, ignoring the STOP sign at that place. The car he was driving hit a car proceeding on Centre st. and tipped it over. The car struck was operated by Mrs. Anne Horton of Stony Brae rd., Newton Highlands. A woman passenger in the car, and a child riding with Mrs. Horton were injured. McCarthy's attorney made a determined fight against conviction, arguing that Mrs. Horton had a long range view of the intersection. Serg. King who prosecuted the case called attention to the fact that the intersection is a very dangerous one; the view is obscured to cars travelling north, and McCarthy did not obey the STOP sign. Judge Allen withheld his decision until he viewed the locus.

West Newton Theatre Nearly Completed

To Be Known As "Newton" In M. & P. Chain

During the past several months West Newton Square has been a very busy place, as the erection of a large business block containing several stores and a modern theatre has been in operation. Residents of this and nearby sections are anxious to know of the nature of the theatre which is soon to be opened to the public. The "Newton" by name will be the latest link in the M. & P. Chain which operates throughout New England. Construction and equipment sets a precedent in theatre operation and construction in New England. Ultramodern in design, completely streamlined, air-conditioned, and with an entire indirect lighting plan, the theatre will offer a most intimate atmosphere of splendor. Krokyn & Browne of Boston are the architects with the Platt Construction Co. of Cambridge being in general charge. This new de luxe operation will come under the supervision of District Manager F. W. MacManus of District A. The resident manager is Arthur W. Pinkham. An early November opening is being planned—so watch this paper for further information.

Dog Had Rabies Bit Two Children

A wire haired fox-terrier dog which bit two Newton children last week was found to have had rabies. The dog, owned by Mrs. Herbert Jenkins of 129 Dean rd., Brookline, strayed into Newton last Wednesday and bit Joan Hickey, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Joseph Hickey of 80 Ashton ave., Newton Centre. The child was bitten on the lip and it required several stitches to close the wound. On Thursday the dog bit Charles Damon, Jr., 4, of 1205 Washington st., West Newton. The boy was bitten on the leg. Witnesses observed the license number and owner's name on the dog's collar, and the boy's mother notified Newton police headquarters On that same day the Brookline police at the request of the dog's owner, sent out a teletype message reporting that the dog was lost. Newton police notified Brookline that the dog had bitten a child in this city.

Thursday night the dog was picked up by Waltham police and Mrs. Jenkins was notified. She went to Waltham and obtained her pet. As she was driving toward home, the dog attacked her and bit her a number of times. She stopped the car at a filling station and Waltham police were notified. They shot the dog and an examination of its head showed that it had rabies. The two children bitten in this city by the dog are receiving Pasteur treatment. Twenty-one inoculations are given in the course of this treatment. The Newton Board of Health requests that anyone who may have had contact with the dog, report to its office and receive the Pasteur treatment, which will be given free by the department.

These included the day off in six for policemen, and the matter of accepting the offer of the R. C. Taylor Trust for the use of 28,000 square feet of land at Newton Corner for a long-needed parking space.

The Edison company had petitioned for a permit to locate two poles on Bowen st., Newton Centre, near Homer st. A representative of the Edison Company informed the Board that the permit is not wanted now. No persons were present to favor or object when hearings were announced on petitions to improve and accept the following streets—Kirkstall rd., Upland rd., Newtonville; and Wyman st. in Waban. Hearings were also announced on petitions for sewers in Charlesden pk., Newtonville; Caroline Park and Moffat rd., Waban. Several residents of the latter road were present to favor the petition.

The petition of Joseph Leeber for a permit to install and operate four bowling alleys at 1207 Chestnut st., Upper Falls, was given leave to withdraw. Alderman Inches, reporting for the Licenses Committee, said the Chief of Police does not approve of the petition, and that in the past churches at Upper Falls have opposed similar petitions. The confirmation of John H. Murray, recently appointed a constable by Mayor Childs, was again refused. It was laid on the table until the next meeting. Murray had presented a petition signed by 200 persons, asking that his appointment be confirmed.

Appropriations made by the Board included—Health Department, office expenses, $50; laboratory expenses, $75; salary of secretary, $10. Law Department, to pay for two X-ray treatments in the case of Capt. Richard Goode of the police department when he was injured in 1935, $10; Soldiers' Relief Department, additional for relief, $5000; for extra clerical assistance, $14; military aid, $357. Police Department, salary of temporary matron, $5.40; for materials on WPA work at Cold Spring area, mostly for cost of fill, $4000. Claims of two property owners at Eastside parkway, Newton for land damages as a result of the high level sewer being laid through their properties several years ago resulted in appropriations of $362.70 to Marian Sandbrook, 170 Eastside parkway, and $424.80 to Andrew Schwer, 176 Eastside parkway. It was explained that juries awarded such amounts in suits decided at the Superior Court. Trustees of the Cousens Fund were authorized to make a loan of $4700 on real estate.

Offers of $300 from Thomas Fleming for a lot of land owned by the city on Harding st., West Newton; from Frank L. Wilcox for a city owned lot of land on Pickwick rd., West Newton, were received.

A public hearing was ordered at the next meeting of the Board on the petition of Catherine Karalekas for a gasoline station permit at 1365 Cen-

Bell-Murphy Fund Passes $4,000 Mark

Total Mounts Daily Toward $10,000 Goal

The Bell-Murphy Relief Fund, to be managed by trustees to be selected by the Citizens' Committee now soliciting contributions, is climbing daily.

The appeal made to the people of Newton in behalf of the wives and children of the only Newton police officers ever slain in line of duty is receiving heartening response. The goal of $10,000 has already been realized to the extent of forty-three per cent and the active drive for funds has been under way but a week or more.

Contributions are not only coming from those individuals who never ignore the understandable needs of humanity; funds are being received from many corporations and various societies—among them, The Earnshaw Knitting Company, Newton Lodge of Elks No. 1327, B. P. O. E., The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, Newton Catholic Club, and Rohmer Wool Scouring Company.

Checks are being received by the treasurer, William M. Cahill, and should be sent to him made payable to the Bell-Murphy Relief Fund—address. 93 Union st., Newton Centre.

Girl and Boy Reported Missing

Newton police were asked last Monday to aid in locating a Nonantum girl and an Auburndale boy who had disappeared from their homes on Sunday. Andrew Sennett of 316 California st. reported that his daughter, Dorothy, 18, had left her home on Sunday morning and had not returned. It was thought she might have gone to Biddeford, Maine, where she was employed last summer.

Louis DuLong, 13, left the home of his aunt, Mrs. Mary Herlihy, 11 Fern st., Auburndale on Sunday afternoon and did not return. He formerly lived in Sharon.

Democrats To Have Full Ticket

The Newton Democratic City Committee held a meeting last Friday night at the Newton Free Library with Chairman Joseph Dargon presiding. Members were present from all the Wards. It was voted to have a complete ticket of registered Democrats as candidates at the coming city election. Names of several prominent Democrats were suggested as available candidates for the office of Mayor. Another meeting of the committee will be held in the near future to formulate plans for the campaign.

Chairman Joseph Dargon of the Democratic City Committee, in commenting on the action said that the Democrats in this city have been too long used as the tail of the Republican kite in city elections. He said that the Republicans have not been supporting any Democrats for city offices.

Guzzi To Run For Alderman

Alfred R. Guzzi of River st., West Newton, has taken out nomination papers for Ward Alderman from Ward 3. Guzzi served as Ward Alderman in 1935 and 1936. He was defeated for reelection last year by Maxwell P. Gaddis. Gaddis will be a candidate for Alderman-at-Large this year to succeed Benjamin J. Bowen, who is retiring. Opposing Guzzi will be Kenneth C. Tiffin of 110 Prospect st.

Akins to Run For Alderman

James P. Akins of Washington st., Newton, has announced that he will be a candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 1 on the assumption that Major Frank T. McCabe will not be a candidate for re-election. Akins was Ward Alderman from Ward 1 in 1935 and 1936. Last year he was an unsuccessful candidate for Representative to the State Legislature.

AN INTERESTING ELECTION

The determination of the Democratic City Committee to select a complete set of candidates for municipal offices at the election in December, if carried through, will make a decidedly interesting campaign. Insofar as the mayoralty is concerned it is quite obviously an attempt to elect a Democrat in a three-cornered contest wherein the candidates already in the field might conceivably divide the so-called Republican vote. However with three candidates contesting for this office it may be necessary to resort to the counting of second choices under the preferential system which governs Newton elections. In the past elections it has been unnecessary to count such choices as the winner has polled a majority of all votes cast. Possibly the preferential system, the value of which has often been proclaimed by its adherents, may be given a real opportunity to prove its worth.

THIS WONDER WORLD

This week we attended the meeting of an organization where it was our privilege to witness a moving picture showing the products of one of the leading industrial firms of the nation It was remarkable to see the countless products made from many of the natural resources of this country. Chemistry, naturally, is a huge field, but the part that it plays in our every-day life is seldom realized until some such picture clearly demonstrates that this really is a "wonder world" in which we are living.

Does Wednesday's rain mean that we will have that much less snow this coming winter?

Community Forum Starts October 31

The Newton Community Forum has selected for its current season, eight speakers of prominence in this country and abroad. The Steering Committee of the Forum has chosen its speakers with a view toward bringing to Newton, men and women, who, through their experience and work in the fields of politics, economics, and social relations, are thoroughly capable of coping with present day problems in a way that may help to clear the cob-webs from such questions as labor, tariffs, international problems and a hundred other subjects which confront us daily.

On Sunday, October 31st, the first speaker of this season, is Hans V. Kaltenborn, ace of radio commentators, one of the men best suited to give us a view of international problems. Mr. Kaltenborn has just returned from the Spanish battlefront and is well equipped to give a glimpse of Europe as she is today and in what state of affairs she may be tomorrow. Those who heard Mr. Kaltenborn last year will not want to miss him this year and surely those who have not heard him have a great treat in store for them.

On November 14, "Labor's Needs and Demands, and How Labor Proposes to Meet Them" will be discussed in the form of a symposium composed of Thomas R. Burns, Vice-President of the United Rubber Workers of America and Regional Director of the National C. I. O.; John F. Gately, President of the Massachusetts State Federation of Labor; and James T. Moriarty, Commissioner of Labor and Industry in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. How will Labor and Capital get along, placed together on the same platform?

On November 28, we shall hear George Sokolsky on "In Defense of Capitalism." Mr. Sokolsky has worked and traveled widely among Far Easterners as well as in Europe and in this country. He has visited nearly every state of the Union, looking carefully into different political groups. It will be interesting to see why and how he defends capitalism. Besides being a lecturer, Mr. Sokolsky has written several books and articles, some of his better known works being, "We Jews," "Tinder Box of Asia," and "Labor Fights for Power."

Federal Music Project To Give Opera "Carmen"

One of the most unusual musical events ever to take place in Waltham will be a two concert performance of Bizet's opera, "Carmen," under the sponsorship of four of the city's most prominent organizations; the Kiwanis, Rotary and Zonta Clubs and the Teachers' Association at Memorial Hall, Hovey Institute Thursday afternoon and evening, October 28. The reduced price matinee performance will be given for children and will start at 3 o'clock. The evening performance will begin at 8:15 o'clock. The concert, which will be presented by the Federal Music Project, will feature a complete cast of 58 symphony orchestra musicians, a 115-voice chorus and the principal soloists. The opera in its concertized version will be under the direction of A. Buckingham Simson. Mr. Simson is well known throughout New England as a conductor of wide experience. He has produced a number of oratorios as well as the first operatic performance of "Carmen" for the Federal Music Project.

Made Threats To Former Wife

George J. McDonald of Rosemont ave., Waltham was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with threatening to kill his divorced wife, Mrs. Lucretia McDonald of Gordon rd., Waban. Mrs. McDonald produced a threatening letter written by McDonald, and also said he had accosted her outside her home and said he would kill her unless she would pay for dental work he wanted done. She testified that her former spouse wanted artificial teeth so he could join the CCC to earn money to support their three children. McDonald denied making the threats. He was sentenced to serve 3 months in prison, and then the sentence was suspended. A charge against him of neglecting to support his three children, was continued until April, 1938.

Annual Pilgrimage To Andover-Newton

The annual pilgrimage for young people from Greater Boston churches to the Andover Newton Theological School was held last Sunday. About 800 young men and women, and children participated. One of the features of the pilgrimage was a candlelight procession around the campus on Institution Hill, which was followed by the presentation of a lectern to the school's new auditorium. The principal speaker at the meeting was Miss Margaret Slattery of Boston.

Savings Bank Life Insurance Passes Half Billion Mark

In less than eight months the Life Insurance Department of the Newton Savings Bank, which was established on March 1st, 1937, has issued over one-half million dollars of Savings Bank Life Insurance.

This excellent record is a result of the interest which has been shown by prominent business men and civic leaders of Newton in presenting the facts in connection with this form of life insurance to the people of Newton.

Every means has been taken to make it easy for Newton citizens to buy their life insurance "over the counter," as every bank in the City is an Agency for Savings Bank Life Insurance. The four co-operative banks of the City have the distinction of being the first co-operative banks in the State to adopt this form of service to their customers.

Splendid co-operation has been given by the employers of the City in providing information about Savings Bank Life Insurance to their employees. In several instances invitations have been extended to the State Division of Savings Bank Life Insurance to send an instructor to industrial plants in the City to explain to employees the savings made possible through this low cost plan of insurance.

The Kiwanis committee in charge of affairs have secured dozens of first-class toys, etc., to be given to lucky children in the audience, not to mention the home-made candy that is in itself a yearly treat that is looked forward to by both young and old. Tickets for this show to be held on Saturday, Nov. 13th, at 10 a. m., can be purchased at the box office of the Paramount Theatre at Newton Corner. Proceeds are to be contributed to the Underprivileged Child Benefit Fund.

American Red Cross

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross will be held on Wednesday, the 27th of October, at 7:30 p. m. at the Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton. Its purpose is to elect a Board of Directors, consider any reports, and transact such other business as may properly come before the Chapter.

Dr. William DeKleine, M.D., Medical Assistant to the Vice-Chairman, American National Red Cross, in charge of the Red Cross participation in the pellagra control movement in the Southern states, will be guest speaker.

Dr. DeKleine has participated in Red Cross relief in every major disaster in the United States since 1927, and has had wide experience in medical relief work. He first became associated with the Red Cross during the Mississippi Valley flood in 1927, aiding in the direction of an extensive health program which included the screening of nearly 7000 homes to control malaria, the distribution of more than 200,000 barrels of crude oil for treatment of stagnant water, to control mosquito breeding and distribution of 25,000,000 grains of quinine sulphate to fight malaria which raged in the wake of flood waters.

Prior to his connection with the Red Cross, Dr. DeKleine pioneered in the field of public health, and was one of the first physicians to serve as full-time health officer in Michigan. Health officers in most states had heretofore followed a part-time schedule.

He was appointed director of the Tuberculosis Division of the Michigan Health Department in 1915 to conduct a two-year campaign against the dread disease. He organized clinical groups under the direction of tuberculosis specialists which toured the state, thus introducing to America what has come to be known as the traveling tuberculosis clinic.

In 1925, Dr. DeKleine was selected to direct the Child Health Demonstration at Mansfield, Ohio, a program designed to show adequate methods and procedures in health supervision of children, with funds for the five-year demonstration furnished by the American Red Cross. Following his success with this project he later assumed direction of similar demonstrations at Fargo, North Dakota, and Salem, Oregon, achieving a country-wide reputation as authority on child-health work.

Dr. DeKleine obtained his bachelor's degree from Hope College, his master's degree from the University of Michigan, and his M.D. from Northwestern University. He is a fellow of the American Medical Association and of the American Public Health Association.

Following the Annual Meeting, a meeting of the Directors of the Newton Chapter will be held.

"Your Boy's Career" Is Topic of Mothers' Meeting

"What Career Shall Your Boy Follow?" is the subject of the address to be given by Mr. Herbert Saul at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday at 2 p. m., under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary.

Mr. Saul is Director of Guidance at the Boston Y. M. C. A., and many young men from Greater Boston are constantly seeking his advice and taking the guidance tests which have helped hundreds of young men and boys.

This is the first program meeting of the Newton Auxiliary for this season. Mrs. Arnold C. Barker, the new president, extends a very cordial invitation to all mothers who desire information on one of the most important questions that parents and their boys have to answer, to attend.

ZONTA CLUB

Newton Zonta Club met at the home of Miss Caroline Freeman, in West Newton on Monday evening, and were entertained with a talk and a showing of pictures including the countries of Iceland, Norway, Sweden and Russia given by Miss Olivia Cate, West Newton. Miss Cate's talk followed the course of her recent trip through the North of Europe and the story of her experiences furnished a very interesting and entertaining evening. Miss Ethel Gammons, in the absence of the president, Miss Sturgess, introduced the speaker. Refreshments were served by the social committee for the evening.

On November 8, Zonta Day will be observed by the clubs of metropolitan Boston. A dinner served at the Boston City Club will be followed by a lecture by Alton Hall Blackington.

Miss Ethel Gammons, a Newton Zontian, was honored at the American Bank Women's Convention held in Boston last week when she was chosen New England representative for that organization.

New Men's Shop In West Newton Theatre Building

The many friends and former customers of Mack Paddock are congratulating him on the opening of his store in the new Theatre Building, West Newton.

The establishment has opened as the Victor-Alan Men's Shop, and carries a full line of nationally advertised furnishings and shoes for men and boys.

Mr. Paddock was for several years associated with Barron's of West Newton, and gained a large following of friends.

Mr. Paddock said to a GRAPHIC reporter, "Knowing how particular men are about their haberdashery, I had their tastes in mind when I selected my stock. I have also put in a line of Douglas shoes for men and boys, also rubber footwear and work clothes. While mine is a men's store, I'm going to make it a pleasant place for women to shop for the men of their families. I shall give them the benefit of my ten years of experience, and extend to them every assistance and courtesy."

NEWTON
In The

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, Oct. 23, 1875

What splendid October weather we have had this week.

The declination of Mayor Hyde to serve another year leaves the question of the next Mayor open to general discussion. The candidates mentioned are many. Newton can easily furnish a hundred gentlemen of requisite ability to serve as Chief Executive of the "Garden City." Several gentlemen who have been mentioned for the position positively decline to allow their names to be used. Among these are Aldermen Edmands and Keith, R. M. Pulsifer, and Charles Robinson, Jr. Either of these gentlemen would honor the position. Among other names prominently mentioned are Col. F. J. Parker, Alderman Rice, Alden Speare. One thing is certain; Newton can easily find men within her limits who will honor the position, and we hope that when the choice comes, it will fall upon such a man.

The City Government appropriated $25,000 extra for highways at the last meeting. This will make the total expenditure in this department about $125,000, of which $20,000 was brought over from last year, so that the actual cost of the highway department this year will be about $100,000. Only a small part of the work asked for in the city this year has been done. There is a very strong pressure upon the committee for improvements, and it is often difficult to determine what is best to do at a given time. If all the improvements asked for were done in one year, the expense to the city would be about half a million dollars. Some 40 teams are kept at work in this department, and about 100 workmen A large amount of work has been done this year. There is no doubt but that the money has been expended in a way to make the most of every dollar of the appropriations. Never has the city received so much benefit in proportion to its expenditures in the highway department as for the past two years.

You must not forget the Ladies' Centennial Tea Party in Eliot Hall next Tuesday evening. Hon. Leverett Saltonstall will briefly welcome the assembly. The entertainment will be very attractive. No tickets sold at the door.

The late concert by "The Haymakers" was not financial success, the expenses being $521.73 and the receipts $442.50. Their purpose was to dedicate Eliot Hall in an appropriate manner. The expenses of the many rehearsals were larger than first anticipated. It was hoped there would be something left for the Girls and Boys Homes, as it was the intention of the managers to give something to these causes.

There was quite a lively time in the Newtonville depot last Saturday evening. As a woman in the ladies' room was reaching forward through the window in the ticket office, she lost her balance and landed on her head in the ticket office. Instead of going out through the door, she went back through the window, the way she came in. Whether she had been imbibing too freely of lightning juice or not, we do not know.

We learn that only three tenements are vacant at Newton Highlands. People are learning how desirable a place for residence this vicinity is, and in consequence are settling there.

The list of voters in the territory on Hunnewell Hill, recently acquired by annexation from Boston, was certified by the Aldermen at their meeting on Monday night.

At the city election the polls will be open from sunrise to sunset. The Aldermen will be in session on November 1st from 2 to 6 p. m. to place names of new voters on the lists.

Newton Graphic, Oct. 21, 1887

H. H. Cutler rode up the Centre st. hill at Newton on Thursday on his hickory wooden tricycle, made by Sterling Eliot. Cutler rode up the hill with his hands in his pockets, and he is willing to put up a wager that he can make better time in his cimbing on this tricycle than can be done on any other make of tricycle.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday, Constable Martin Laffie, dog officer of Newton, reported that he had killed 57 unlicensed dogs during the summer, and had caused a large number of dogs to be licensed.

A license has been granted by the Aldermen to John W. White of Newton Highlands to organize a drum corps, provided that the practice of the drummers will not annoy the public.

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night Alderman Ward of Ward 6 brought up the question of the street railway location at Newton Centre by presenting a petition from property owners on Homer st., who with one or two exceptions ask that the railway be located on their street as it will accommodate more people than the Beacon st. location, and will be a direct and feasible route from Newton Centre to the cemetery. A remonstrance was also received from residents of Beacon st., praying that no location for the railway be granted on that street, as it would be an injury to their properties and a damage to the street.

Edward H. Powers' Paragraphs

Last week we stated that in coming issues of the GRAPHIC we would tell why our ardor as a political supporter of Mayor Edwin O. Childs has cooled. We shall not indulge to any degree in political controversy. Our narrative will deal mostly with humanities. It may seem to many of our readers inconsequential, but after all, Edwin O. Childs was not first elected Mayor of Newton because of political prestige, nor was he re-elected many times because of political considerations. It was his personality which caused him to be selected by the Democrats in 1913. It was his personality which won for him successive elections as chief executive of this city. Conversely, it was his personality which caused some of those who constituted the minority, to vote against him repeatedly. Mr. Childs, being human, could not favorably impress all who knew him. And there were those who admired Mr. Childs because of his personality, and who voted for him in the earlier years of his tenure as Mayor, but who did not approve of his political acts, and who in later years voted against him for this reason.

We shall not make ourself ridiculous by attempting to psychoanalyze Mr. Childs. We never studied psychology. Our remarks will be more of an analysis of our own thoughts and reactions, as we tell why we loyally supported the Mayor for twenty-two years, and why our attitude has changed.

We have known Edwin O. Childs for almost as long as we can remember. As a child we resided near his home. The gang of small boys who lived on Washington st., between Peabody and Church sts., used to frequent the large, vacant lot of land on Richardson st., opposite Ed Childs' home. It was known as the "tennis field," because one of the first tennis courts in Newton was located there at one time. There were no public playgrounds in Newton when we were kids, and the tennis field was a handy place on which we played our scrub baseball games. Ed Childs, several years older than the youngsters included in our gang, was a frequent and amused spectator at our athletic activities. He was not athletically inclined himself. He was a studious boy, very friendly and democratic, and we all liked him. Going back nearly a half-century ago, it was something for a boy to be as democratic as Ed Childs was. Racial and religious prejudice was more open in those days. In recent years it has diminished to a large extent in New England, and those who still are afflicted with it, conceal it to a considerable degree.

Newton is an unusual community. Favored by nature with an attractive topography, with hills, vales and ponds, it started to evolve about a century ago from an agricultural community into one of Boston's most exclusive residential areas. In Colonial years water power on the Charles River had caused industrial villages to grow at Newton Upper Falls and Newton Lower Falls, and about 75 years ago textile mills were started at North Village, changing that district into the industrial section later known as Nonantum. These three villages became populated by people of the working class. Upper Falls and Nonantum from the middle of the 19th century became thickly settled with persons of foreign birth. So, to a lesser degree, did the plain north of Washington st. at West Newton. The remaining parts of the city developed into residential sections dotted with the estates and homes of wealthy Boston business men and the white-collar class. Newton became the "Garden City," essentially a residential community in character, and preponderantly Republican politically. Class consciousness was evident in political activities in Newton.

With the growth of Newton it changed from town form of government to that of a city in 1873, and its first Mayor started to hold office in 1874. We heard oldtimers assert that in the earlier years of this city working people were treated with sufferance by some city officials, and even with rudeness. As a boy we were told by old city laborers that Mayor Kimball, who served from 1884 to 1888, inclusive had been liked by city employees. City elections were conducted on a partisan basis, and Republican candidates were easily elected to the office of Mayor, and with few exceptions to the offices of Aldermen and City Councilmen. Democrats were quite in the minority. For the most part they were citizens of Irish birth or extraction. They did not elect a candidate to political office in Newton until 1890, when William Grace was elected to the Common Council. In 1897 John Briston was the first Democrat elected as Alderman from Ward 1.

In the earlier years of Newton's history as a city no stable political machine or organization existed. About 50 years ago there was started The Newton Club. It was organized essentially as a social body, but its clubhouse at Newtonville soon became the informal political headquarters of the city. The club was an important factor in selecting candidates for Mayor and the Board of Aldermen. Newton Club members were actuated by a desire to select men they thought were well qualified to serve in the city government and for the welfare of Newton. But, many citizens resented the prerogative allegedly assumed by the Newton Club. For some years mayoralty contests in Newton were perfunctory. Some man, usually a citizen who had served in the Board of Aldermen, would be selected well in advance by the group of influential Newtonians, and his election was assured. Mayors were elected for a one year term, and the majority of them held the office for two terms. The only active opposition against the uninterrupted Republican domination started in 1896 when the Newton Jefferson Club was formed. William F. Baker, an attorney residing in Newtonville, was the dominant factor in this club. He ran for Mayor at two elections and made a strong showing against Edward B. Wilson in 1898. He also made a determined campaign against John W. Weeks in 1901.

In 1902 the city charter was changed so that the term of the Mayor of Newton was extended from one year to two years. It was a gentleman's agreement that a Mayor should serve one term of 2 years, and then retire. Mayors J. W. Weeks, Weed, Warren and Hutchinson followed this practice. Mayor Hatfield broke it, ran for a second term, was elected and served four years from 1910 to 1913 inclusive.

The candidate selected by the Republicans in 1913 to succeed Mr. Hatfield was Allston Burr of Chestnut Hill. Mr. Burr was a native of Newton. His father, Isaac T. Burr had been one of the city's most prominent citizens. His brother Heman M. Burr had served as Mayor of Newton in 1890. Allston Burr had graduated from Newton High School in 1885, from Harvard in 1889; he had

Bearing the Strain

There was a poignant touch given the appeal of residents of certain streets who asked the city authorities to prohibit the operation of heavy trucks on these thoroughfares except during specified hours. Complaint was emphatic of the devastating effect on the nervous system. Similar terrific noises have at times caused me much suffering. I do not think the results were as grave as those described by these West Newton remonstrants who declare the clamor "interferes with our sleeping; cracks our ceilings." Personally I have endured rackets which I thought would crack my ceiling but which, when I later passed my brush and comb over it, I found to be intact.

Must Look Into This

Memo on 'phone pad: " 'Constant Reader' called up while you were out to say that the smokeless brush fire idea in last week's column was pretty fair but he thinks it would be better to invent a combination lawn furnace and chimney and have the chimney pointed into the ground so that the smoke would go down instead of up in the air."

Big Hearted

The letter I received postmarked Habana (Havana to you) offering me "the chance of a lifetime" and telling "why you should play the Cuban National Lottery" was not the puzzle communications of this kind sometimes prove. I thought it odd I should be on a lottery's mailing list until I observed that the envelope was addressed to "Newton North," indicating they had obtained my name from the telephone directory and that everybody in the exchange would be similarly favored. Incidentally I wondered whether these letters had been mailed to "Middlesex" subscribers and if so where they finally landed. The circular impressed me chiefly because of its assurance that "you have the same chance as a resident of Cuba to win a fortune." Such noble and overwhelming generosity was not for me to take advantage of, especially as I could not promise that Massachusetts, when and if it gets a State lottery, would be willing to share the prize money with Cuban ticket-holders.

Not Overpaid

Admiration of G-men is not confined to boys and young men. We are all pretty strong for John Edgar Hoover, the head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and his courageous associates. What they were called upon to do in Bangor last week is an example of the constant danger to which they are exposed. Dwelling on it I wondered what pay they receive and found that an agent, after fourteen weeks' training, starts at an annual salary of $3200 and the highest he may expect, unless promoted to a ranking position, is $5400. Although allowed railroad fares he is restricted to $5 a day for expenses, this to include hotel, food and other legitimate expenditures. At least most everybody will agree that a G-man is not overpaid for taking his life in his hand every day.

Oddments

All this talk of extra-sensory perception that is going on introduces the highly interesting study of intuition, "hunches," telepathic communication, clairvoyance, etc. But it would never have achieved such a popular hold on the public as now appears evident if somebody hadn't thought of using only initial letters. The question, "How's your E. S. P. today?" won't frighten those who ordinarily would scatter or climb a tree if asked as to the state of their extra-sensory perception.

On a particularly fine October day a parade of Boston Elevated snow plows on the tracks of the Newton-Brighton line provides an incongruous sight. Of course we know these important devices must be overhauled early in order to meet any emergency, including a premature blizzard. And yet it may be a scheme of the Elevated to stimulate early Christmas shopping.

GENTLEMEN, WE GIVE YOU THE MOST MODERN CHASSIS IN THE WORLD
NOW ON DISPLAY at BUICK Showrooms Everywhere

Under the new beauty of Buick, modern engineering makes history, co-starring the DYNAFLASH ENGINE and TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING

WHAT HAPPENS inside the 1938 Buick engine happens nowhere else in the world.

That is not advertising language, it is cold-steel engineering fact.

Speeding through the raceways of the intake manifold, the fuel mixture vapor hurricanes into the cylinders at speeds around 250 miles an hour.

As it sweeps past streamline valve contours, a scientifically designed Turbulator, built into the piston face, flings it into airswirls of terrific turbulence.

The spark that leaps through that compact storm-center sets off a flashing cyclone of power, exploding with tornadic force!

Sitting in the driver's seat you become aware of power that is livelier and more brilliant because gasoline is giving up more performance than it ever gave up to motorists before!

TO MATCH this incomparable stride, Buick engineers now give you a kind of springing you will likewise find on no other car in the world.

Poised on jarless coils of easy-flexing steel, Buick floats free of bobble, jar, chatter, jounce.

The car will not over-steer or under-steer—skidding, even on icy highways, is blessedly reduced.

Rear tires no longer scuff half their life away through power-wasting wheel-slip.

Through winter and summer, without need of grease and without "seize" from rust, dirt, water or ice, springs keep their gentle, even cushioning for the life of the car

YES, IT IS a great story, the story of these twin engineering triumphs in the 1938 Buick.

So great a story that it obscures half a score of other advances, themselves enough to make any car a wonderful buy.

We invite you to learn more about them this week at any Buick showroom.

The Wrestling Team of the Newton Y. M. C. A. had its first meeting and work-out of the season Monday evening. Thirteen members of last season's team reported to Coach Dr. Fred E. Sim. They are: Bob Young, Wesley Curran, Warren Storer, Tony Paglia, Leonard Morrison, Angelo Bonica, Ben Kritzman, Hardy Curran, John Tomaski, Charlie Kolaway, Bill Bennett, Bob Kiley and Ernest Sharp. Plans were discussed for the coming season, followed by a short work-out. Practice will be held regularly on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. was represented by Newton C. Burnett at the annual meeting of the Executive Committee of the Massachusetts Squash Racquets Association held Thursday at the Union Boat Club. The Newton "Y" has entered two teams in the Class C division, and one in the Class D division.

Boys Cause Fire At West Newton

A large shed at the rear of 141 Webster st., West Newton, was destroyed by fire last Thursday night. The building was owned by the West Newton Savings Bank and had been used as a clubhouse by boys of the neighborhood. According to neighbors some of the boys tried to start a fire in a stove in the old structure by pouring kerosene on some wood. The boys made a hasty exit from the building and the flames were going briskly when Box 313 was pulled about 7 o'clock.

Find Runaway Girl In Gravel Pit

Sue Korpito, 19, of Sunderland, Massachusetts, was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday. The girl, allegedly of quite limited intelligence, ran away from her father's farm the preceding week and was brought to Boston by a man who had gone up to the Connecticut Valley to buy onions. After being in Boston a couple of days, according to the story she told the Newton police, she met a Wellesley youth in a Boston night club and he took her to a shed at the Riverside Sand & Gravel Company property at Lower Falls where she was found last Tuesday by Patrolmen Green and Powers. She was arrested and sent for detention to the House of the Good Shepherd. It was found she was on parole from the Lancaster School for Girls. Because the Newton police did not desire to ask for complaints on statutory grounds against the girl and her alleged companion from Wellesley, Judge Weston hesitated about taking action on the case. At the request of the police he gave the girl a suspended sentence to Sherborn, with the understanding that she be placed in some institution. She was released in the custody of a State social worker.

Drunken Driver Drunk In Court

Nicholas Broadwater, 41, of 12 Durant st., Roxbury, was arrested at Newton Centre on the night of Oct. 9 by Patrolman Rogers on charges of drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Oct. 11 and his case continued until Oct. 18. When he appeared in court last Monday he was again drunk, and Judge Weston ordered that he be again arrested on a second charge of drunkenness. The judge had fined Broadwater $50 for driving under the influence of liquor and $10 for drunkenness. Because of ordering Broadwater again arrested for being drunk, the judge revoked his findings and continued the case until Tuesday, as the defendant was led back to a cell at police headquarters. In court on Tuesday, Broadwater was fined $50 on the drunken driving charge and $10 on each of the two drunkenness charges.

Gravel Pit Fight Again In Court

The efforts of the Newton Board of Aldermen to stop the continuance of a gravel pit business at Oak Hill, and which have been defeated the past two years by injunctions obtained by George Wilbur, head of the Highland Sand & Gravel Company, enter another phase on November 1st when arguments will be offered in the Superior Court by City Solicitor Bartlett and Wilbur's lawyer relative to the injunction which prevented the city from enforcing an ordinance prohibiting heavy trucks from using Dedham st. The ordinance was passed by the Board of Aldermen after Wilbur had obtained another injunction which nullified action of the Aldermen in refusing to again renew a permit for the operation of machinery at the pit.

The pit was started about 10 years ago, Wilbur getting a temporary permit to operate machinery in a residence zone from the then Public Buildings Commissioner, Cecil Chadwick. The following year Wilbur obtained a renewal of the permit for another year when he told the Aldermen that it would take him 5 years to complete the excavating at the property he owned. Subsequently, Wilbur's company made extensive excavations on other areas of land which he did not own. Oak Hill residents for years have been protesting at the large amount of heavy trucking caused by the operating of the pit.

Star Market Celebrates 22d Birthday

Now Has Stores in Watertown Newtonville, Wellesley

The Star Market Company, said to be the largest, independent, owner-managed food organization in Greater Boston, is celebrating its twenty-second anniversary with a Sale in its Watertown, Newtonville and Wellesley stores, which will continue the balance of this week.

Beginning two decades ago, in a small store in Watertown, the Star Market has grown steadily. The first outstanding step was doubling the area of the Watertown store. Fine foods, free delivery service, telephone order department and the convenience of charge accounts at no extra cost, brought the Star Market thousands of customers, not only throughout Watertown, but from Newton, Belmont and other neighboring communities, and made necessary the added space to assure proper service.

At this time, Newton trade began developing so fast that in order to relieve the pressure on the Watertown store and to give Newton customers better service, a second store was opened in Newtonville in 1934. In less than a year, this new store, already proving inadequate, was expanded to twice its original size by the addition of the space then occupied by the Newtonville Branch of the Newton Public Library, next door.

History repeated itself in Wellesley. Hardly had the Newtonville Star Market been opened, when Newton customers began telling their Wellesley friends about it. More and more Wellesley people ordered; until finally the logical move was to open a third store for the convenience of the many Wellesley customers. This was done last February. And so immediate was the response from the women of Wellesley, Natick, Needham, Weston, and Sherborn, that the new Wellesley store has, in eight short months, become the leading complete food store in that town.

With three modern, handsome stores, featuring only the very choicest of foods at surprisingly moderate prices, the Star Market management offers its customers today every facility to make the buying of food more convenient and more appealing than ever before. There are approximately 300 employees in the organization; 39 incoming telephone lines are connected to special, latest-type telephone tables in each telephone order department; 20 up-to-date trucks deliver orders free; and more than 4,000 families are enjoying the Star Market charge account privilege. And all these conveniences are available without extra cost.

The Star Market is an example of what owner-management and a sincere "customer-is-always-right" policy will accomplish. That the public has enthusiastically responded to this policy is evidenced by the Star Market's consistently-growing clientele and rapid expansion from a small store to three large stores in the short space of twenty-two years, each store being complete in every sense of the word and offering its customers the convenience of purchasing under one roof every fine food they might need or desire.

Among the communicable dieases reported were scarlet fever, 1 case; mumps, 1; lobar pneumonia, 24; pulmonary tuberculosis, 5. Milk samples tested totalled 219, and 61 tests of Newton water were made.

Improvement Assns. Seek Co-Operative Plan of Action

An unusual and important meeting of representatives of the various Newton Improvement Associations was held at the home of Albert M. Chandler, president of the Newton Centre Improvement Association, last Thursday evening. Officers from the associations representing Waban, Newton Highlands, Newtonville, Newton Lower Falls, Oak Hill, West Newton, and Newton Upper Falls were present.

Mr. Chandler explained that he had called the meeting because, since he had become president of the Newton Centre Improvement Association, he had taken note of the fact that no means for co-operation, or even intercommunication, was available for the different associations. Mr. F. C. Alexander, Secretary of the Newtonville Improvement Association, had in time of need undertaken to make contact with other associations, but in a public-spirited rather than an official capacity.

The possibility of some sort of central committee, to advise when cooperation between the associations was necessary, was thoroughly discussed; but by general consent action was deferred. On the matter of intercommunication, Mr. Norman A. Hall, Secretary of the Newton Centre Improvement Association, was instructed to keep available for the secretaries of all the associations a current list of the officers of all the organizations in Newton which were or acted as "improvement associations."

Newton Among Cities Promoting Better Hearing

Hearing Week, October 24-30, has been designated by the American Society for the Hard of Hearing as a time for concentration upon our hearing, and especially upon the hearing of children. It is estimated that there are ten million adults in our country who have impaired hearing, and reports on audiometer tests of school children in our leading cities indicate that between 5 per cent and 6 per cent of our school population have hearing difficulties.

It is the aim of the American Society for the Hard of Hearing to promote the alleviation of the handicap of deafness, so far as possible, and to prevent deafness in the next generation. Newton is among the progressive cities co-operating along these lines.

Free lip reading classes for the adult hard of hearing have been offered in our evening schools since 1924. Hearing Week is an excellent time to visit or to join these classes.

In 1928 the School Department purchased a phono-audiometer for testing the hearing of the school children and since 1930 a definite program for the detection of those pupils whose hearing abilities are below normal; the correction of their hearing defects, and instruction in lip reading for those whose hearing loss, prognosis, and school progress make it seem advisable.

In the school year 1936-7 Phono-audiometer tests of 1,033,286 school children in cities, towns, and rural districts throughout the country revealed that 64,417 had impaired hearing. Reports were received from over 20,000 of this group who were examined by an ear specialist or at an ear clinic.

In 1930 the audiometer tests in Newton showed that 4.5 per cent of the number of children tested had hearing defects. Concerted effort to have these defects corrected has reduced this figure to 2.6 per cent for the school year 1936-7. At the close of the school year there were 243 pupils with a hearing loss of 9 sensation units or more in one or both ears. One hundred twenty-seven have had otological examinations, 37 had their defect corrected during the school year, and 36 are in lip reading classes.

Rotary Club

The meeting of the Newton Rotary Club this week was held at the Newton Hospital. The group was welcomed by Miss Bertha Allen, superintendent, and her assistants. William F. Chase, vice-president of the Board of Trustees, was the speaker of the day following luncheon. He outlined the administration of the hospital and paid high tribute to the staff for the efficient work it is doing. He emphasized the strength of the Nursing School, the Out-Patient Department, and the Social Service Department. Commenting upon the financial condition of the hospital, he praised highly the Newton Community Chest for the helpful part it plays in support of the institution.

Special music for the occasion was provided by a group of boys and girls from the mountain regions of Kentucky who have been guests this past week of Mr. Paul E. Elicker, principal of the Newton High School.

Next Monday the Newton Rotary Club will observe its annual Ladies' Night and Charter Anniversary with a dinner at the Brae Burn Club in the evening. Prentiss Jones, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, has arranged an unusual program of entertainment.

Community Chest

this week. "The necessary expansion of public services during the depression period," continues the statement, "has led some citizens to believe that the public services were replacing private agencies. In Newton we know that this is not the case.

"The public and Chest agencies supplement each other's work and both avoid duplication by the use of a central index which records all cases of relief in Newton. With the rapid reduction of federal funds available for the WPA, it is probable that additional demands will be made on Newton Chest agencies this winter. The $192,305 sought by the Chest in its campaign, Nov. 5 to 16, is vital to the welfare of Newton."

All Newton banks are again cooperating in the campaign and village headquarters will be established in a number of them. The village headquarters for the Residential Division will be as follows: Newton and Nonantum, Newton National Bank; Newtonville, Newton Trust Company, Newtonville Branch; West Newton and Lower Falls, West Newton Savings Bank; Auburndale, Newton Trust Company, Auburndale Branch; Waban, Newton Trust Company, Waban Branch; Newton Highlands, and Upper Falls, Newton Trust Company, Highlands Branch; Newton Centre, Oak Hill, Chestnut Hill, and Waban Hill, Newton Centre Savings Bank.

All other divisions will send their reports to Campaign Headquarters at 93 Union st., Newton Centre.

Aldermen Meet

tre st., Newton Centre, near Crystal Lake.

The Claims and Rules Committee reported adversely on the matter of giving a 2 weeks' vacation to the janitor at police headquarters. It deemed the concession inexpedient. The Mayor was authorized to execute a deed for the acquiring of land for school purposes at Cherry and Derby sts., West Newton. Alderman Bowen said this action was necessary to rectify a mistake made in the taking of the land some months ago. In favoring the expenditure of $4452 for sewers in Caroline Park, Waban, and Moffat rd., $7798, together with a collecting sump and automatic pump at Quinobequin rd. to cost $6310; Alderman Bowen said these expenditures prevented the alternative of a sewer across the Brae Burn Club property which would cost about $50,000. The Mayor was authorized to execute a deed of land to Clarissa Pottinger on Parker rd., Newton Centre to correct an injustice.

Alderman Rawson stated that Alderman Temperley of Ward 5 had raised the question about the legality of tourist houses along the turnpike. He said that City Solicitor Bartlett had looked up the laws on this question and he read extracts from the statutes. The laws specify that anyone who provides lodgings for 5 or more transients is regarded as an innkeeper, and so is anyone who provides meals for transients. Any person who provides lodgings for four or fewer persons, is not listed as an innkeeper. It is assumed that the tourist houses in this city do not provide lodgings for more than four persons at a time, therefore, they are not violating the zoning law. He said the matter had been referred to the Commissioner of Public Buildings, one of whose functions is to enforce the zoning law.

It was expected that action would be taken at the meeting on two important matters. One was the day off in six for members of the Newton police department. The committee of policemen who had conferred on the matter with the Mayor, were hopeful that he would recommend it to the Board of Aldermen so that it would appear on the docket last Monday. But, no recommendation was received.

The other matter was concerning the offer made by the R. C. Taylor estate to the city of 28,000 square feet of land near Pearl ct., Newton Corner, as a parking space. For twenty years there have been repeated demands for such parking facilities. The decline of Newton Corner as a business centre has been attributed by Newton business men to lack of parking facilities. No recommendation was received on this by the Board of Aldermen, so, no action could be taken.

CAPITOL THEATRE, ALLSTON

"Varsity Show," a musical comedy along altogether new lines, and possessed of a sparkling cast, opens at the Capitol Theatre, Allston, for the entire week starting Friday, Oct. 22. A star individual—Dick Powell—and a star organization—Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians—are the top-liners in this melodious, laughable, fast-paced tale of college life as the movie-makers see it.

It is the tale of how the undergraduates of a little educational institution try to put on a show under the supervision of a dignified and gloomy professor, only to realize that he's ruining it with his high-brow notions. Then they go to the city and dig up Dick Powell, a graduate, who by now is a successful Broadway producer, and induce him to come back to school and supervise a real show. Dick and his partner—none other than Ted Healy—take over the job. After many a battle between the modern and the old-fogey elements in the school, a show is put on—and what a show.

Rosemary Lane, lovely to look at, is Dick Powell's romantic feminine interest, while her sister is one of the most original and adept dancers to be seen upon the screen in recent years.

Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, impersonating the college band, have plenty to do in the musical way and there are half a dozen hit songs by Dick Whitney and Johnny Mercer.

As a co-feature attraction, the management will present one of the outstanding pictures of the year, "On Such a Night," starring Karen Morley, Grant Richards, Roscoe Karns and Eduardo Ciannelli.

"On Such a Night" is the gripping story of a girl who fought crooks and maddened rivers to clear the name of the man she loved.

COOLIDGE CORNER THEATRE, BROOKLINE

A gay and magnificent musical that skims in shimmering delight along the silvery Alpine slopes, snow-drenched with dazzling spectacle and exciting beauty, heart-warming with riotous fun and young romance, brings Sonja Henie and Tyrone Power together in "Thin Ice," the new musical romance which opens for a week's run on Friday, October 22nd, at the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline.

Miss Henie is more radiantly exciting than ever as she displays new beauty, new daring and new breath-taking thrills. A delightful romance of mistaken identity affording many hilariously funny situations, "Thin Ice" concerns the romance of a beautiful skating star who falls in love with a man she believes to be a reporter, but who, in reality, is a Prince. There are three elaborate skating numbers with hundreds of gorgeous girls in sensational ice-revels. In these numbers Miss Henie executes many skating routines more difficult than any ever before attempted on ice. The three song hits in the picture are "My Secret Love Affair," "Over Night" and "My Swiss Hill Billy." Others in thee cast headed by Sonja Henie and Tyrone Power are Arthur Treacher, Raymond Walburn, Joan Davis, Alan Hale, George Givot and Leah Ray. It's great, don't miss it.

The co-feature on this "New Movie Season" program is taken from the pages of The Saturday Evening Post, it's "Think Fast, Mr. Moto" featuring Peter Lorre and Virginia Field. Peter Lorre, the screen's master of impersonation thrillingly portrays J. P. Marquand's diminutive Japanese master of crime detection, as Mr. Moto. Others in the cast are Sig Rumann, John Rogers, J. Carroll Naish and Murray Kinnell.

To top off this excellent program of two features will be a new "Stranger Than Fiction" subject and a hilarious comedy called "Affairs of Pierre" featuring that funny man Willie Howard. Of course there will be the latest Coolidge Corner Theatre newsreel.

Coming for the week starting Friday, October 29th, is the year's greatest spectacle picture "Lost Horizon" with Ronald Colman and Jane Wyatt.

Mathematics Teachers to Meet

An invitation has gone out from the mathematics department of Newton High School to many schools in the State to attend a special meeting at Newton High on Saturday, Oct. 30th. Mr. Charles H. Mergendahl, the department head, has been exceptionally fortunate in securing as a speaker Mr. Gordon B. Mirick, of Lincoln School, New York. Mr. Mirick, author of several textbooks on mathematics and teachers of outstanding ability, was a member of the Commission for Revision of the College Board Examinations in Mathematics, and was somewhat responsible for some of the advanced topics in the Gamma requirements. He will tell what is being done at Lincoln School to prepare for Gamma, and will show how it is done. Sessions will be from 10 to 12:30 in the morning, and from 1:30 to 4:00 in the afternoon. Luncheon will be served in the school cafeteria and a tour of the high school buildings has been arranged for those who are interested. Announcement has been made that there will be frequent opportunities for discussion during both the morning and the afternoon sessions. The meetings are open to all who care to attend.

Kentucky Guests at School

Mr. W. T. Francis, Principal of the Carr Creek Community Centre in the Kentucky mountains, Miss Nannie Kelley, one of his teachers, and four of the students of the school arrived in Newton last week-end, the guests of Principal Paul E. Elicker. Mr. Francis and the young people accompanying him delighted several groups with their informal talks and their splendid music. Friday they appeared at a special Block F assembly, and on Saturday they were guests at the Schoolmasters' Club at its Boston meeting. On Monday they attended the luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club, and on Tuesday at the Newton Kiwanis Club, and there, as at other meetings, charmed everyone with their gracious manner and delightful entertainment. The students from Carr Creek Community Centre were Fern Smith, Ogie Back, James Breeding and Raymond Combs.

Safety Education Is Aim of Legislature

Mr. Raymond A. Green, Assistant Principal, addressed the first meeting of the school legislature on Wednesday, October 13, and stressed the need of more attention to the problems of safety. Recalling the splendid plea made the preceding week in the talks given at the high school by General Daniel Needham, Mr. Green made the legislators clearly see the possibilities of helping protect ourselves and others through education in consideration and courtesy and carefulness. Their interest was expressed in prompt action, and a resolution carried to make "Safety Education" the project of the year. A pupil committee is now working on ways of carrying out the legislature's aims.

On Thursday, October 14, two motion pictures on safety were shown at the high school. They were entitled "Remember Jimmy" and "Follow the White Marker." Mr. Horace Kidger, head of the social studies department, discussed the matter of bicycle traffic and stressed the demand for fair play and cooperation from the cyclist who uses the public highways.

Cavalry Club

Frederick Guterman, class of 1938, newly selected leader, presided at the first meeting of the Cavalry Club on Thursday, Oct. 14.

As the club quota of twenty-five was exceeded, it was voted that the first twenty-five qualified would constitute the membership until a vacancy occurred.

Eighteen boys rode Saturday, October 16 at Cards, Weston. The group was divided into two sections, and while one rode the trail, the other received instruction in the ring. In Saturday's party were the following boys: Kenneth Fulton, Charles Mallett, Richard Smith, Sam Thompson, Robert DeLong, James Belloit, Kenneth Chesley, Lloyd Chaisson, David Willard, John D. Lane, John D. Ryan, Francis Meehan, Robert LaCroix, Fred Guterman, Melvin Creem, Norman Midgeley, Harold Woods, and Charles Hancock.

Stuart Chase at Ford Hall

Mr. Stuart Chase, class of 1906 and Harvard, 1910, and one of America's most brilliant and most fearless economists, spoke on Sunday evening at Ford Hall before a packed house. In the clearest and most forceful manner and with a felicitous phrasing of ideas he discussed the topic, "The Chief Problem of Our Generation."

Mr. B. S. Odiome, graduate of University of Michigan and now continuing his studies at Boston University, was the speaker before Mr. Forrest Paige's class in problems of democracy. He talked on farm life and interested the pupils with the problems of agriculture and stories of farm animals.

The annual Junior Red Cross drive in the Newton schools is now under way. Miss Cora E. Rogers is in charge of the Newton High School campaign, and is ably assisted by Miss Helen Cotton and Miss Marion B. McGuire. All pupils are urged to take part in this splendid service, which provides an opportunity to give money to help others. Most of the money collected is used in our own community.

Mr. Charles Mergendahl, head of the mathematics department, spoke before the Tufts College Mathematics Club on Tuesday evening, October 19.

Fred Fairfield, class of 1936 and now a student in Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, took a prominent part in a pageant at Oberlin College last week held in commemoration of One Hundred Years of Co-education in American Colleges. He was chosen for his role as the direct descendant of early leaders in Oberlin's history.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Probation after Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, October 24.

The Golden Text is: "He that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved" (Matthew 24:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I have set the Lord always before me: because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved. . . . Thou wilt show me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore" (Psalms 16:8, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Progress is born of experience. It is the ripening of mortal man, through which the mortal is dropped for the immortal. . . . The death of a false material sense and of sin, not the death of organic matter, is what reveals man and Life, harmonious, real, and eternal" (p. 296).

An Appreciation Of Dr. W. H. Workman

There are men of such keen intellect and of such broad sympathy that they never grow old. Dr. Workman was of this group. He never grew old.

An hour spent in his company was not only a delight but a challenge to thought.

It is true that his life had been filled with unusual experiences which had enriched his mind and broadened his horizon.

With Mrs. Workman he gave the result of these experiences not only to the scientific world but to the reading public. One could travel through many lands enjoying their beauty and their art, seen through their trained eyes.

Having heard him relate some of his experiences in climbing mountains and glaciers and having seen his remarkable photographs I intended asking Dr. Workman to give the talk to the school where my young son was studying. I decided not to do so because I felt sure that my boy and most of the boys in the school would be so inspired by his recital that almost every one of them would resolve to go to the Himalayas and climb those dangerous heights.

We have missed his erect figure walking along our streets followed by a group of faithful dog friends of his neighborhood who were sure of good company and a morsel from his well filled pocket.

We shall miss him more now that we cannot again listen to his delightful conversation nor feel his kindly friendliness.

ELEANOR N. MARCY.

Miss Holmes, one of the foremost women barristers in our state, is the only woman Senator in Massachusetts. She was appointed to sit as a Master by a Judge of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, the only woman ever so appointed. Her service on State Commissions, her experience in several civic offices, and her executive positions in prominent clubs and societies, round out the background which Sybil Holmes brought to the Senate.

Mrs. Benjaminm Dwight Miller, director for the Twelfth District, will be the guest for this meeting.

Tea will be served by the Social committee.

There will be a Food Sale, which will be in charge of Mrs. Joe Gerrity.

The International Relations committee of the Club is planning several meetings for discussion of their subject at the homes of members. The committee invites all interested Club members to attend such a meeting on Monday, October 25th, at 2:15 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Chester C. Smith, the chairman, 54 Shorncliffe rd., Newton. Miss Virginia Pratt will tell of her "Impressions of Present-Day Germany." Members will be given the opportunity to ask questions and to discuss the present complex International situation. Bradford Williams spoke to a large audience at the Newton Community Club meeting on Thursday, October 14th. Beautiful slides were shown of Misery Island in Beverly Woodland at Cohasset, of which there are 640 acres; the Governor Gore place in Waltham, and William Cullen Bryant's home, all of which were definite proof of the Need for "Public Reservations."

Many pictures of England also were shown where the National Trust were instrumental in saving and preserving both mountain and shore. Ralph Tailby, with his excellent baritone voice, rendered a splendid selection of songs, accompanied at the piano by Mary Ranton Witham. The president, Mrs. Frank H. Briggs, extended a hearty welcome to Club members in this beginning of the new season, and invited all guests to come up and meet the officers, after the program, at an informal reception.

Miss Florence C. Bacon, of the Art committee, announced a series of four lectures to be given by Mrs. Elsie K. Chamberlin, the first to be held on November 15th, at the home of Mrs. Harry H. Powers.

Mrs. Ramon F. Gustin reported the opening of a Book Club.

Mrs. C. Lawrence Barber asked members to let her know if they wished to have a kindergarten for the children of that age to be held during the Club meetings.

Opportunity to register for Swimming classes and Bowling teams was announced by Mrs. John MacNeil, chairman of Public Health. She stated also that the Penny Collection would be used for underprivileged children in the Underwood and Bigelow Schools.

The International Relations committee is sponsoring a series of Talks, and Club members were cordially invited to attend any of them by Mrs. Chester C. Smith, chairman.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Allen N. Kee and her committee. Mrs. Louis M. Speare, Mrs. William D. Reid, Mrs. Beverly G. Secord, and Mrs. Garrett Schenck, Jr., were the hostesses.

Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge pleaded with the members to save their furcoats, good-looking hats, and other clothing for a Rummage Sale to be held in the near future.

Federation Topics is a magazine that should be in every member's home, and Mrs. George E. Rawson will take sbuscriptions.

Jack Frost must have skipped a few gardens, for a very attractive Flower Show was held under the chairmanship of Mrs. Donald V. Baker.

Delightful Paintings Shown at Reception

With a background of crimson oak leaves against walls and windows, and colorful fall flowers, the Newtonville Woman's Club opened wide its doors to old and new members on Reception day, Tuesday, October 19th, from 3 to 5 p. m. Music, played by the Kenway Trio; refreshments attractively served by the Hospitality committee; and an Art Exhibit in the Gallery, all added to the charm and pleasure of the afternoon.

At the door of the Social Hall each guest was greeted by the general Hostess, Mrs. Clarence A. Wentworth, chairman of the House committee, while Mrs. Seth M. Kalberg, the head usher, and her many helpers took the guests to the receiving line of Club officers which included: Mrs. George H. Tracy, president; Mrs. R. Charles Thompson, Mrs. George A. Edmands, Mrs. Paul E. Elicker, vice-presidents; Mrs. Charles W. Peterson, recording secretary; Mrs. Raymond A. Green, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ernest S. Tappan, assistant corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clifford B. Whitney, treasurer; and Mrs. William D. Walker, assistant treasurer.

The three past presidents, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe, and Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, were invited to pour, but as Mrs. Crawe was unable to be present, Mrs. Chester S. Merrill, secretary of Finance, took her place.

The many and distinctive paintings in the Art Gallery aroused much enthusiasm and admiration among the guests. Each artist contributed generously. In Mr. Emil Kessler's group, a marine, "The Surf" on Monhegan Island, Maine, boomed with action in its swirling white waves on dark rocks, while in pleasing contrast was his "Haying," a pastoral scene in soft blues and amber tones.

Three very lovely paintings of flowers were contributed by Miss Sarah Woodland, including white chrysanthemums against a subdued background, pink apple blossoms in Japanese effect, and a colorful little study of nasturtiums.

Mr. Fred Daniels again showed his much-liked paintings of Martha's Vineard with the atmosphere of that island in the blue, translucent water, white sails and sands, and soft summer clouds. He also included several rural scenes, "Spring at Harvard" suggesting the coolness of the woods.

Miss Barbara Tolman and Miss Judith Andress, both daughters of Club members, made distinctive contributions; Miss Tolman in two copies, one of Velasquez's Dwarf's Head, and the other, a copy of a Corot landscape; Miss Andress showed gay little water-colors of streets in Rothenberg, with pointed roofs and window-boxes in abundance.

For portraits, Miss Guina Ashberg's study of a Woman in Black Dress was sympathetic in interpretation, and Miss Clare Hudson's Darky Boy with Banjo was delightfully rollicking and care-free in spirit.

Miss Kay Peterson's painting of Mother and Child standing under a cross, with massive, lowering clouds for background, was poignant with drama, and Mr. Bettinger's landscapes showed a fine balance of trees, clouds, and foreground.

A striking still life of White Calla Lilies and a quaint oil-painting of two little girls in foreign dress were exhibited by Mrs. M. H. Smith.

Mrs. Bertha Ried, a Club member, did a Cape Cod Cottage in the modern manner. Especially arresting were her willow-trees in decorative design, and the deep blue sea for background.

Miss Priscilla Ordway showed a marine in rich blues and browns.

Miss Mary Bigelow included a foreign street scene in water-color which was most delicately executed. Mr. Harry Harding, husband of the present Art chairman, showed a delightful study of an old castle in York, England, and Miss Sarah Dow a marine.

The Craft Guild of West Newton showed an interesting display of gleaming copper, pottery, and silver, with clever designs.

The Club is indebted to the Art committee, Mrs. Harry L. Harding, chairman, for their very fine work in obtaining and hanging these distinctive pictures.

Esler, Jr. Other attractive features promised for the day will be a delicious lunch and dinner, an evening entertainment with a noted magician, afternoon tea served by dainty maidens in native costume, and a gifted palmist. A unique feature, and of special interest to the men, will be the gasolene, Prestone, and lubrication cards, and car accessories to be shown.

The American Home committee, Mrs. George W. Hinman, chairman, is busy starting its many activities for the winter. Members of the Club interested in Bowling should call Mrs. A. G. Weintz at once, telephone West Newton 2579, and have the pleasure of joining such a team. A splendid opportunity for bridge enthusiasts is offered in a series of six lessons in Contract Bridge to be given at the Club House by the well-known Culbertson teacher, Mrs. Merton S. Keith. The lessons will begin in November and continue through January, and will be adapted both to skilled players and to beginners. Registrations may be made with Mrs. Harold Sherman, telephone Newton North 4872-W, or with Mrs. George W. Hinman, telephone West Newton 2679.

Club members artistically inclined will be interested in joining a class in Redecorating of Trays and Furniture. For information about this class those interested should call Mrs. Edward Fales, telephone West Newton 3341W. The Newton High School also is offering again the course in Home Decorating which many of the Club members enjoyed last year in its Evening School.

Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols, chairman of the Glee Club, announces the beginning of rehearsals on Wednesday, November 3rd, at 10 a. m. New singers are always welcome, and the chairman will be very glad to make appointments for tryouts during the week preceding the opening rehearsal. Mrs. Nichols' telephone number is Newton North 4921, and she would appreciate hearing as soon as possible from members interested in singing.

The first of the delightful Literary Afternoons will be on Monday, October 25th, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. J. Mace Andress, 67 Clyde st. Books read by Club members during the summer will be reviewed, followed by an informal discussion.

Tea will be served.

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will meet on Monday, October 25th, at the home of Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones, 27 Eddy st., at 2 p. m. The subject will be "Auvergne and Luxembourg". Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield will be the hostesses.

The first meeting of the Hobby Class which was held on October 14th at the home of Mrs. Francis H. McCrudden, 19 Stoneleigh rd., proved most interesting. Mrs. A. William Woglom, leader of the Needlework group, had samples of her work and yarns which were an inspiration to those who were planning to take up this art. The day of meeting has been changed to the first and third Tuesdays for the Needlework Group. If five members are interested in the Arts and Crafts a class in this group may be started with Miss Lockwood. Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader, president, will form and conduct a class in "Personality" once a month, on the fourth Thursday. Any member interested in any of these subjects may learn more details from the leader, Mrs. Patrick Duncan, Telephone, West Newton 2917.

inspiring talks. The president, Mrs. William E. Birdsall, presided.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. J. Earl Parker, a former president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, and at present a director of several of the Community Chest agencies, spoke on some of the social work done in the Newtons.

The last part of the meeting was in charge of Mrs. Sarah Stevens, who, with Mrs. John A. Groves, attended unofficially the World Convention of W. C. T. U., held in June in Washington, D. C., with delegates from fifty-two countries. Each state of the United States sponsored a representative from some country, Massachusetts choosing Estonia, a small republic bordering on Russia. Both Mrs. Steven and Mrs. Groves gave interesting highlights of the Convention. Miss Cora Cobb also gave an interesting talk on the "Influence of the Nordic Peoples on Civilization."

It was reported that there are now a million members of the W. C. T. U. throughout the world. A fund of $1,000,000 is being raised by the circles of this country for the temperance education of the youth of the nation.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Antiques committee has arranged a tour to the Cordover Museum of Lincoln, Mass., for October 27th. Any Club members interested may join the group, and should notify Mrs. Harrison B. Webster, telephone, Cen. New. 0592, if they plan to go.

On Wednesday, November 3rd, at 12:15 p. m., the American Home committee will hold a Luncheon-Bridge at the Colonial Cooking Club, Thorndike building, 234 Boylston st., Boston. The American Home committee held the first "Go and See Trip" on Wednesday, October 13th, when a group of twenty-two went to the plant of the New England Confectionery Company in Cambridge, and were shown through the extensive and finely-equipped establishment. At the end of the interesting tour each Club member was presented a gift.

"Stop-Over," the production written by the playwright Alan Hay, which will be given by the Dramatic committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club at 8 p. m. on October 29th, is a three-act play with a prologue. Painstaking care for every detail is being used in the coaching and stage setting of this drama. The scene of the Prologue is laid in the Breakfast Court of the Hotel Metropole, Shanghai, and the three acts of the play are in the Gift Shop on the edge of the English Concession.

Mr. Hay, the author, is one of the leading figures in the Little Theatre Movement of Massachusetts, and for two years was president of The Amateurs, Inc., of Brookline. He is a member of the Board of Directors of Community Service, Inc., of Boston, and chairman of the Drama committee of this Board for 1937. One of his later plays "Two by Sea" has been accepted by Wesleyan University for production.

Between acts, candy and punch will be served by a group of girls under the direction of Mrs. George H. Waterman and Mrs. Harry M. Sutton, namely, Miss Meredith Waterman, Miss Ann Hitchcock, Miss Dorothy Robbins, Miss Frances Hamilton, Miss Barbara McCabe, Miss Aldith Sutton, Miss Diana Cumner, Miss Elisabeth Rausch, Miss Ruth Randolph, Miss Patricia Taylor and Miss Elizabeth Fales. Mrs. William L. Doten is in charge of the ushers, Mr. Robert A. Andrews, Mr. W. Granville Hawes, Mr. Harry S. Colony, and Mr. Elmer W. L. Davis.

The Membership and Reception committees of the Newton Centre Woman's Club were hostesses for an "At Home" to the new members on Friday afternoon, October 15th. Carley Photo Library Popular With Newton People

The Carley Realty, week before last, sent out to over 8800 Newton residents, snap-shots of the houses in which they live. Apparently this courtesy has been much appreciated as already several hundred extra prints have been requested.

This library of photographs of every house on both sides of over 200 miles of Newton streets has been built up by the Carley Realty in line with the policy that "one picture is worth 1000 words" and it has been found to be a tremendous time-saver for the clients of the Carley Realty.

The Carley Realty office has found homes for the following satisfied customers: Property located at 53 Allen ave., Waban, rented to Mr. Herman E. Hart for Mrs. H. L. Spencer; property located at 15 Sewall st., West Newton, leased to Mr. J. V. Quarles, Jr., for Mrs. Annie P. Avery; property located at 414 Woodward st., Waban, leased to Mr. Chester C. Vaughan for Mrs. Helen E. Stairwalt.

A TEMPLE OF MUSIC IN WELLESLEY

Every music-lover would like to have the best music in his home, but he wants something above and beyond what the radio or gramophone gives him.

He wants the personal touch; he wants to see the musical performer in proper person, even to be able to compliment him face to face on his music. The music-lover of the suburbs labors under another disadvantage, he can not often go to the great city for his music.

The Wellesley Concert Fund has been carrying such music to him on the largest and finest scale since 1925, —great orchestras, pianists, violinists, 'cellists, singers, all of international reputation, have been heard in Alumnae Hall, Wellesley College, always at moderate prices. A beautiful hall, seating 1500, comfortabe seats, ample parking space, called "a true temple of music," well ventilated is usually filled to the last seat with an enthusiastic audience.

The five concerts of the Wellesley Concert Fund series for 1937-1938 offer a variety of the finest musical fare, performed by artists of international fame.

DOG NOTES
PETER BOGGS

Years ago the 30 tyrants of Athens sentenced the great Athenian general "Alicibiades" to death. The old general owned a dog who had been devoted to him for many years. When "Alicibiades" was being put to death, the dog stayed by his side, and though fatally wounded it tried with its teeth to draw the arrows from his master's body after the stricken general had fallen to the ground.

Did you know that all present pure breeds of dogs had a mongrel origin? All setters were not created as such nor were all airedales. Every breed is man made to some extent. It is possible to take a pointer and chow and breed them, and from their offspring establish within six years, a new breed. That means that this new breed would throw puppies entirely like their immediate parents. A throwback to pointer or chow would be possible after six years, but that is even possible in some of the established breeds of today.

The first dog show of which there is any record was held in England on June 28, 1859. There was an entry of 23 pointers and 27 setters, a total of 50 dogs. Today in this country dog shows have entries totalling in the thousands.

Down in Mobile there is a little colored bootblack who has a small stand on a busy street corner. A fine looking hound keeps him company everyday, dozing in the sun beside the stand. Many people stop and admire the dog during the day. Asked if he had many offers from passers-by to purchase the dog he replied that he had many but added, "Why should I sell him? He wouldn't sell me."

Do you know how to approach a strange dog? Dogs are often suspicious of strangers, and as children particularly are liable to try and pat or catch a passing dog, the animal thinking he is going to be seized, turns and snaps. There are two accepted rules for dealing with a strange dog. The first, and perhaps the best, is to leave him alone. The second is to proffer a closed hand slowly allowing the dog to smell your knuckles. This seems to conciliate the most suspicious and nervous dog, and he begins to trust you. Most dogs attack a person because they are frightened and not because they are vicious. When you have the trust of a strange dog you may have no fear that he will attack you.

In February, 1936, Charles T. Naddy left his home in Columbus, Ohio, accompanied by his three year old Irish Setter "Pat," for a trip to San Antonio, Texas. He arrived safely in the southern state but while there Pat disappeared, and after frantic searching for his lost pet Mr. Naddy returned to his home in Ohio, greatly saddened by the loss of Pat. Eleven months later, in January of this year, Mr. Naddy heard a familiar scratching at the door and upon opening it was greeted by a well fed and very happy "Pat." The dog had somehow traveled a distance of approximately 1,800 miles to get home. Along the way she must have encountered many new friends who gave her food and water because she was in remarkable shape when considering the distance she had travelled.

A dog like a growing boy, wants a pal—a pal that is stronger than he is, a pal that he can look up to and admire. He wants someone to love him and become his master—the earthly God of any dog. But remember that before you can become the master of any dog you must secure and inspire confidence in the animal.

Question: When was the AKC organized?—P. H.

Answer: It was organized in Philadelphia on September 17, 1884.

Question: I have a litter of five week old collie puppies and all of their noses are very light colored. What is wrong?—F. B.

Answer: In almost all cases, except where dogs are of solid white the nose darkens into brown and then jet black by the age of five months. Many are born with pink noses, but it is a very rare case when they do not turn black later on.

NEWTON'S THIRD LOSS AS BROCKTON WINS 19-6

Late Game Rally Produces One Newton Touchdown

Newton High lost its third successive football game of the 1937 season last Saturday at Keith Field, Brockton, bowing to a strong Shoe City outfit 19 to 6. Coach Roberts' outfit showed a hard-running quartet of backs behind a fast-charging line to pile up considerable yardage over a somewhat listless and apathetic Newton outfit. When the Brockton running attack failed to click quarterback Buckley of Brockton took to the air and with Captain Saba on the throwing end and fullback Franco on right end, Dodero on the receiving end, several forward passes were completed leading to Brockton scores.

In the final period Newton seemed to be galvanized into life and for the entire eleven minutes played rings around the leading home eleven. With Castoldi running in as good form as any he showed last season and with an apparently inspired line, Newton swept down the field for its touchdown. Taking possession of the ball again another touchdown seemed imminent at the end of a long march only to have a stubborn Brockton line repulse the Newton attack right on the goal line to take the ball on downs as the final whistle blew.

During the first three periods the orange and black had possession of the ball for little more than five out of the thirty-three minutes. In these five minutes the Newton offense was futile and acting Captain Ted Duffy and his mates had to resort to punts to give Brockton possession of the ball after but two or three plays. Shortly before the first quarter was half over Brockton obtained possession of the ball near midfield. A 15-yard penalty set them back temporarily but Saba and Buckley retrieved the lost yardage in two plays. Hammering at the Newton left tackle despite replacements by Coach Sanborn the Brockton outfit completed its 68-yard march for the initial score with Saba going over from the one-yard line. White missed the try for goal by placement. Early in the second period Brockton set out on another march to the goalline. With its attack temporarily stalled a forward pass into Newton's left half back territory clicked for 25 yard gain and a first down on the Newton 40-yard stripe. Again hammering at the Newton left-tackle berth Brockton swept down inside the Newton 10-yard line. Here another forward pass play exactly like the one used at the start of the 55-yard march was completed for the second touchdown with Franco catching the pigskin in the clear. Again White failed to boot the extra point and Brockton led 12 to 0. The half expired before Brockton could get well-started again.

Newton started the third quarter with greater success in its efforts to halt the Brockton onward rush. An exchange of punts gave Brockton another opportunity as Buckley ran back the Newton punt to the Newton 35-yard line. Still hammering at the Newton left tackle with an occasional play to the other side of the line the Shoe City team advanced to the Newton one-yard line. Buckley chalked up the third touchdown and Dodero, right end, place-kicked the 19th point. As the third quarter closed Newton was backed up against the goalline and this time tightened sufficiently to take the ball on downs.

Opening the final quarter Stan Burns, playing his first game for Newton as a substitute for Fitzgerald at the right halfback berth, got off a pretty kick from behind his goalline out to the Newton 45. This inspiring effort seemed to be the spark that set Newton going. On third down a Brockton forward pass was intercepted by Castoldi on the Newton 30-yard line. On an off-tackle play Castoldi seemed to be smothered in a tangle of about seventeen of the twenty-one other players on the field. He seemed to be literally squeezed out of this mass of players still on his feet. Making a mad dash for the side-line he outran one of the two last Brockton defenders but was forced out of bounds by Franco at the Brockton 30-yard stripe after a 40-yard gain. Two plays being held for little gain Castoldi faded back to pass. Finding no uncovered receiver he tucked the ball under his arm and racing down the sidelines crossed the goalline standing up for Newton's tally. His try at placement was low and wide.

Brockton received the kickoff but failed to gain and a short kick gave Newton the ball just over the midfield stripe in its own territory. Here started another march in which Castoldi, and Hines gained considerable yardage rushing and a Burns to Castoldi pass was good for another 12-yards. In this final period Newton made all of the five first downs it had to its credit as against thirteen for Brockton in the first three cantos. Newton's fifth first down planted the ball on the Brockton four yard line and an offside penalty against Brockton made it first down on the two yard line. Four plays at the line failed to gain more than a yard and on the fourth attempt Castoldi's fumble was recovered by the Brockton centre on the three-yard line where it would have been Brockton's ball on downs had not time for the game expired.

Had this second Newton march brought a touchdown on first down there would still have been nearly a minute to play and a break might have given Newton another opportunity to score the tying tally. On the other hand had Newton attempted an end run instead of hammering at a solid Brockton frontier in the shadow of the goalposts the score might also have been forthcoming. Newton supporters also have reason to feel that had the Newton players shown in the first three periods the kind of football they staged in the last quarter that the outcome would have been considerably closer if not entirely different.

NEWTON SEEKS WIN AT QUINCY'S EXPENSE

Visitors Have Won Once In Eight Years

The Newton High School football eleven will attempt to hang up its second win of the rapidly moving 1937 season tomorrow afternoon at the Dickinson Stadium. The orange and black will entertain the Quincy High eleven for its ninth successive year. In that period the Granite City outfit has won but one of the eight games played and tied two, Newton winning five.

In 1929 and 1930 each game resulted in a 6-6 tie but with Warren Huston on hand in the next two years the scores were 20-7 and 25-0 with Newton on top. These were also the first two years under the coaching of Ralph M. Sanborn, present Newton mentor, and his assistant Charlie Considine. Newton also chalked up a shut-out victory, 16 to 0, in 1933. The solitary Quincy triumph came in 1934 by a single point margin, 7-6 following the successful conversion of the point after touuchdown. Newton returned to the victory path two years ago with a 15 to 0 score and last year another shutout, 19 to 0 brought the total point score of 113 to 26 for the local outfit. The victory staged last year was largely due to the brilliant and steady playing of the late captain-elect Billy Johnston. He engineered the team to scoring opportunities permittting Seth Fitchet to score twice and while Johnston tallied the third. Johnston made one point conversion, missed a second and Colantonio, injured end on this year's eleven, missed the point after on the third effort.

The Newton eleven came out of the Brockton game of last Saturday with additional injuries which will prevent the playing of a couple of stalwarts in the line. Ted Duffy, veteran guard, and Cheseraone, centre, will be out of action still recuperating from leg injuries. Duffy has been one of the strong defense players in the Newton line. Hughes, who has been filling Colantonio's berth at left end, is also hors de combat as are the latter and Bud Hines, sprinting quarterback.

Coach Sanborn will in all probability start Bill Liming at centre with Hutchings at left guard and Earl Colvin filling Duffy's berth at left guard. Bob Wheldon and Ben Mason will start as tackles in an effort to bolster a weakness which was clearly evident in the Brockton set-to. Bob Klein will start at his usual berth at right end with either Paglia or Howard filling the left end position vacated by the injured Hughes.

The starting backfield will have Stan Sohaski at quarterback, Stanley Burns and Fred Fisher at the halfbacks and Guido Castoldi at full. Burns replaced Fitzgerald in the Brockton game and played well enough to warrant the Newton coach giving him the chance to start. The reserve backfield will have Johnny Pescosolido at quarterback, Fitzgerald and Robey at the halves and the high-jumping Bill Pescosolido at the fullback post. Robey, an end candidate last year, was transferred to the backfield squad early this season. Ineligible for the first game or two he injured an ankle and has been out of action for three weeks.

MRS. SCHALL AND TAILBY WIN HANDICAP SHOOT

Mrs. Leroy A. Schall and Mr. A. Ralph Tailby were the winners of the handicap shoot held Saturday, October 16th, at the Newton Centre Playground by the Newton Archers. Mrs. Blanche Traylor was second for the ladies and Miss Elaine Tailby third, Mr. R. C. Garner, 2nd, for men and Bob Goldich third. Bob Goldich led the entire field score with a score of 89-513 for the American Round without handicaps. The Newton Archers will hold another handicap shoot Saturday, weather permitting.

Fractures Skull At Army Base Pier

Raymond V. Sweeney, 32, of 52 Myrtle st., West Newton, received a fractured skull, lacerated scalp, and cuts and bruises of the right leg on Thursday when thrown 20 feet to the floor at the army base in a peculiar accident. Frank J. Downes, army base pier electrician, of Roxbury received a compound fracture of the leg. Downes and Sweeney were repairing a two-ton steel hoist door when it suddenly swung out of place pinioning Downes between the door and a pier wall. Sweeney was thrown clear. Working from a ladder workmen toiled for a half hour before freeing Downes who directed their efforts despite his painful situation. The two workers were removed to the Carney Hospital.

Gets Year For Assault on Child

James F. Spellman, 26, of 286 Washington st., Newton, married and father of two children, was sentenced to one year in the Middlesex County House of Correction by Judge Murray after a closed session in Newton Court yesterday. Spellman was arrested on Oct. 12 by Sergeant Bannon and Patrolmen Foley, Murphy and Walker on a charge of assault upon a six-year old girl living in the neighborhood. A complaint was issued after the girl had informed her parents that Spellman had taken her into the apartment of his sister, where he was residing, and given her twenty-five cents.

The boy was struck on Lowell ave. near Washington st. Ellingwood reported that he had driven onto the Lowell ave. bridge from Washington st., and was proceeding at a rate of 6 to 8 miles, when the boy ran off the sidewalk and into the path of the car. He took the boy to the Newton Hospital where it was found he had possible fractures of the skull and right leg.

Newton Firm Hears Official Abroad on Radio-Telephone

In late years the use of radio-telephone communication from abroad has been rapidly growing. Its use by local firms is still, however, an infrequent occurrence. On Monday of this week John Livingston Thomas, president of the Financial Independence Founders, Inc., spoke to all offices of the company from London, where he is establishing a British subsidiary, on the situation in Europe.

The Financial Independence Founders recently established a suburban office in Newton at 709 Washington st., Newtonville, where the New Englang activities are under the direction of H. Bruce Kinsman, vice-president. The organization is national in scope and the suburban office here was established in order that its facilities would be readily accessible to everyone with ample parking space. The firm employs a sales force of twenty-five many of whom are Newton residents.

NORMAN E. VINCENT

Norman E. Vincent of 489 Walnut st., Newtonville, died Thursday, Oct. 21, in his eighty-eighth year. He was born in West Shefford, Quebec, and lived in New Hampshire from 1897 to 1921 when he came to Newton. Mr. Vincent was formerly associated with the Boston & Maine railroad and the Canadian Pacific Pullman Company.

He leaves two sons, Norman S. Vincent, with whom he resided, and Craig Vincent; two daughters, Mrs. A. E. Dion of Melrose and Mrs. John Casanova of Philadelphia, Penn; and nine grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Upper Chapel of the Mt. Auburn Cemetery at one o'clock on Saturday. After cremation the ashes will be taken to Bedford, N. H. for burial.

Day Jr. High School

The Home Economics Department has this year opened a course in foods for boys, and according to Mrs. Sandwall, several of the future chefs have been making remarkable progress in the art of making tasty dishes for the table. Joseph Vassalotti, Antonio Perue, Harold Barclay, Tom Kelley, Robert Murphy, Scott Doten, Charles Walker, Alfred Tedeschi, Aldo Cairo, Lawrence Keegan, George Norcross, William Mullins, Raymond Clautier and Valentine Tocci are taking an active interest in the course.

The When You Entertain Club under the direction of Mrs. Sandwall is busily engaged each week during club period devising and arranging repasts which may well be served at different types of parties. The club has already held its first informal party for its members under the guidance of its officers, Lucy Forte, President; Rose Caruso, Vice President; Leona Bartolomucci, Treasurer; and Eva Messina, secretary.

The eighth and ninth grade varsity soccer teams have already inaugurated the season by winning their first games against the Bigelow teams, four to one and three to one respectively. They will play return games with Bigelow and two games each with teams from the Warren Junior High School.

The faculty and pupils welcome Miss Lougee, Mrs. Smith and Miss Littlefield back after illnesses and hope that Mr. LeBlanc may soon have recovered sufficiently to take up his duties at the school again.

On Friday during the radio broadcast, Mr. Burkhard announced that anyone who called at his office would be in line for a worthwhile prize. Over a hundred pupils answered the call and were given entry blanks for suggestions on highway safety. Of those who turned in their suggestions, John Freeston's was the best and was awarded the prize of $1.25 credit in the school lunchrooom or $1.00 in cash. Thayer Gallison and Edythe Hallett were given honorable mention for their suggestions to improve highway safety. This contest was in line with the efforts of the Newton Safety Council to make the streets of this city a safer place for pedestrians crossing them and for persons driving along them.

Softball held sway on the Day Playground this fall in a series of three games between teams captained by Francis Leone and Guerrino Gentile. Captain Leone's team won by a score of two games to one. The members of the winning team were: Francis Leone, Michael Piantedosi, Joseph Beatty, Philip Teschner, Herbert Muther, Fred Fraini, Jack Cohen, William Garvin, Ray Keegan, Walter Drew, James Davis, Danny Piselli and Louis Mantica. The runners-up were: Guerrino Gentile, Amelio Bianci, Amato Belsanti, Robert Benes, Robert Keefe, Louis Paulino, George Norcross, Raymond Hunting, Francis Salvucci, Robert Beatty and William Thompson.

Protest Against Gravel Business At Auburndale

About 60 Auburndale residents attended a public hearing at City Hall on last Thursday night to protest against the petition of Ernest L. Hersum of Oak Ridge rd., Auburndale, who asks permission to level the surface of a six acre tract of land he owns in an area bounded by Seminary ave., Oak Ridge rd. and Lake ave. in that section. Much of Auburndale is composed of moraines containing valuable sand and gravel deposits. On the Hersum property is a ridge. H. F. Dolan of Cambridge who spoke in favor of the petition, said that Mr. Hersum wants to remove the ridge so that his land can be divided into house lots. He said the petitioner must derive income from his property and cannot keep it longer as a beauty spot for the benefit of neighbors. Dolan stated that Hersum will conform to any terms which may be required in order to meet the specifications of the city engineer.

In answer to questions from members of the Claims and Rules Committee of the Aldermen, before whom the hearing was held, Dolan said that Hersum intends to sell the sand and gravel excavated from the ridge, that the work is estimated to take about a year, and that there are about 111,000 cubic yards of material to be excavated. He said the present assessed value of the property is $13,000 and that this will be increased to about $150,000 if the land is divided into house lots and residences built on it.

V. S. Bigelow, speaking for Mable T. Eager of Seminary ave. objected to the petition. He said Miss Eager's land abuts Hersum's property on three sides and that she pays $1000 in taxes, while the petitioner pays only $360. He said that Seminary ave. and Lake ave. are only streets on paper, that Miss Eager's land runs North and South along the ridge which Hersum wants to remove, and if the ridge is

Explosion In Nonantum Home Early Today

Occupants Escape Death, But House Is Demolished

At 6:20 this morning a terrific explosion of gas blew to fragments the dwelling house at 60 Hawthorne st. in the Nonantum section. The house was occupied by the families of Antonio DeRose and Joseph DeGrosso. The explosion occurred when DeGrosso lit a match to start a fire in the kitchen. The gas had apparently been accumulating for some time. The building was blown in all directions, fragments of clapboards being hurled with such force that they pierced the wall of the home of Antonio Annese, at 56 Hawthorne st., next door. Other buildings in the neighborhood were also considerably damaged by the concussion.

A wooden fence in front of the house was reduced to fragments, blown across the street, and parts of it were found one hundred feet away down an alley opposite. When startled neighbors rushed out they saw DeRose lying in the street where he had apparently been blown from the building. Most of the occupants managed to escape through rear windows but Blanche Repucci, 23, a sister of Mrs. Josephine DeRose, who was sleeping in a first floor bedroom was buried under a mass of debris. She was rescued by Louis Annese of 49 Ashmont ave.; Julius Binachi of Quirk ct.; Philip Farina of Murphy ct.; and Daniel Gardi of Adams ct. The four worked feverishly to clear away the broken fragments of wood and plaster which covered the woman. Miss Repucci received burns and head injuries and was removed to the Newton hospital in the police ambulance.

Others injured and taken to the hospital included Carmen Gentile, 52, asleep in an attic room when the explosion occurred; Joseph DeGrosso, School Committee Rejects Proposal of Playground Com.

The Newton Playground Commission may have some good ideas on playgrounds, but it apparently is out of its sphere when it butts into school matters. At the meeting of the Newton School Committee on Monday night that body displayed no appreciation of a suggestion from the Playground Commission that the city acquire land at Cold Spring swamp area as the site of a school to serve parts of Waban, Newton Centre and Newton Highlands. There was no debate on the matter, and the vote against giving it approval was unanimous. In recent years locating schools in Newton on boggy areas has resulted in much trouble for the school department, and considerable expense to Newton taxpayers. Also it has been blamed for sickness of school children. A sub-committee reported that it had examined the proposed site and its approaches, and this committee voted not to recommend the taking of the land.

Incidentally, a survey was made last year by members of the School Committee and Aldermen on a 10 year school building program, and a report made and accepted. And this survey followed another similar survey made only a few years ago, which was also accepted.

The School Committee voted to take no action of the petition of persons residing in the Woodcliff rd. section at Newton Highlands who want to send their children back to the Hyde School, instead of to the new Oak Hill School. School Committeeman Bryant, reporting for the sub-committee on transportation, criticised the petitioners by saying that they previously had favored the building of the new

Newton Community Chest Drive To Start November 5

Neighborhood Meetings Of Workers Held Every Day

Every dollar of the $192,305 goal of the Newton Community Chest Campaign is needed to finance the work of Newton's 14 health and social agencies, A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., Campaign Director, told the preliminary meetings of campaign workers this week. Pointing out that there was no lessening of the demands for service made upon the agencies, Mr. Harwood declared that the studies of the Chest Budget Committee clearly showed the necessity of raising the whole amount.

Organization plans for the intensive drive beginning November 5 are rapidly nearing completion. Throughout the city neighborhood meetings of workers are being held daily. Every division is building up its corps of solicitors to cover the city in the two week campaign period. Contributors are urged to co-operate with the solicitors who must make a total of 20,000 calls during the campaign period.

Attendance at the opening dinner on Thursday, November 4 at the Newton High School is expected to equal or exceed last year's record meeting. More than 1,500 solicitors will gather to receive their final instructions and be spurred on to victory by the addresses of Campaign Director A.

Another Woman-Planned Home

Monadnock and Edmands Rds., Wellesley Hills

THE lure of space . . . the desire of moderns to get away from the crowd . . . to breathe . . . to play . . . to go truly rural . . . has inspired BRODRICK BROS. to set their newest woman-planned home on a spacious corner lot of one and one-quarter acres in the beautiful and fashionable Cliff Estates.

Its size and splendor are matched by other Brodrick-built homes in the vicinity and in its present setting it is equally as impressive as was the original country house in Kent, England, from which it was sketched.

In the foreground, giant oaks rise shapely and majestic, their leafy branches reflected in the aquamarine blue of the pool, which with goldfish swishing through it and flowers mirrored in it, makes such a delightful picture in the centre of the sunken garden.

The cloistered porch at the rear fosters that very human desire for solitude. On one side its arches frame a view of virgin forest just a few hundred feet away and on the other, a rolling hillock with native rock peeping through to inspire the devotee of rock gardens to make this sweep of green lawn even more picturesque.

But . . . step inside this home, for it is here that the woman who designed it has given free rein to her flare for color and detail.

Like the great hall in medieval houses, the living room has been panelled from floor to ceiling with the finest oak carved in linen-fold effect to frame archways and the large studio windows. A stone mantel and hand-carved radiator grilles add interest to the decor.

A connoisseur of woods would be captivated by the beauty of the walnut panelling in the library. Across a corner, a hand-wrought, copper-hooded fireplace focuses the interest.

The size of the dining room suggests entertaining on a lavish scale and a breakfast snack should taste better in the unique morning room, for it looks across the motor-court, through the gateway into the garden beyond.

Monel metal gleams in the butler's room and ultra modern kitchen, and the stove is a modern miracle of chromium and porcelain, its efficiency entirely concealed by its beauty.

On the second floor there are five master bedrooms, two dressing rooms, four master baths and a linen room; over the garage, a servants' suite of three rooms and bath; on the third floor a Penthouse for Ping Pong, Billiards, etc. and bunks for the Juniors and their guests.

Now, swing down the gangplank to the basement where the pleasure yacht "Sans Souci" is moored awaiting the "All Aboard" signal when the owner of this home plays "Captain" and invites his guests on a moonlight cruise.

Not to mention the practical things would be a serious omission when they include such important features as a General Electric Oil Furnace; Capital Rock Wool insulation; the finest quartered oak floors; a laundry chute, incinerator, two lavatories and a cedar sapling fence around the service yard.

In fact, it is your own "castle of dreams," the one you planned but never dared to build because you dreaded the worry and uncertainty of planning it. We have designed it for you and placed it in a setting where even the neighbors are acceptable, however discriminating you may be regarding social contacts. Open TODAY and daily and evenings thereafter.

AN IMPORTANT ANGLE

One of the important angles of the referendum on biennial elections in Newton on which the voters will make a decision at the coming city election is in regard to the length of term of school committee members. The question on the ballot is in two parts. First, on the direct question of whether or not there shall be local biennial elections in the odd numbered years on the second Tuesday in November. The second question, dependent upon the adoption of biennial elections, is the choice of two plans, (A) under which members of the school committee will serve a four-year term, and (B) under which their term will be but two years.

At present, under our annual election system, members of the school committee serve three-year terms. With seven members on this body the provision allows for a rotation of terms so that in one year two members are elected, in the next year two others, and in the third year the remaining three.

Thus there is no possibility of a complete new school committee. On the contrary there are always experienced men on the committee. Such a provision is possible if the voters adopt plan A for a four-year term. Under this proposal four members would be elected in one year and the remaining three two years later. Furthermore, experience has shown that in the past most members of the school committee serve three terms with an occasional member retiring after two terms and an occasional member serving a longer period. Under the four year term members would probably serve eight years, or two terms, on an average, and thus would not be required to make a political campaign as frequently as under the two year term or Plan B. Plan B would also make it possible, thought admittedly not probable, for a complete turnover of school committee members bringing seven inexperienced members to that office.

The two-year term would also, as noted, require more frequent campaigning for the office, making it more difficult to attract the high type of public spirited service which has characterized elected Newton officials in the past. Still another argument in favor of the four-year term over the two-year plan is that a newly elected member of the school committee requires at least a year to acquaint himself with his position. On a two-year term a member could hardly be expected to become a really useful member until his term had nearly expired. Under the four-year term he would have the opportunity to bring concrete thought to the duties of his office and a further opportunity to carry such thought or program to a probable conclusion. We trust that the voters will give deep thought to this particular question and that they will favor the four-year term for members of the school committee.

Protest Against Gravel Business

levelled, Miss Eager's land will be left with precipitous ends. He commented that in his opinion there is no intention of a house lot development, it is just a plan to denude the property of valuable gravel.

Guy A. Winslow, principal of Lasell Junior College, protested the granting of the petition. He said Hersum's land is between two pieces of property owned by Lasell, and that the rights of neighbors should be given consideration. Charles B. Floyd, president of the Board of Aldermen, speaking as a citizen, said he had been asked by many Auburndale residents to protest. He said that Hersum's petition is a sand and gravel project, pure and simple. Floyd called attention to the many times Newton residents have flocked to city hall to object to sand and gravel pits in this city. He called attention to the nuisances caused by gravel pits such as heavy trucking, noise and dirt, and said a number of gravel pit projects in Newton got started under the guise of real estate developments. Floyd asked that the petition be rejected unless the petitioner furnishes a bond guaranteeing that the ridge will be removed within a specified time, that a limited amount of machinery shall be used, and that the land will be loam covered and seeded with grass when levelled. On a showing of hands nearly 60 persons evidenced objections to the granting of the permit. The only person favoring was the petitioner.

School Committee Rejects Proposal

Oak Hill school, and now, after it has been built, want to send their children to the Hyde School again. He said they are "not playing the game." The children from the Woodcliff rd. section are being provided with free transportation to the new school.

A petition signed by fourteen mothers of high school girls residing in Ward 7, Newton, asking that a school bus be provided from that section to the high school, did not enthuse the committee, and was referred to Supt. of Schools Warren. Secretary Kellar of the Committee said that there are 41 girls and 43 boys in the district who possibly might patronize the bus. But when a similar petition was presented in 1934, out of 77 pupils residing in the district, only 15 stated they would become bus passengers, and the petition was dropped. The Middlesex & Boston Street Railway cannot run a bus without a loss unless 35 pupils regularly use it. The proposed bus line would go down Cabot st., from Centre st., and attention was drawn to the fact that residents of Cabot st. may object, because that street is quite narrow, has number of curves and a steep grade.

Supt. Warren informed the committee that the meetings for Parent Education in the high school have been largely attended. The committee approved of the appointment as a substitute teacher of history at the high school of Herbert A. Clark. He is a graduate of Brown University and has taught in high schools at Peterboro and Stow.

Well-Known Chinese Lecturer To Speak at West Newton

The Lincoln Park Men's Club presents Dr. Tehyi Hsieh at its first meeting Tuesday, November 2, at 8 o'clock in the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton. All men and boys over 16 years, are welcome. Dr. Hsieh will speak on the "Ferment in the Orient" showing the present conditions in China. He is in close contact with all the Chinese leaders; a brother-in-law of Sur Yet-Sen, and managing-director of the Boston Chinese Service Bureau. "He is one of the most remarkable men in contemporay American life. A Chinese with the rich heritage of ancient lineage and culture, but with all the best that American and European education and experience can add, he has lived and had contact with so many varieties of American people that he is able to think American manner and express himself graphically with the finest touches of idiomatic humor." Dr. Hsieh will give a clear, graphic picture of the present Sino-Japanese conflict. Lowell Thomas calls him, "One of the most brilliant speakers of our time." Long in China's diplomatic service in Europe, Asia, Australia has been called "the Teddy Roosevelt of China."

Griffin Will Speak on Topic "What's Ahead for Business"

The second meeting of the Central Club of the Central Congregational Church will be held on next Monday evening, November first, at eight o'clock. The speaker will be Bartholomew F. Griffin, associate editor of the Boston News Bureau. His subject will be "What's Ahead for Business." Mr. Griffin is a graduate of Harvard 1899, the same class of which Mayor Childs was a graduate. After graduating from college he joined the staff of the Boston News Bureau with which he has been associated since. He is an editor of Comments on Current happenings of the world, business, Politics and Finance. His column is headed "Scanning the News." He is also well known as a poet, among the best known of his poems being the one entitled "If" which he wrote on the eve of the World War.

Annual Meeting of Newton Chapter Amer. Red Cross

Large Gathering At Brae Burn Club Wednesday Night

The annual meeting of Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross was held at the Brae Burn Club on Wednesday night.

At the close of the business meeting, the chairman, Mr. Jamieson, called upon Mrs. W. W. Weeden, the Washington Field Representative for this section, to introduce Dr. William DeKleine, the guest speaker for the evening. Mrs. Weeden spoke of Dr. DeKleine's unusual fitness to be Medical Assistant to the Vice Chairman of the National Red Cross because of his outstanding work in the field of Public Health previous to his Red Cross connection. His organization of a traveling tuberculosis clinic in Michigan and his country-wide reputation as authority on child-health work caused the Red Cross to ask his assistance in health work during the Mississippi Valley flood in 1927. He accomplished so much in regard to control of malaria that he was asked to join the Red Cross permanently, and has participated in every major disaster since that time.

Dr. DeKleine said he was no stranger to Boston nor to Newton as he studied at Harvard and Mass. Institute of Technology and at that time came to Newton to see Miss Bragg's health program in operation in the public schools. He then went on to discuss methods used by the Red Cross, during disasters, to safeguard public health. The majority of people do not realize that each year there are nearly 100 disasters, but unless they are unusually large ones little is heard about them. However, Dr. DeKleine, or an assistant, goes direct to the scene to institute health measures. Surgical and medical supplies are furnished, and if hospitals are inadequate temporary ones are built and doctors brought in. Motor units for laboratory work are set up and their equipment with serums prevents epidemics, particularly of typhoid, pneumonia, and small pox.

It is now known that the germ of Infantile Paralysis is received through the nose and Dr. DeKleine feels that by this discovery, and by the use of a certain kind of spray, much can be accomplished to prevent epidemics of this dread disease in the future.

The following officers and committee members were chosen for the coming year:—

Chairman, Joseph B. Jamieson; vice chairman, Charles R. Cabot; secretary, Mrs. James Dunlop; treasurer, George S. Fuller.

Directors—Ernest V. Alley, Donald Angier, Mrs. George M. Angier, Mrs. Joel M. Barnes, Charles R. Cabot, Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Mrs. James Dunlop, Charles B. Floyd, George S. Fuller, Mrs. Tyler L. I bet he was mad, 'course he couldn't help himself. Wonder why people want to kiss us? Mother has a fit if anyone with a cold comes near me. See you next week."

NEWTON
In The

Newton Republican, Oct. 30, 1875

The preparations of the prominent citizens of our city for a proper recognition of the approaching centennial of the Independence of America culminated on Tuesday evening in the most brilliant festival ever held in Newton. Eliot Hall with its patriotic decorations, and the presence of the elite of the city in elegant and tasty costumes, presented a scene which has rarely, if ever, been seen in our midst. The assembly was very large, fully 1500 people being in the hall, and the program for their entertainment was well arranged and admirably carried out.

Previous to entering into the enjoyment of the evening, Mayor Hyde advanced to the edge of the platform and said—"Next year will be the 100th birthday of our nation. We all know that in Philadelphia extensive arrangements are being made to celebrate the centennial of our country. Massachusetts is never backwards in good works. She has appointed a commissioner to represent her at the great exhibition and we have him with us tonight. I beg leave to introduce to you the Hon. Leverett Saltonstall of Newton." Mr. Saltonstall explained the plans of the centennial exposition and urged all present to take an interest in it and co-operate in making it a success.

Festival Notes

Nearly $100 was taken at the flower table. Many a fragrant cup of tea was dispensed at the refreshment tables. The ancient costumes were, many of them, quite elaborate and remindful of the times of our fathers, 100 years ago.

The ladies (!) who were so terribly incensed at the want of brains in the executive committee, because all the arrangements did not suit them, are certainly entitled to commiseration. Powdered hair and abundant skirts were all the fashion on Tuesday evening.

The contractors who are laying the pipes for the Newton Water Works have commenced work with about 100 Italians in Ward 3. More are on the way, direct from across the water. They are given their board and receive a small pittance besides. The laborers in this town who expected work from the contractors are greatly disappointed, and give vent to their feelings in various uncomplimentary allusions. We do not blame them for being disappointed, but no one can question the authority of the contractors to employ anyone they choose.

Monday evening a trial was made by members of the Nonantum Steam Fire Engine at Newton to see how quick time could be made in hitching up. One man did the whole. He was in bed, undressed. He got up, struck the gong for the horses, dressed, hurried downstairs. By this time the horses were at the pole of the engine. The ten hitches were made and all ready for the start to a fire in 39 seconds from the time he got out of bed. We understand that Engineer Judkins has made the ten hitches with the horses at the pole in 8 seconds.

Sunday as Mr. John Farlow's team was being driven to church, a team just ahead turned up to Eliot Church. The wheels of the two carriages locked together, overturning Mr. Farlow's carriage. A lady inside, and the driver were slightly injured. The carriage was quite a wreck.

An alarm from Box 23 was sounded a few minutes before 9 on Tuesday evening. Some scamp had set fire to a box of hay in a closet down stairs in the Tremont Hall building at Newtonville. The Democrats and Liberals were in caucus in the hall at the time, and the smoke coming up the passageway caused a sudden stampede. No damage was done. The fellow who set the fire should be found and punished.

It's a disgrace to any political party to fill up the navy yards with workers just before an election, under the plea of press of business, and a few days after the election is over, the need is over and the new workers are discharged.

In the Newton police court on October 22 one common railer and brawler was found guilty and fined $15 and costs.

Wednesday night someone cut the moorings of several boats at Crystal Lake, Newton Centre. Fortunately it was not a windy night and the boats were not damaged.

There will be another checker match at Upper Falls next Thursday evening between Messrs. Lowe and Lenton, the former having accepted the challenge of the latter. It will be played in Prospect School Hall and the admission will be 15 cents.

At the meeting of the School Committee on Wednesday evening Principal Sawin of the Bigelow School asked that the janitor be appointed a special police officer to keep the boys from troubling neighbors. This request led to a general discussion and no action was taken.

A pleasing picture may be enjoyed almost any day at the Elm st. common at West Newton by the sight of "Joe's" pretty Welsh pony and his faithful follower and companion, the little brown and white spaniel, which guards the pony with the greatest vigilance. Ever and anon their gambols together and mutual caresses attest an affection rarely witnessed.

Powers' Paragraphs

In last week's GRAPHIC we narrated that the Republican nominee for Mayor of Newton in 1913 was Allston Burr of Chestnut Hill. Mr. Burr was an outstanding citizen and his election to continue an unbroken line of Republican Mayors in Newton seemed assured. From time to time at elections preceding 1913 Newton Democrats had nominated some member of their party for Mayor, and their candidates had been consistently defeated, usually by large majorities. In 1911 the Democrats had nominated Thomas W. Proctor of Chestnut Hill, a leading member of the Boston bar, and a man of considerable prestige. Shortly before the election Mr. Proctor decided he would withdraw from the contest. The 1913 mayoralty election was expected to be just another Republican walkover. But something was to happen.

Back in the early 80's there came to Nonantum young Irishman named Timothy D. Murphy. "T. D." as he was familiarly known, was born near Bantry in County Cork, Ireland. He worked for sometime in a grocery store at Nonantum and then moved to Maine. He returned to Newton about 1906. "T. D." possessed Irish wit and fluency in abundance. He took an active interest in civic and political affairs, and after his return to Newton became a member of the Democratic Ward and City Committee. In October of 1913 "T. D." broached an idea to fellow members of the Democratic City Committee which was to have a far reaching effect in Newton politics. He first communicated it to Daniel O'Connell, a member of the committee from Ward 2. The suggestion was—that instead of going to certain defeat by again nominating a Democrat to oppose Allston Burr, that a popular young Republican be tendered the Democratic nomination. The man "T. D." suggested was Edwin O. Childs. O'Connell approved of the suggestion and a few days later mentioned it to Mr. Childs when he met the latter at Nonantum. The latter seemed interested.

On Sunday, Ocober 12, 1913 the Democratic Ward and City Committee held a meeting in the Nonantum Building at Newton Corner. Murphy and O'Connell had talked with other members of the committee regarding Childs and these members thought favorably of Murphy's suggestion. So, at the meeting on October 12th Frank Nevins, a committee member proposed Childs' name as the Democratic nominee. Some of the members of the committee strongly opposed nominating any Republican. A sub-committee was appointed to bring in names from which a candidate might be selected and the meeting adjourned for a week.

On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 19, 1913, the Democratic City Committee met again and the subcommittee presented the name of Edwin O. Childs as its choice for the nomination. The subcommittee's report was accepted and another committee was appointed to visit Mr. Childs at his home on California st., Nonantum, and tender him the nomination. The committee proceeded to Mr. Childs' humble home in the early evening of that day and asked him to accept the nomination. He accepted, remarking—"This is a call to service." Reminded by the committee of Thomas W. Proctor's action in withdrawing two years before, Mr. Childs assured the committee that no power on earth could make him withdraw. The next day the news spread rapidly throughout the city that Childs had accepted the Democratic nomination.

It may be of interest to residents of Newton who have moved into this city during the past 20 or more years, or to younger citizens to learn why the Democrats selected Edwin O. Childs. Mr. Childs was born in Newton in 1876, graduated from Harvard College in 1899 and from Boston University Law School in 1901. From boyhood he had been active in affairs of the Eliot Congregational Church and the Newton Y. M. C. A. In 1908 he was appointed by Mayor Hutchinson a member of the Newton Board of Health. Mr. Childs' chief interest was in the Nonantum Boys' Club which he founded in 1897. Mr. Childs was popular among the social circles of the wealthier residents of Newton, but he became so devoted to his social work at Nonantum, that when he married Miss Mildred Roy of Watertown in January, 1908, he established his home among his friends, the working class people of Nonantum. Ned Childs was a good mixer and unusually democratic. He was popular with the church people, the Y. M. C. A. supporters, belonged to the Masons and the Elks, and became the idol of the boys in his club at Nonantum. No young man in Newton had more friends and acquaintances among persons of all races, classes and creeds than he. T. D. Murphy made a shrewd suggestion when he proposed Ned Childs to his fellow Democrats, and the Republican leaders of Newton realized that Allston Burr had an opponent who could not be taken lightly. The Democrats conducted an aggressive campaign and received hearty support from Childs' host of friends, especially among the younger Republicans. T. D. Murphy took an active part in the campaign and his witty speeches made a hit at numerous rallies.

The election was held on December 9, 1913. The total number of votes cast was 5416 and Childs won by a majority of 180. He carried Wards 1, 2, 3 and 4. Burr carried Wards 5, 6 and 7. Nonantum was jubilant and an impromptu parade was held by the boys of Nonantum on the night of the election. The old guard Republicans of Newton were astounded. Their supremacy was over, but they did not at that time fully realize it.

Allston Burr, though defeated, proved shortly after what a high type of character and citizenship he possessed. Instead of manifesting chagrin at his defeat, he and other members of his family donated the large estate where the family homestead had been located to the city for playground purposes, and spent many thousands of dollars in equipping and preparing it as a model playground. Located next to the Bigelow School, it is doubly valuable for playground purposes. Allston Burr, in defeat, was greater than most men have been in victory.

Marcia E. Bacheldor of Newtonville passed suddenly from this life on October 20. For 50 years she was a resident of that village, and for 43 years a faithful employee of the Newtonville postoffice. Miss Bacheldor was a genuine gentlewoman, considerate of and helpful to those with whom she was associated, always courteous to the public.

Newton streets heavily littered with leaves, cause old residents of this city to wish that the Street Department had "section men" caring for the streets, as was the practice years ago.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Night of Nights

Hallowe'en is the one festival that for me sets heart and mind going at a recklessly juvenile pace. I want to wear a grotesque mask and scarecrow garments and scamper among the dried leaves at dusk, dodging behind trees and popping out now and then to startle passersby. It is a night of boisterous fun outdoors. Once inside, when the rollicking has ceased, I am eager to sit in the firelight and, with frequent shudders, listen to a ghost story told by one whose face is in the shadows yet whose presence means comradeship and security. I've done it before, long, long ago and I'd like to do it again, Pagan though it seems.

Chance for Argument

There is grave doubt if philately will ever cease to interest young and old. Not that I would want to witness such a time. Rather, I congratulate those who enjoy collecting postage stamps of all lands. I speak of this because it is a hobby—pardon me, should I have said pursuit?—that seems genuine and permanent. Also, because I have been wondering if there is the same widespread enthusiasm in gathering autographs and whether the latter is as engrossing as the former. When I read the other day that you may purchase practically any autograph you wish providing you meet the price, it struck me there was little fun in that. Although stamps are for sale, one may come into possession of them under all sorts of circumstances and without spending money. Strikes me a stamp collector must have a knowledge of values and a knack for trading. At any rate possibly a debate on the question might be a feature of the coming winter.

Letting off Steam

Now and then a set of resolutions is adopted by some convention of industrialists, trade workers, civic, fraternal or similar bodies which conclude, "And be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the U. S. Senators and Congressmen from Massachusetts." So far as I know the secretary fulfills his duty and the mails do the rest. In that case what a load of resolutions must appear each morning on the desk of every Senator and Congressman! Can it be their secretaries have time for anything else or are clerks assigned exclusively to the job of receiving, filing and acknowledging these resolutions? My guess is that there are few nations where passage of resolutions is as common as in the United States. No organization is too humble to vote them. Well, why isn't it a good idea? Certainly a much better way of relieving their minds than allowing their anger to overcome them and incite them to plot a revolution.

Timely Tip

"Will you smoke an imported cigar which I would like very much to have you try?" a good friend of mine asked me as I met him at a club recently. Of course I accepted and replied, "Thank you, I should like to."

There was a third man standing by, a cigarette smoker, by the way, who overheard our conversation and made bold to interrupt. Turning to me he said, "That's not the way to talk when a man hands you a cigar these days. You should say, 'Thanks, I don't know what office you're running for but I'll vote for you.' "

Bedtime Ditty

Newton seems a trifle puzzled—
  What is legal, what is not?
When a tourist lays his head down
  On a roadside cabin cot.

Just how many have a right to Cluster 'neath a shelter thus,
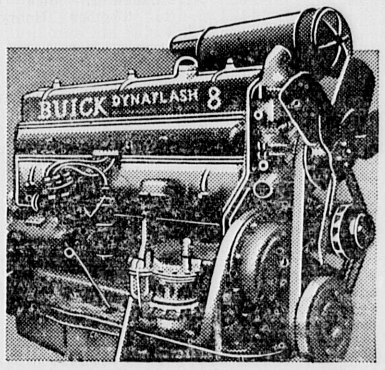
Spend the night and stay to breakfast,
  Charged therefore one dollar plus.

Aldermanic problem this one,
  Worthy, too, of study deep;
Meanwhile strangers will be welcome
  And allowed to buy their sleep.



All set? listen: HERE'S THE ENGINEERING MUST STORY OF THE YEAR!

Featuring the DYNAFLASH ENGINE and TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING — in the Most Modern Chassis in the World

YOU won't drive a hundred yards in a new Buick without realizing that something marvelously new and different is happening here.

It's something that happens in no other car, in no other engine.

Speeding through the intake manifold, the fuel charge hurricanes into the cylinder at something like 250 miles an hour.

Leaping to meet it is the piston, with a unique device called a Turbulator built into its face.

Then occurs something more than high compression—literally cyclompression—as swirling gasoline vapor is compacted about the spark plug.

The spark sets off a fist-size hurricane—and gasoline gives up more performance than it ever gave up in a commercial engine before!

This livelier, smarter power might seem enough for engineers to lavish on a car in a single year.

But matching DYNAFLASH power in importance is Buick TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING and its arroflite ride.

Take a Buick over a railroad crossing—around a curve—over bumps.

There's no thud and chatter, no tail-swing or roll; you cover rough going with the silk-smoothness of a panther on the prowl.

All because old-type leaf springs are gone! In their place, each wheel has a soft, shock-smothering cushion of stout coiled steel.

Skid risks are blessedly reduced. Rear tires last longer. The whole car handles more easily! That's TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING at work!

If it's power you're after, you'll want Buick's DYNAFLASH engine. If it's comfort, you'll choose the TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING ride.

With either you get the other—plus half a score of features your Buick dealer is waiting to describe. See him now—for the engineering "must" story of the year!

Kiwanians Hear Talk on Safety

The speaker at the weekly Kiwanis meeting was Lewis MacBrayne who has been general manager of the Massachusetts Safety Council.

He was introduced by Ray Green who is active in the safety drive now under way in Newton.

Mr. MacBrayne gave an intensely interesting presentation of the automobile accident situation in our state. Last year there were 817 fatalities and 45,462 injuries from motor vehicles. By means of real progressive work among the various agencies of the state the number has this year been cut down to 560 fatalities and 35,000 injured.

The safety council has found that there are five major causes for automobile accidents:

1) People driving at the same speed on stormy days as they do in good weather.

2) People operating in stormy weather with windshield wipers which are not working.

3) Those who drive at night whose eyesight is not good enough for night driving.

4) Driving on the low light beam which allows the operator of the vehicles to see only about one hundred feet ahead on the road when he should have a clear view of at least one hundred and fifty feet.

5) In this class it has been found that 25 per cent of the accident cases are traceable to liquor.

The work of the safety council has been most effective in cutting down accidents and fatalities among children. This has been due, in no small part, to the excellent co-operation obtained from the school departments of the different cities and towns.

The biggest problem of the council is to reduce the number of accidents amongst elderly pedestrians. In most cases it is found that an elderly pedestrian in crossing the street expects the same fair chance from the drivers of vehicles as they themselves give to others. If, however, a car is driven by a careless, thoughtless person then the danger to the pedestrian is greatly increased.

Mr. MacBrayne stated that the Accident Clinic held for drivers who have been arrested is bringing excellent results.

The report on the annual Kiddie show to be held on November 13, 1937 was presented by Wilfred Chagnon and Howard Parker. It is expected that the affair will be a grand success. Pay Tribute To Kindly Neighbor

Public playgrounds are a blessing to children, young people and even older folks in cities, where they provide opportunities for athletic sports and games. Newton has one of the best systems of playgrounds in this country. While playgrounds are recognized as assets to a community, they are regarded as nuisances by some persons who reside in their vicinity. Although precautions are taken to erect the best sets of backstops that can possibly be built, it sometimes happens that baseballs will go onto neighboring properties.

Recently a suburban baseball league in the vicinity of New York City held its annual banquet and trophies were awarded to members of the team which lead the league. As at most banquets there was a guest of honor. He was a middle-aged resident of the suburb where the winning baseball team played its home games in the twilight league. And why the tribute? Plenty were the baseballs which had dropped on his lawn. And with unfailing courtesy and sportsmanship he would retrieve each ball and toss it back to the diamond with nary a growl or a grumble.

The Silver Lake Chevrolet Company, popular Newton Chevrolet dealers, are displaying the new 1938 Chevrolet models. This company, which has been in business at the same location since 1917 has gradually expanded and a few weeks ago dedicated a large addition to its plant.

The Silver Lake Company invites residents of Newton to visit its showrooms and inspect the new 1938 Chevrolet models. Salesmen of the company will also be present at the Boston Automobile Show.

The 1938 Chevrolet models possess a beauty that is attained only through skilful blending of line, form and color, designed in accordance with the highest standards of good taste. The Chevrolet engine, long famous for its economy and performance, brings these qualities to a higher state of perfection than ever in the 1938 models.

The 1938 Chevrolets are complete with conveniences for both the driver and passengers. Their bodies are all-silent, all-steel nd have safety glass all around. They now have more room, more conveniences, more appeal than ever before. The Chevrolet is the only car in which not a single part of the whole steering system moves up and down as the front wheels cling to the road surface.

Buick

Booming ahead with two brand new and exclusive engineering developments that rank tops with motordom's most important advances of all time, Buick sets a brilliant new motoring standard for 1938. Either one of Buick's two new betterments, the Dynaflash engine and Torque-Free Springing — would be headline news for any other car at any other time. Together they give solid support to 1938's smartest motor advice—"Better Buy Buick."

The secret of Buick's new valve-in-head, straight-eight Dynaflash engine is a unique device called a "Turbulator," built into the top of each piston. The carefully calculated profile of this turbulator churns the fuel draft into a sudden cyclone of terrific turbulence resulting in greatly increased power, matched by thriftier economy of operation. In this new motor gasoline vapor gives extreme performance.

Buick's other great 1938 achievement, Torque-Free Springing, produces a smooth, flutter-free ride made possible by the fact that the rear wheels cannot transfer road shocks to the car body. This is because of an entirely new principle of springing which eliminates the old type leaf springs at the rear wheels. Instead, coil springs are utilized which absorb road bumps without referring the shock to the rest of the car. The result is an arroflite ride that knows nothing' of rough roads, rear-wheel chatter or up and down vibrations. Gone too are spring shackles and grease points. Nothing to go wrong or wear out, or clog with dirt, rust, grease. Skid risks are greatly reduced and rear tire life increased.

Ford

With a big year behind it and with a broader, finer line of cars and trucks for 1938, the Ford Motor Company moves forward with confidence. Its $40,000,000 plant expansion program is ample evidence of that—not only for 1938 business, but for years to come.

One of the most important changes for 1938 is the introduction of two new Ford V-8 cars. It is done to meet a definite demand for a luxury Ford car that shall be as a stylish sister to the Standard Ford V-8. A car that gives as much extra in luxury as the Standard Ford V-8 gives in economy. Both cars will soon be displayed to the public. Both these cars are entirely new in appearance. They look big and are big, with more room in the closed sedans, more comfort for passengers, much larger luggage space in all models. The general appearance is longer, more streamlined. Fenders are deeper, more massive. Rich interior appointments match the outward beauty.

The new De Luxe Ford steps right into the higher style field, in appeal, but not in price. It provides a new kind of value for those who have been paying more than the De Luxe Ford V-8 costs—gives them what they want in size and luxury at a lower price. It will be available with the 85 horsepower engine only.

In the 1938 Standard Ford V-8 the longer hood and flowing curves add a new touch of grace and beauty. It is built on the same 112-inch wheelbase chassis as the new De Luxe, to the same fine standards of mechanical excellence. And it offers a choice of V-8 engines, 85 or 60 horsepower.

The 1938 De Luxe and Standard Ford V-8 models will soon be on display at the showroom of the Newton Motor Sales Company at 771 Washington st., Newtonville.

Plymouth

Many people, secure in the knowledge that Plymouth builds great cars, will buy this 1938 Plymouth on appearance alone.

Distinctive, sparkling new style meets your eye from whatever angle you view this great car. And there's dignity and character in the harmonious unity of Plymouth's design . . . with no particular feature demanding individual notice. Every flowing line and curve, every ornament and piece of equipment, harmonizes.

Your first impression of the 1938 Plymouth is one of admiration for both its beauty and its bigness. And when you look more closely, you discover that its distinguished appearance is, indeed, largely due to unusual size—spaciousness you should expect today in a low priced car.

It takes bigness to give real luxury in a car. The big, beautiful 1938 Plymouth gives you extra size and room in abundance. Every inside dimension is unusually generous. From the standpoint of roominess, extra inches of head room, of seat room, of shoulder room, of leg room, put Plymouth far ahead even of many cars much higher in price.

Seats that are "chair height" from the low floor permit a normal sitting position, far and away the most restful on long drives. There is no "hump" in the low floor of the spacious rear compartment. Plymouth's hypoid rear axle makes possible the low, unobstructed floor.

And for luxurious travel, note that the 1938 Plymouth is unmatched by any other low priced car in the completeness and convenience of its appointments.

Chrysler

Radical changes in exterior appearance, greatly refined and beautified interiors, larger and more powerful engines of improved design, longer wheel bases, larger hydraulic brakes and a score of mechanical refinements and improvements feature the two new cars comprising the Chrysler line for 1938. These cars again are designated as the Chrysler Royal and Chrysler Imperial respectively.

The Chrysler Royal, with which Chrysler again will bid for business in the low-price field has been increased in wheelbase from 116 to 119 inches. Whatever the change in the price of this model it will preserve its relative competitive position. It comes in ten body styles as follows: Four-door sedan, four-door touring sedan, brougham, touring brougham, convertible coupe, convertible sedan, rumble seat coupe and coupe on the 119-inch wheelbase and seven-passenger sedan and sedan-limousine on a special 136-inch chassis.

Wheelbase of the Imperial has been raised from 121 to 125 inches. This car, as the company expresses it, gives "remarkable performance at moderate price." It comes in six body styles, namely four-door touring sedan, touring brougham, convertible coupe, convertible sedan, coupe and rumble seat coupe.

The Chrysler Gold Seal engine, introduced last year on the Chrysler Royal has been improved in that car and introduced in larger dimension on the eight-cylinder Chrysler Imperial.

The new Gold Seal eight-cylinder engine designed for the Imperial has a 3/8 inch longer stroke than last year's engine and its cubic displacement has been raised to 298.6 cubic inches with a 3¼ bore and 4½ stroke. It develops 110 horsepower at 3400 r.p.m.

The Custom Imperial engine remains dimensionally unchanged—a 3 1/4 inch bore, 4 7/8 inch stroke and 323.5 cubic inches displacement. It develops 130 horsepower with the standard aluminum head and 6.5 to 1 compression ratio.

The net result of the engine changes will be an improved performance without the sacrifice of any of the economy for which Chryslers were noted in 1937. The 1937 Royal in the hands of owners encountering all kinds of driving conditions was giving from 18 to 24 miles per gallon of gasoline. This will be equalled by the 1938 engine, Chrysler engineers are confident.

Just after Furfey had been accorded leniency by the court, and had left the building Motorcycle Officer McGrath came to the court and asked the clerk to issue a complaint against Furfey on the charge of driving so as to endanger the lives of the public. The complaint was not issued, but a hearing was set for October 29 on the question of issuing it. Furfey was the driver of a car which on the evening of October 16 hit Mrs. Lillian Tower, 65, of Cambridge, as the woman was crossing Walnut st., near Mill st., Newtonville. Mrs. Tower received severe injuries, including a broken leg and head injuries. Furfey obtained a license to drive four months ago.

The big, beautiful 1938 Plymouth achieves a new climax in smoothness. The live rubber mountings at the rear of Plymouth engines are of a new type which makes the Floating Power principle more effective than ever in banishing vibration.

When you drive the big 1938 Plymouth it responds so promptly and smoothly to so little effort from you that you feel the car is cooperating with you.

Clutch operation is exceptionally soft and easy. Gears shift quickly, without clash at any speed. The big, powerful engine responds instantly to light pressure on the accelerator pedal.

The low steering gear ratio—14.6 to 1—results in remarkable fast handling and ease of control. Small roller bearings in the king pins and a shorter-than-usual Pittman arm greatly reduce the effort needed to turn the wheel either in driving or in parking.

Washington Motors, 409 Washington st., Newton, are the local dealers. They will be pleased to show and demonstrate the New Plymouth.

Cadillac-LaSalle

You have always wanted a Cadillac. This year . . . why not own one? For no longer is the distinction of Cadillac ownership reserved only for men of wealth. As a matter of fact, today's Cadillacs are priced at but little more than half the cost of the Cadillacs of a few short years ago. And they are infinitely finer cars . . . more beautiful, more luxurious, safer and more comfortable . . . and better performing. Their intrinsic value is without equal. The V-8 engine, developed to the highest perfection by Cadillac in more than a quarter century of building V-type engines exclusively, delivers 135 horsepower. The spirited and smooth performance of this great motor, engineered as an integral part of a great chassis, is now controlled with fingertip ease by the miraculous new Syncromatic Gear Shift. The new bodies, with safety so greatly enhanced by the "Unisteel" Turret-Top construction, are styled in a manner befitting the industry's acknowledged style leader, and embellished with every attribute of comfort, convenience, and luxury. In all things these latest Cadillacs are worthy successors in the long line of distinguished motor cars bearing the Cadillac name.

Interiors of the new Cadillac V-8 are enhanced by new fabrics, new trimming, and charming new color harmonies. Equipment is extraordinarily complete, including ash receivers with snap tops; new rear arm-rests; sunshades; front door arm-rests; deep carpets; sturdy cord robe rail, and a new "safety-back" front seat, rounded and thickly upholstered.

Driving the new Cadillac V-8—with the syncromatic gear shift lever at your fingertips—is sheer relaxation! The beautiful instrument panel—with locks flush, and control knobs recessed for greater safety—contains a built-in ash tray, locking glove compartment, and special provision for radio controls. A simple adjustment lifts the front seat as it is moved forward.

LaSalle

Only its fine and exclusive heritage of Cadillac engineering and Cadillac manufacture enables LaSalle, of all fine cars, to offer such great intrinsic value.

Whether you appraise the new LaSalle for its striking beauty, or for the brilliant performance of its Cadillac-built V-8 engine, or for its lasting economy . . . you will be quick to see that no other fine car gives so much at so low a cost.

Built with the experience of age . . . the new LaSalle is styled with the vision of youth. Its smart, new lines will immediately capture your admiration.

LaSalle remains undeniably the world's most economical fine car. This 1938 LaSalle V-8 brings you one of the finest in a long and brilliant succession of Cadillac engineering advancements . . . the Syncromatic Gear Shift.

The new Syncromatic Gear Shift is standard. There is nothing to learn, nothing to forget. But there is a wholly new and delightful experience to enjoy! Located out of the way, on the steering column (where the gear shift lever belongs!) the Syncromatic Shift enables you to change gears with an entirely new ease . . . smoothly and positively. And there's another great advantage—the Syncromatic Control frees the front compartment of all obstructing levers . . . giving an added, and much appreciated spaciousness. You drive with complete relaxation.

LaSalle center-point steering requires only a light pressure of the fingers . . . and the wheel returns to "straight-ahead" of its own volition when the curve is rounded. Brakes apply tremendous pressure at a slight touch. Gauges and instruments are within constant and unobstructed vision.

There is no car in all the world that's such a joy to drive as this easily handled LaSalle V-8.

These cars are on display and ready to be demonstrated to you at your convenience by Frost Motors, Inc., 399 Washington st., Newton.

Oldsmobile

Over the entire forty years of its fine-car manufacturing, Oldsmobile has repeatedly advanced the art of automotive design and time and again raised new standards of automobile performance, usefulness and value. Today, Oldsmobile presents in the Style-Leader Six the full measure of that rich experience, now given even greater scope by Oldsmobile's modern engineering resources and greatly expanded production facilities. This present-day Oldsmobile Six is more than a car of singular beauty. It is engineered to deliver a type and kind of performance that is powerful, dependable, smoothly responsive and lastingly economical. It is large, spacious and replete with the latest features for your greater safety and comfort. Priced but a little above the lowest-priced cars, the Oldsmobile Six is a Quality Value of which Oldsmobile is justly proud. The Oldsmobile Eight is known to hundreds of thousands of owners as one of America's finest cars. Its outstanding value is appreciated particularly by those who have long been accustomed to paying a great deal more for their motor cars. An aristocratic distinction marks its long, free-flowing lines and contours. Tasteful luxury distinguishes its large and spacious interiors, with their complete complement of quality features, including new and exclusive provisions for more comfortable and safer travel. Particular pride of the engineers whose genius created it is the eight-cylinder engine of this Oldsmobile — full 110-horsepower, silken-smooth and silent in action, and especially notable for its operating economy. Feature for feature, point for point, the Oldsmobile Eight at its moderate price stands out as a unique value among America's fine-quality cars.

Major factors in Oldsmobile's all-round and year-round economy are the precision-built Oldsmobile Six and Oldsmobile Eight engines. Oldsmobile power plants are designed primarily for high efficiency and a true balance of operating economy, low-cost upkeep and maintenance, and long life. As a consequence, Oldsmobile engines perform witih uniform smoothness and responsiveness and maintain their peak efficiency with remarkable freedom from wear, adjustment and repairs.

Oldsmobile's Automatic Safety Transmission is available on all models of both Oldsmobile Six and Eight—offered as optional equipment, built in at the factory, at extra cost.

Frost Motors, Inc., 399 Washington sts. have both Oldsmobile 6's and 8's on display and will be glad to demonstrate the remarkable features of these Quality Cars.

Pontiac

Retaining the distinctive badge of the "Silver Streak," the new Pontiac models for 1938, stressing safety in many style and mechanical refinements, go on public display at dealer showrooms the country over.

Built on both a six and eight cylinder chassis, the two lines are each offered in a choice of eight body styles.

Outstanding features of both lines are complete new treatment of front and styling, optional remote control gear shift lever which frees the front compartment of all obstructions, enlarged generator ample for every electrical need, relocation of the battery beneath the hood for greater cleanliness and accessibility, improved silent syncro-mesh transmission, complete new treatment of the Fisher Body interiors and a host of minor changes designed to increase beauty and safety.

The same body types are available on both six and eight cylinder chassis: 3-passenger standard coupe, 5-passenger sport coupe and cabriolet, 6-passenger 2-door and 4-door sedans, 2-door and 4-door touring sedans, and convertible phaeton. Curb weight on the 4-door sedan is 3415 pounds on the six and 3555 on the eight.

Most striking in the new exterior appearance is the restyled front end. The chromium grille popularly known as the "Silver Streak," which leaped into instant public favor when Pontiac first introduced it on the 1935 model, is retained in all its individuality, and becomes the focal point of a new hood side grille and new radiator horizontal grille design which gives the impression of extreme power and beauty. The hood side grille differs on the eight from the six in that it has three chrome mouldings instead of two.

The new shift lever is Pontiac-designed and exclusive to this car among 1938 models. It is a simple, easy, and safe mechanical device for utilizing the standard shift by remote control. Beneath the steering wheel, and mounted on the steering column is a hand shift lever with four speed locations similar to the "H" pattern in conventional use. In the new arrangement, however, the shift lever is moved up and down instead of sidewise in transferring from the reverse-low to the second-high positions through the neutral range. A series of cable controls and ball and socket joints transfer this movement into the transmission by remote control just as under the old arrangement it was done by direct action. Automotive experts have pronounced this new development as one of the outstanding mechanical inventions of the new season.

Frank Battles, Inc., 26 Peabody st., Newton, already are making delivery of the new models as fast as shipments are being received from the factory.

Packard

For 1938 the Packard Motor Car Company has almost completely redesigned its two lower priced cars and a long list of detailed improvements is announced for the larger higher priced Super Eight and Twelve. The Packard Eight becomes the successor to the One Twenty. The name Packard Six is continued for its companion in the lower priced field.

The Six and Eight are much larger n appearance and each has an increase of seven inches in wheelbase.

Both the Six and Eight have all steel bodies with one piece steel tops and sound insulated with 11 different kinds of noise deadening material.

All four cars have Vee type windshields and Vee rear windows; new and more stream lined fenders; new four beam head lamps, mounted directly on the skirts of the front fenders, new instrument boards and instruments, featuring among several other things new almost full length concealed defroster vents for both sides of the windshield. Luggage trunks of the Six and Eight are much enlarged.

The Packard Safe-T-fleX independent front wheel suspension system is continued on all cars and to it has been added a newly designed rubber pad for the seat of the top of the coil springs.

Five passenger coupes have straight across tilting seats and unusually wide doors. Two and four passenger coupes have inside folding opera type seats.

Bodies of all cars are wider, giving increased seating width. Windshields of the Six and Eight are a full two inches higher giving greatly increased vision. Easily manipulated cam type screened cowl ventilators are provided.

The Twelve, as before, has oil operated automatic valve adjustments. In the Eight and Six there are new mushroom type valve tappets with full pressure lubrication. Oil filters, standard on the Twelve and Super Eight, are now made standard on the Six and Eight.

The Six develops 100 horsepower, Eight 120, Super Eight 135 and Twelve 175.

All cars have, as before, transmissions with carburized gears, silent in all forward speeds; carburetor air cleaners and silencers; ventilated crank cases; vibration dampers; full pressure lubrication; 100 per cent counterweighted crankshafts; hypoid geared rear axles; I beam X member, box girder frames and other basic Packard engineering features.

Studebaker

Studebaker brilliantly dramatizes its eighty-sixth consecutive year of public service with three remarkable new automobiles . . . the lowest priced President and lowest priced Commander in Studebaker history . . . in addition to a new Studebaker Six. They are completely new cars in every vigorous flowing line, strikingly original creations of the world's foremost designers and finest craftsmen.

In fact, in these cars, for the first time in automobile history Studebaker introduces solid, symmetrical, balanced design as devoid of meaningless ornamentation and as truly functional as the rhythmic, clean-cut, expressive architecture of the modern skyscraper.

You ride relaxed in all the new 1938 Studebakers. There's lullaby comfort in the wide, deep, chair-height seats, contoured to the body. The rich, soft, durable Studebaker upholstery fabrics are tailored over cool, sanitary, resilient curled hair and finest coil springs. And no matter what the speed of the car, or the type of road it travels on, the Studebaker Miracle Ride protects you and your passengers against jolting and fatigue.

Studebaker specializes in stability as a ride in any one of the new 1938 Studebakers reveals. The center of gravity is only 25 inches above the ground with road load. Even on curves at high speeds, there is little or none of the roll or side sway that is commonly produced by centrifugal forces in other cars. Drivers and passengers have a satisfying feeling of steadiness and safety.

There's loads of room for loads of luggage in the 1938 Studebaker sedan trunk. Two-door models have 20.9 cubic feet of usable trunk storage space—four-door models 20.1 cubic feet— and this does not include the 2 to 3 cubic feet occupied by the spare tire and wheel which are fastened rigidly upright against the trunk rear wall, out of the way yet accessible. Tools are carried concealed below floor level.

World's strongest steel body reinforced by steel. In the 1938 Studebaker body, the side panels as well as the roof are of one-piece steel reinforced by more box section girders of steel than are used in any other car. Steel floors, steel doors and steel cowl add to this armored protection that the new Studebaker provides.

These great new Studebakers are being shown and demonstrated in Newton by Newton Motors, Inc., at their new show rooms 26 Galen st., Newton Corner.

The new quarters occupy one entire city block, and is equipped with every modern appliance for the servicing of automobiles. A 24 hour service is maintained. Newton Motors invite you to call and inspect their plant and the new Studebakers.

Community Chest

Leslie Harwood, Jr., and Dr. Frank Palmer Speare. The Highland Glee Club, under the direction of D. Ralph MacLean, will sing and a tableau will be presented.

Emphasizing the care with which agencies' budgets are examined, Chest officials cite the work of the Chest Budget Committee throughout the year. Made up of leading Newton citizens the committee meets monthly and each member serves as a contact man for one or more agencies.

In September, 1937, each member-agency submitted to the committee a statement of its financial requirements for 1938. An explanatory brief accompanied these estimates. Subsequently, representatives of each agency appeared before the committee for discussion of the details of their estimates.

After careful analysis and study following such discussions, the committee recommends that the following amounts be approved by the Board of Directors to provide for 1938 needs of the member-agencies.

Veteran Letter Carrier Retires

Thomas L. Rodden of 336 Centre st., Newton, retires today as a letter carrier at the Newton postoffice after 37 years service, having reached the age limit of 65 years. Mr. Rodden was born at Saint Albans, Vermont, and came to Newton Centre with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rodden, when he was a child. As a young man he worked for the Boston Elevated Railroad, and on July 1, 1900, was appointed a letter carrier. With the exception of a few months substitute work in other postoffices, all of his service has been at the Newton postoffice. He has always borne the reputation of being one of the most efficient carriers ever to work in the Boston postal district. His courtesy and unfailing geniality have made him very popular with the people he served, and with his associates. Many of his friends desired to tender him a testimonial, but with characteristic modesty, Mr. Rodden would not permit them.

Costume Lecture With Living Models

The first regular meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be held on Tuesday, November 2nd, at the Club House, Washington pk. Dessert-coffee, served from 1:30 to 2:15 o'clock will precede the meeting. Mrs. Raymond A. Green, a Club member, is to lecture on "Costumes Here and There," illustrating with living models from the community.

The costumes come from little-known parts of Europe where tradition and dress of the past are still the rule. They come from little towns by the sea, deep in the forest, high on the side of a mountain. All are authentic, and were made in the very places in which they are worn. Seeing the people in their bright colors, their styles so different from our own, became a fascinating pursuit to Mrs. Green, and it finally became a quest for the unusual, the beautiful, even the ludicrous. There are costumes to fit small boys, tiny girls, older children, and adults. One and all, each has its own story, woven from the lives of the people, and from the customs and traditions of the community from which it comes.

Clubwomen will enjoy seeing fellow members and local children change places for a little while, with their brothers and sisters across the sea. There will be two tiny boys from Bavaria, Herta from Hesse, a little girl from the Spreewald, with her most surprising head-dress, all from Germany; two Dutch children; and a proud Spanish beauty from Granada; a Bretienne from France; and a woman from the Schwalen near Kassel in Germany, where the only transportation into the region is by foot. The last costume is to be a surprise, and will be in direct contrast to the others.

The members of the Newtonville Woman's Club are notified that Mrs. Adam Haugh, chairman of the Children's Christmas Party, is ready to receive discarded toys and games which the Newton firemen are kind enough to recondition for the Christmas Party. Yarn for mittens also is needed for cold days ahead. Contributions should be sent to Mrs. Haugh, Telephone West Newton 2384-W.

The International Relations committee, Mrs. Paul E. Elicker, chairman, announces that Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will be with the Club again this season with an interesting series of lectures on the subject: "This Troublesome World." The first lecture will be in the evening, Thursday, November 4th, at 8 o'clock, and will be on the highlights of her recent European trip. Tickets may be had from Mrs. Elicker, Telephone, West Newton 1784-M.

On the 3rd Thursday of each month the Hospital committee will meet to sew at the Newton Hospital, and any Club member interested in this activity will be most welcome. The committee reminds Club members also of the annual donation of jellies, old cotton, and linen at the Club meeting on November 16th, which donations are always much needed.

Topics of Personal Interest

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The American Home Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club held a Luncheon-Bridge at the Colonial Cooking School, Boston, on October 20th. After a delicious luncheon, Mrs. Jean Tiegten, hostess of the School, gave a splendid talk on the products used on the menu. Two door prizes were given away, the first being won by Mrs. Nathaniel A. Billing and the second by Mrs. Willard C. Church. A bag of merchandise was raffled off and won by Mrs. Malcolm A. Warren. Bridge was enjoyed and prizes were won by Mrs. Edwin M. Wolley, Mrs. J. Herbert Brown, and Mrs. Nathaniel A. Billings. Mrs. Raymond A. Littlefield spoke of the work of the committee for the coming year which promised to be most interesting.

The next meeting will be on Wednesday, November 3rd, at the home of Mrs. William D. Keefe, 113 Prospect st., Wellesley Hills at 12:30 p. m. Mrs. Percival Waters will be chairman.

The Junior Club of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will meet in the Library on Tuesday, November 2nd, at 7:30 p. m. A representative from Filene's will discuss "The Art of Make-up and Care of the Hair."

Members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club attending the Fall Meeting of the State Federation at Plymouth on October 20th were Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader, president; Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president of the Newton Federation; Mrs. Francis H. McCrudden, Mrs. Patrick Duncan, Mrs. Charles E. Gibson, Jr., Mrs. D. Webster Anders, Mrs. John Shade Franklin, Mrs. George H. Jackson, and Mrs. Percival Waters.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

That keen interest is being manifested in the production of "Stop-Over," the play by Alan Hay, being given this evening, October 29th at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, is indicated by the array of Chinese art treasures and furniture that are being lent from many Newton homes for the artistic stage setting. A large Buddha from one patron of the arts, nests of teakwood tables from another, delicate vases from another, and cane furniture from yet another, will form the background for the actors. The music is being furnished from the studio of Franklin C. McCoy, of Newton Centre.

Newton Centre clubwomen will be especially interested in the exhibit of beautiful water-colors, the work of one of their talented members, now to be viewed in the Art Galleries.

Eva Campbell Peterson (Mrs. G. A.) is a pupil of H. D. Williams of Earlham College, and of Horace Bradley, N.A., ex-president of the Art Students' League of New York, and also of George W. Wing, member of the Copley Society of Boston. In water-colors she has studied with the late Henry W. Rice, of Boston, and with Eliot O'Hara.

Mrs. Peterson has developed her own style, which has received favorable comment from Professor Helge Lundholm of Dukes College, and from the Vose Galleries. She has exhibited in Philadelphia, New York, and the West.

Examples of her work will be in the Art Galleries until November 10th. Visitors are welcome.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On Thursday morning, November 4th, the Literature committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will present the first in a series of six Book Talks, with Dorothy Harding Fuller discussing "Outstanding Novels of the Season." These literary mornings will be held at the Club House on the first Thursday of each month at 10 o'clock. Books, plays, and writers of the day will be discussed by well-known speakers. Tickets may be obtained from the chairman, Mrs. Newell L. Keith, telephone Centre Newton 4465, or from any member of the committee, and at the door. Mrs. Fuller is a graduate of Radcliffe College, and chairman of Dramatics of the Woman's Club of Brockton. She organized the successful Little Theatre of Brockton and appeared in the leading role of "Dulcy" when the play was presented by the Little Theatre last March before the Presidents' Club of Massachusetts.

Tickets are now available for the course of six lectures on Child Guidance, to be given by Dr. W. West Newton Community Service Club

The first meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton for the season 1937-1938 was held Wednesday, October 20th, in the Unitarian Parish House.

The new president, Mrs. Harold C. Scranton, gave a cordial greeting to members, then outlined briefly the activities for the year, calling especial attention to a new feature "Personal Contact." This has been inaugurated to aid any former or new members who would enjoy contributing their services to some Club activity. Mrs. Harry F. Morse is in charge of this feature, and all members were urged to get in touch with her so that she may have a complete working file to which to refer.

Announcement was also made of Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond's Readings which will begin on Thursday, November 18th, at the home of Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhie, on Prince st., at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Claude U. Gilson's lectures on Current Events are starting today, October 29th, at 10:30 a. m., in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church.

The Sewing Meetings are to be held this year at the Newton Hospital. This is a new departure for the Club, and it is hoped members will respond and so make these meetings of real service.

Mrs. Charles M. Gregg, as chairman of the Membership committee, was complimented on their activities when the names of twenty-two new members were read and given a welcome to the Club.

The speaker of the afternoon, Fletcher Wood Taft, gave a rapid-fire talk, interspersed with appropriate stories, on "What's the News." As the editor of a small-town newspaper, he is particularly versed in news from an editor's view point, as well as from that of the reader. Just what constitutes news is best illustrated from the talk around a supper table, he declared: personal items; people with outstanding personalities; disasters which unfortunately give play for dramatic headlines and really sell the newspapers; local situations, and also advertisements. Then for a few moments, Mr. Taft spoke on "The" News, giving some of his personal comments on national and European affairs.

The Club was next entertained by Lucy Simonds who gave a lecture-recital on Wagner's "Die Walkure." Starting with the legends from which Wagner drew his material for the opera, Mrs. Simonds drew pictures for her audience in music to show every phase of the story, playing the principal themes, sound, entreaty, storm, and sympathy. She analyzed the opera in full, telling the story and playing many passages. Her very evident love for Wagnerian operas was most contagious and her audience could not but feel a keen appreciation and knowledge of "Die Walkure" when the recital ended.

Tea was served by Mrs. Ralph Albree and her committee.

Newton Federation

The fall meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs was held on Friday, October 22nd, in the Second Church Parish House, West Newton. During the morning, Round-Table Conferences were led by chairmen of committees. Special exhibits were on view of the splendid work done in the Trades School of Newton. Lathes, vices, and automobile parts were some of the work shown in one exhibit, while tables and mirrors formed the display in another. Among the speakers invited to address the various committees were Mr. Hoyland Bettinger and Mr. Richard B. Gregg.

At noon the club members and friends met in the Young Peoples' Chapel. Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president of the Newton Federation, presided, and introduced the speakers. Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury spoke on the Christmas Health Seals, thanking the clubwomen for their support in the purchase of seals, and urging generous purchase in the future. WOMEN'S CLUBS the seals are now suffering from the lean years of the depression, she stated. The advanced stage in which the cases of tuberculosis are discovered is most disturbing to the health authorities, said Mrs. Tudbury, and she spoke of the emphasis and effort being made to prevent the dread disease, and for the early discovery of it when contracted.

Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhie, chairman of the Newton Federation's newly-created committee for the Physically-Handicapped, gave an outline of the work the committee plans to do and to interest others to do. An appeal for an encyclopaedia for the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children was made. Plans for work with the blind included a call for readers to the blind, social hours for the blind in private homes, assistance at the Annual Fair for sale of articles made by the blind, and work to stimulate the sale of these articles during the entire year.

During the luncheon hour Mrs. Hay presented Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, director of the Twelfth District of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, who spoke of the Twelfth District Conference to be held November 10th, at the Waban Union Church, with the Waban Woman's Club as hostess.

Mrs. Hay made the interesting announcement that the Social Welfare division of the State Federation, of which she is chairman, now includes Child Welfare, Public Safety, Law Observance, Correction, and Community Service.

After luncheon, the clubwomen convened in the Young Peoples' Chapel and were greeted by Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader, president of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, the Hostess Club. Mrs. Hay, president of the Newton Federation, then presided for the business meeting. The program for the afternoon was presented by the director of Research and Guidance in the Newton Schools, Mr. C. Elwood Drake, and a staff of teachers. Mr. G. Winthrop Brainerd, principal of the Horace Mann and Claflin Schools, speaking on "Guidance in the Elementary Schools," stressed the importance guidance plays in the part of a child's life from five to twelve years, and how neglect at this age leads to crime. Mr. Raymond W. Blaisdell, principal of the Weeks Junior High School, speaking on "Guidance in the Junior High Schools and the Recognition of the Child as an Individual," urged co-operation of parents in the plans and ambitions of the children. If the pupil had been guided intelligently into a class and social group where he is happy and can do successful work, then the problems of failure, disciplie, unhappiness, and irregularity of attendance are minimized, he stated. Miss Cora E. Riley, chief adviser, Newton High School, spoke of the cross-section of life as viewed from the office of the High School, exemplified as "A fur coat on one child, and worn-out shoes on another." This office makes a careful study of the interests, abilities, and past achievements of the pupils. Last year over $10,000 in scholarships were won by the Newton High School graduating class.

Miss Annis M. Sturgis, school psychologist, spoke on the guidance given the physically-handicapped, citing the sight-saving classes, the lip-reading classes, and the teachers who go to the children unable to attend school. Reading is the most fundamental subject taught in or out of school, she declared, and for those children who have difficulty in learning to read there are two special schools in Newton.

A chorus of sixty students from the Newton High School sang a group of songs under the direction of Mr. Haydn Morgan, director of the Department of Music.

Mr. James Forbes, director of the Newton Trades School, spoke of the guidance in vocational work. The Trade School, while preparing pupils for specific occupational fields, also carries on a program of guidance very similar to that of the High School, he reported. Readjustment of pupils is made whenever necessary, and a careful check on graduates is carried on constantly, so that the former students may have a profitable and worthwhile vocation.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club met on Monday, October 18th, at 7:30 p. m., with Miss Nellie M. Osborne, president, presiding at the business meeting, which was followed by an enjoyable program, the gift of Miss A. Gertrude Osborne, a member of the Club. Mrs. Eleanor Coray Forman, in a delightful recital entitled "Bonnets" displayed "Bonnets of Great-grandmother's Day" to the present generation, exhibiting her models in a large hat-box, while describing in verse as Mrs. Frances Wright accompanied at the piano with soft music.

Miss Priscilla Sawyer and Miss Margaret Kerrivan, Junior members of the Club, assisted as models for the quaint styles, with Mrs. Olive Horn, a friend of Mrs. Forman's.

The next meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Chadwick, chairman of the Art committee, on Monday, November 1st. The speaker will be Mrs. Arthur C. Sennert, a past State Federation chairman of Legislation. She will take for her subject, "Legislative Activities of Special Interest to Women." Refreshments will be served by the Hospitality committee, with Mrs. Harold T. Sprague, chairman, as hostess.

Newton Upper Falls Garden Club

The members of the Newton Upper Falls Garden Club were the guests of Mrs. Phyllis Flinchbaugh at her home on Rockland place on Saturday, October 16th, at 2 p. m. Mrs. Adeline T. Capobianco, president of the Club, presided at a short business meeting at the conclusion of which Mrs. Capobianco gave a talk entitled "Putting Our Gardens to Bed," and also exhibited an Italian squash 4 feet long. Mrs. James McNeally exhibited a winter bouquet of old-fashioned winter garden flowers that grew in her garden, graciously presenting the bouquet at the close of the talk to the hostess.

Dainty refreshments were served with Mrs. Capobianco, president, and Miss Nellie M. Osborne, president of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, assisting as pourers at the tea-table.

Newtonville Bazaar

Almond-blossoms, Chinese-lanterns and ladies in native costumes of Chinese blues, reds and greens, embroidered with gold dragons, gave a gay foreign atmosphere to the Newtonville Woman's Club Bazaar held at the Club House on Tuesday, October 26th, from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

For purchasers already looking for Christmas gifts, there was infinite variety, including the always useful and popular "hanky", hand-made bedspreads, afghans, and luncheon sets. The food-table, with its many "goodies," made a strong appeal to the housewife, as did the gardening section with its attractive plants.

The bargain hunter could find that extra dish, vase, or picture at the busy white elephant table and the book-lover had a wide selection from which to choose at the well-stocked book table. Lovely gems sparkled at the jewelry table, while aprons galore, large, roomy ones for the morning hours and perky little affairs for Sunday night suppers proved an irresistible counter. Candy and bridge tables had attractive wares and a grab-cart, decorated in Chinese style, delighted the children.

A generous amount of "chances," including large and tempting fruit baskets, a lovely Irish Belleek tea-set, a distinctive lamp, and even a canary in his bird-cage, were well patronized.

A delicious luncheon and dinner, with a well-known Boston caterer, and served by Club members, was much enjoyed, and afternoon tea on the stage of the Social Hall, which was decorated in the Chinese manner, was another delightful feature.

The sleight-of-hand man, Harrison Hoyt, delighted the children and entertained the elders, with his clever tricks, and Mrs. Paul E. Elicker, a Club member, showed a most original family album of pantomimes, with songs by Mrs. White, and accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols.

The annual Ladies' Night and Charter Anniversary of the Newton Rotary Club were observed on Monday evening at the Brae Burn Country Club. One hundred and twenty-six members and guests were present to enjoy an excellent banquet and program of entertainment arranged by E. Prentiss Jones, chairman of the ladies' night committee.

Dr. Frank R. Clark, president of the Newton Rotary Club, welcomed the members and introduced as guests Rev. and Mrs. Arthur W. Ellis; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chambers, president of the Framingham and Ansonia Rotary Clubs; Mr. and Mrs. William F. White, president of the Newton Kiwanis Club; Francis Flagg, vice-president of the Boston Rotary Club and his daughter, Miss Nancy Flagg; Past District Governor and Mrs. Burt Eward; Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kent, president of the Needham Rotary Club, and Bert Fuller, president of the Waltham Rotary Club.

The entertainment was furnished by a group of NBC artists introduced by Peg Norton, pianist, and mistress of ceremonies. Marquita, a seventeen-year-old danseuse, was enthusiastically received. Blanche Goldthwaite, comedienne, and a comedy team of Morton and Russell, of the Schubert Theatres, added to the hilarity of the occasion. The highlight of the evening was the musical novelty act of George Gillette, whose music with horns, balloons, bells and saws and other implements together with a constant flow of humorous repartee kept his audience in continual laughter.

Dancing with music by Lou Haffermehl's orchestra concluded a most enjoyable evening.

Charged With Hit-Run Driving

Belton Westhaver of 27 Columbia st., Wellesley was arrested last Friday night by Newton and Wellesley policemen after a car he allegedly was driving had hit a parked car at Auburndale. A car owned by Charles Moors of Plymouth, New Hampshire, was parked on Washington st. near Aspen ave. when it was hit by a passing automobile which continued toward Wellesley. The rear of the Moors car was damaged. Word was sent to police headquarters and a cruising car with Patrolmen Eliot and Powers went to the scene. They were handed the front number plate of the hit and run car, which had been knocked off when it hit the Moors car. The number plate was traced to Westhaver and the Newton police, in company with Wellesley policemen went to his home and placed him under arrest for drunkenness. In the Newton court last Saturday Westhaver was arraigned on the drunkenness charge. He demanded a hearing on the issuance of two complaints on charges of driving a car while under the influence of liquor, and leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. The hearing was postponed until October 30.

CASTOLDI STARS IN VICTORY OVER QUINCY

Scores Fifteen Points In 21 to 0 Shutout

With Castoldi providing the spark the Newton High School football team toppled Quincy High 21 to 0 on Monday in Saturday's postponed game at the Dickinson Stadium. The galloping ghost of the Newton team turned in a day's total of 15 of his team's points and set up the additional six tallies on a long run right up to the goalline. Although Castoldi was brilliant and outstanding he had yeoman service from his mates who turned in as neat a job of blocking as any Newton outfit has shown in some time. With the score reading 14 to 0 after but fifteen plays had been run off in the initial period Coach Sanborn gave Castoldi a rest. While he was on the bench the Newton squad strove valiantly to add to its score gaining considerable yardage but failing to produce by the barest of margins.

A partially blocked Quincy kick gave Newton the ball on the Quincy 28 yard line for its first opportunity. An offside penalty against the visitors and a nine yard rush by Fisher made it first down. Castoldi swept around end to score standing up and then booted the extra point. After the ensuing kickoff Quincy swept to midfield and to a first down on the Newton 44. Quincy then took to the air and Castoldi speared Kroesser's pass and eluded the intended receiver's attempted tackle. Picking his way through the scrimmage line near the north side of the field he cut diagonally across field to the southern sideline. At the Quincy 20 Castoldi attempted to straight arm the last Quincy player between him and the goal. The latter grabbed the extended arm but Castoldi shook himself loose and continued down the sideline. He was slowed up enough to allow Kroesser to nail him from behind at the four yard line. Sohaski rammed the line for two plays to tally and Castoldi added the extra point.

In the final period Newton added its third touchdown which finally came after the orange and black had almost tallied three times only to have an official ruling nullify an apparent score. Shortly after the teams had changed for the fourth period Newton obtained possession of the ball on the Quincy 44 on a short quick kick. Burns tossed a short flat pass to Castoldi across the scrimmage line and Castoldi was away again. Eluding most of the Quincy secondary he was finally forced outside at the Quincy 7 after a 37 yard net gain. Fisher brought it to the 3 and then plunged over the line but a 15 yard holding penalty set Newton back to the 19. Another Burns to Castoldi pass was completed in the end zone but the officials ruled both teams offside and the play was called back. Burns tossed another pass this time to Sohaski, which missed completion by a hair as the Newton quarterback could not grip the ball tight enough to hold it right on the goalline. A third pass by Burns into the end zone on the opposite side bounced out of Castoldi's arms into those of the Newton end, Bob Klein, but once more the play was nullified on the rule that two players of the same team cannot touch the ball unless an opponent has touched it in the interval. This gave Quincy the ball on downs at their 20-yard line and Newton was forced to wait. On the first play Quincy was penalized 15 yards and on the next play another quick kick was attempted. An overeager Newton back clipped a Quincy end neatly before the ball had been caught drawing a 15-yard penalty and putting the ball at midfield in Newton's possession. Another Burns' pass slipped out of Sohaski's fingers as he was in the clear and then Castoldi was smothered for a 10-yard loss on another attempted pass play. Castoldi punted and Paglia nailed the receiver in his tracks with a jarring tackle at the Quincy 21. The Granite City team, with but about two minutes to play, tried a desperation heave in an effort to avert a shut out. Leaping in the air Castoldi speared the oval at midfield and with a pretty display of open field running raced for the touchdown. He then coolly made his third perfect placekick to bring the count to 21 to 0. A few plays later the game ended.

First Period

Castoldi's opening kickoff rolled across the goalline and out of the end zone giving Quincy possession on their 20-yard stripe. Two plays gained two yards and Kroesser kicked. The ball was partially blocked by Bob Klein and Newton had its first chance already described. Castoldi's second kickoff went to Broderick on the Quincy 8. Aided by nice interference he fought his way to the 4-yard stripe. Kroesser ran the end for 16 yards and was almost in the clear when Sohaski dropped him at the Newton 44. Kroesser's pass was intercepted by Castoldi and a few plays later Newton had scored again as told. Pescosolido replaced Castoldi and kicked off with Cedrone being downed at the Quincy 28. The visitors picked up a first down on the 40 but failed on fourth down at midfield and Newton took possession of the ball. Small gains by Fisher and Pesky and an offside penalty against Quincy gave Newton a first down as the period ended.

Second Period

Newton was set back 5 yards for offside play and a Burns to Paglia pass just missed completion. Paglia was in the clear but the pass was two inches too far for him to hold the ball. Burns then kicked to the Quincy 16. An exchange of kicks saw Newton gaining a little ground and a second exchange gave Burns a chance to run the ball back 23 yards to the Quincy 22 yard line and Newton threatened again. Cedrone intercepted a Burns pass to stop the advance. Comi reeled off 12 yards for a first down but two plays later a quick kick saw Burns being nailed in his tracks on the Newton 27. Failing to gain Fitzgerald who relieved Burns punted and the ball was run back 20 yards to midfield. Colvin intercepted a Quincy pass at the Newton 40 and three plays later the half ended.

Third Period

Quincy's kickoff gave Newton the ball on their 13 yard line. Burns kick gave Quincy the ball again on the Newton side of midfield. Kroesser and Comi gained considerable yardage and the visitors threatened to score but the Newton defence stiffened and the home eleven took the ball on downs on the 8 yard line. Aided by an offside penalty Newton made it first down on the 19 and then on the 29 with Fisher, Castoldi and Burns gaining consistently. A 15-yard penalty set Newton back and Burns kicked to midfield where Paglia recovered the fumbled catch as the quarter ended.

Failing to gain again Burns kicked to the Quincy 15 and a quick kick return gave Newton the ball again at the Quincy 45 yard mark. The remainder of the period was used in setting up the third Newton touchdown as related.

NEWTON MEETS BEST RINDGE TEAM IN YEARS

Suburban League Title Is At Stake Today

In a game which is expected to determine the 1937 Suburban League champion the Newton and Rindge Tech football teams meet this afternoon at Russell Field, Cambridge. With Rindge possessing the best team it has put on the gridiron in years and a team which at present is rated the leading contender for the mythical state championship among the larger high schools the Newton team is naturally the underdog having won but two of its five games to date. But do not sell this Newton team short. Although under a possible additional handicap of having already played one game this week, against Quincy on Monday, and meeting a well-rested Rindge team which has not played since two weeks ago today the orange and black has improved steadily in various departments of the game. As far as weight is concerned the teams are about evenly matched although when Bob Wheldon, Newton tackle, is not in the line-up the Rindge outfit will have a decided advantage.

Thus far this season Rindge has probably met more mediocre competition than Newton. The Cambridge outfit has tied a below average Waltham team, defeated a much below average Haverhill outfit, and has also defeated such teams as Cambridge Latin, Brookline, and Gardner. Newton's three defeats have been at the hands of Arlington, Everett and Brockton, three top-notch teams with Everett the only one of the three below its normal form. Should Newton turn in an upset and defeat Rindge it will place Brockton on top of the heap.

An added incentive for Newton to capture the honors is the intention to retain its Suburban League championship laurels. For the past two years Coach Sanborn's teams have held the honor in this four-team combination which formerly was one of the chief athletic loops in Massachusetts. Given a dry field, this Newton team may top an overconfident Rindge aggregation that at times has played notably sluggish football.

The Newton outfit will be strengthened by the return of several lads who have been on the injured list for various lengths of time. Ernest Collantonio and Bob Hughes, ends, are both ready to go as is Chesarone, subcentre, who will relieve Bud Liming when necessary. Ted Duffy, appointed permanent captain of the Newton team a few weeks ago at the request of the squad, may be ready to step in if needed. Duffy was one of the strong spots of the Newton line on defense until injured in the Brockton contest. Bud Hines is definitely in shape to play and it is possible that he may start in the backfield in Sohaski's quarterback berth. His mates will be Castoldi at fullback and Burns and Fisher at the halves. Burns has come along fast as a passer, punter, and ball carrier and is making a valuable contribution to the Newton team's attack. Paul Robey is another back who may see service after spending some time on the bench nursing injuries. Flanking Liming at centre will be Hutchings and Colvin at the guard positions and Mason and Wheldon at tackle. Klein and Paglia will start at the wings with Collantonio and Hughes being early replacements.

Liquor Crazed Youth Kills Self At Lower Falls

John W. Yaskel, 22, who boarded at the home of Albert Reske, 204 Concord st., Newton Lower Falls, committed suicide on Tuesday night after terrifying Mrs. Rose Reske, his landlady, and others in the neighborhood. Yaskel, who was drunk, hit one of the Reske children, according to the police, and Mrs. Reske reprimanded him. Yaskel grabbed a revolver and threatened to shoot the Reske baby and himself. As Yaskel laid down the revolver, Mrs. Reske seized it and fleeing to a neighbor's house, gave it to a man residing there. Yaskel followed and recovered the revolver after intimidating the man who had been given the weapon. Returning to the Reske house, Yaskel announced that he would go out to the yard and shoot himself.

Yaskel went out to the yard and fired a few shots, one of which hit the home of William Haley at 198 Concord st. Yaskel then returned into the Reske house, emptied the shell from the revolver and replaced one shell in the gun. Repeating his threat that he would shoot himself. Yaskel again went out to the yard and fired another shot. Persons in the Reske home thought he was bluffing, but when Mrs. Reske looked out some time later, she saw Yaskel lying in the yard. Newton police were notified and Medical Examiner Gallagher viewed the body. He found the bullet had entered the right side of Yaskel's head and emerged on the left side. Dr. Gallagher's report stated that Yaskel's death was a case of "suicide while intoxicated." Yaskel's father resides in Brockton.

Brighton Youths Steal Automobile

Four Brighton youths were arrested in Somerville Sunday night on a charge of stealing an automobile owned by William Paxton of 19 Montvale rd., Newton Centre. They are Edward Carroll, 18, of 37 Fairbanks st.; John Timilty, 18, of 2 Litchfield st.; George Kilroy, 16, of 68 Murdock st.; Gerald Phinney, 15, of 27 Falkland ter. Paxton parked the car in front of his home about 6:30 and at 10:30 reported to the Newton police that it had been stolen. The description of the car was sent out over the police teletype, and about an hour later Somerville police observed the car and captured the four youths who were riding in it. The two older were arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and their cases continued until October 29. The younger two will be arraigned in the juvenile session of the court today.

Sidecars Put On Police Motorcycles

The four motorcycles which have been operated for several months by eight Newton policemen, working on day and night shifts, were equipped on Tuesday with sidecars and windshields. The purpose of these accessories is to enable the traffic policemen to operate the motorcycles during the coming cold months. Without the sidecars and windshields, it would be unsafe for the officers to ride the vehicles. The Mayor recommended the purchase of these accessories after the Newton Safety Council, at a meeting held some weeks ago, voted to request that the motorcycles be so equipped.

Gas Explosion Destroys House

Jr., 26, occupying a second floor chamber; and Mrs. Angelina DeRose, 58. None were seriously injured. Miss Repucci was kept at the hospital for observation and the others were allowed to leave after treatment.

Immediately following the explosion the house became a mass of roaring flames. A fire alarm box nearby was pulled in at 6:22 by Joseph Scrocco and a second alarm at 6:24. The house was totally destroyed, only a portion of the rear of the building remaining standing. Nearly all the windows in the home of Arthur Proia at 62 Hawthorne st. were shattered. Mrs. Proia, who had returned from the hospital a few days ago, and two of her children were blown out of their beds. Many windows in the homes of Ralph Bitta at 53 Hawthorne st. and Ernest Barisano, 64 Hawthorne st., were also destroyed.

The noise of the explosion and its accompanying rumble were heard for more than a mile distant. A large number of Newton firemen of apparatus summoned on the two alarms worked for several hours under the direction of Chief Clarence Randlett searching the ruins for possible victims. That all of the occupants of the building escaped death and serious injury was miraculous.

Many Petition For Parking Space

Petitions are being signed by many residents and business men of Wards 1 and 7 asking that the city accept the offer of $28,000 feet of land on the Taylor property at Newton Corner as a parking space for that district. For twenty years there has been great need of parking facilities at Newton Corner and failure to obtain such parking space has caused Newton Corner to seriously recede as a business centre. In past years the city seriously considered spending large sums of money to acquire a parking area there. Now, the R. C. Taylor estate is offering the land to the city with the proviso that it can be had rent free, if the city will rebate the taxes on the land involved. This will amount to less than $200 per year. Some of the Aldermen have been quoted as opposing the city becoming involved in the matter.

Dog With Rabies Bit W. Newton Man

The wire haired fox-terrier which had rabies, and which bit two Newton children a couple of weeks ago, also bit Ralph Speiser of 34 Greenough st., West Newton on October 15. Speiser reported this fact to the Newton Health Department last Friday. The dog also severely bit its owner, Mrs. Herbert Jenkins of Dean rd., Brookline after it had been captured by Waltham police and was being taken home.

One of the victims of the dog was Joan Hickey, 8, of 8 Ashton ave., Newton Centre. Last Friday the child's father complained that a dog owned by H. P. Carver of 177 Homer st., was threatening the little girl. The dog was ordered restrained.

A navy airplane operated by Lieut. Commander Edward Scarlett of Lynn, and containing Lieut. Thomas Collins of Brookline made a forced landing on the Hurley farm off the Worcester turnpike late Wednesday afternoon. The plane was en route from Philadelphia to Squantum and because of the thick fog the pilot decided to make an emergency landing. After circling over the vicinity of Newton Highlands for several minutes and clearing the steeple of the Congregational Church by a small margin, Scarlett headed for the Hurley farm, and after dodging a herd of cows, landed on the soft earth of a tilled field. The plane tipped over and the aviators were able to emerge from the plane. The only injury either received was a small cut on Scarlett's face. The plane was later righted by a crew from Squantum, dismantled and taken to the naval airplane base there.

Stop Waban Youth Flying Nazi Flag

Robert Tappan, 20, who gave his address as 39 Byfield rd., Waban, was stopped on Friday in Cambridge by Patrolman Anderson of that city because he was flying a Nazi flag on his automobile. Anderson, who served in France with the 101st Infantry, asked Tappan where he got the flag. The youth told the policeman that he had been touring Germany during the summer, and had obtained the banner with the swastika design there. Tappan stated he did not know the law compels one to carry an American flag when displaying a foreign flag. Anderson was to have asked for a complaint against Tappan in the Cambridge district court. The complaint was not issued, and court officers were quoted as saying they could not find that the law had been violated. Tappan has been a resident of Byfield rd. only for a short time.
